Foreign Direct Investment, China and the World Economy P.

Buckley, 2009-11-29 China has become such an important element of the global economy that its influence cannot be ignored in almost any field of endeavour. The phenomenal impact of FDI in China and its largely trade related consequences has been well documented and now there is a significant literature on the phenomenon of outward investment from China too. This book is an in depth study of the international business relationships of China covering both inward and outward foreign direct investment its impact and related theoretical and policy issues. This volume of highly renowned author Peter Buckley's collected papers from 2005 continues his interest in the theory of international business. Section I and policies towards foreign direct investment FDI. Section IV but has a major concentration on China both as regards outward foreign direct investment OFDI from China. Section II and FDI in China. Section III Multinational Enterprises and Emerging Challenges of the 21st Century John H. Dunning, Caimei Lin, 2007. A cast of prestigious international business scholars explores here the emerging challenges and issues facing multinational enterprises. The book integrates the latest theories, thoughts and empirical evidence along with several case studies in international business in the 21st century. It is understood that countries view international business in different ways. The contributors reflect this by offering a wide variety of viewpoints and covering an array of issues such as foreign direct investment, internationalization, trust and leadership, global education and knowledge transfer. Adding to its value are case studies ranging from American restaurant franchises on the world stage to the influence of the internet on Taiwanese SMEs. The book will be useful to scholars as a research resource to practitioners as a modern guide and to students of international business as a comprehensive text. The Dynamics of International Student Circulation in a Global Context, 2008-01-01. Student mobility is the most important factor in the internationalization of higher education. In this book, existing assumptions will be questioned that mobility is primarily South North and North North and that South South flows are rather marginal. That the economic rationale has become so dominant that there are nearly no other motives to be found anymore and that the growing presence of national and international providers of higher education and opportunities for distance education reduce the need for international student mobility. The dynamics of international student circulation will be analyzed on the basis of four countries: Egypt, India, Indonesia and South Africa which are perceived to be primarily on the sending side of student mobility and Europe and the USA which are perceived to be primarily but not exclusively on the receiving side. These case studies will be placed in the context of broader developments in the internationalization of higher education and related to definitions, methodological issues and global data as used by UNESCO, OECD and others. This study has been undertaken by five scholars from different parts of the world in the context of the 2005-2006 New Century Scholars Programme, Higher Education in the Twenty First Century of the Fulbright Programme. The book will be of relevance for both researchers and practitioners on globalization and the internationalization of higher education. OECD Economic Surveys: Korea 2007 OECD, 2007-06-20. This 2007 edition of OECD's periodic Economic Survey of Korea examines key economic challenges now being faced there. After an examination of recent macroeconomic trends it looks at monetary policy housing and regional policies the fiscal
