Regional Convention On Protection Of Human Rights:

International Handbook of Inter-religious Education Kath Engebretson, Marian de Souza, Gloria Durka, Liam Gearon, 2010-08-17 This Handbook is based on the conviction of its editors and contributing authors that understanding and acceptance of as well as collaboration between religions has essential educational value The development of this Handbook rests on the further assumption that interreligious education has an important role in elucidating the global demand for human rights justice and peace Interreligious education reveals that the creeds and holy books of the world's religions teach about spiritual systems that reject violence and the individualistic pursuit of economic and political gain and call their followers to compassion for every human being It also seeks to lead students to an awareness that the followers of religions across the world need to be and to grow in dialogical relationships of respect and understanding An essential aim of interreligious education is the promotion of understanding and engagement between people of different religions and therefore it has great potential to contribute to the common good of the global community Interreligious education has grown from the interfaith movement whose beginning is usually identified with the World Parliament of Religions held in Chicago in 1893 This was the first time in history that leaders of the eastern and western religions had come together for dialogue and to consider working together for global unity

International Law Ian Brownlie, James Crawford, 2012-09-27 Serving as a single volume introduction to the field as a whole this book seeks to present international law as a system that is based on and helps structure relations among states and other entities at the international level It identifies the constituent elements of that system in a clear and accessible fashion

The Foundations of International Investment Law Zachary Douglas, Joost Pauwelyn, Jorge E. Viñuales, 2014-05-01 International investment law is one of the fastest growing areas of international law It has led to the signing of thousands of agreements mostly in the form of investment contracts and bilateral investment treaties Also in the last two decades there has been an exponential growth in the number of disputes being resolved by investment arbitration tribunals Yet the legal principles at the basis of international investment law and arbitration remain in a state of flux Perhaps the best illustration of this phenomenon is the wide disagreement among investment tribunals on some of the core concepts underpinning the regime such as investment property regulatory powers scope of jurisdiction applicable law or the interactions with other areas of international law The purpose of this book is to revisit these conceptual foundations in order to shed light on the practice of international investment law It is an attempt to bridge the growing gap between the theory and the practice of this thriving area of international law The first part of the book focuses on the infrastructure of the investment regime or more specifically on the structural arrangements that have been developed to manage foreign investment transactions and the potential disputes arising from them The second part of the book identifies the common conceptual bases of an array of seemingly unconnected practical problems in order to clarify the main stakes and offer balanced solutions The third part addresses the main sources of regime stress as well as the main legal mechanisms available to manage such challenges to the operation of the regime Overall the book offers a thorough investigation of the conflicting theoretical positions underlying international investment law testing their worth by reference to concrete issues that have arisen in the jurisprudence It demonstrates that many of the most important practical questions arising in practice can be addressed by a carefully dosed resort to theory

The Routledge Handbook on the American Dream Robert C. Hauhart, Mitja Sardoč, 2022-11-30 The Routledge Handbook on the American Dream Volume 2 explores the social economic and cultural aspects of the American Dream in both theory and reality in the twenty first century This collection of essays brings together leading scholars from a range of fields to further develop the themes and issues explored in the first volume The concept of the American Dream first expounded by James Truslow Adams in The Epic of America in 1931 is at once both ubiquitous and difficult to define The term perfectly captures the hopes of freedom opportunity and upward social mobility invested in the nation However the American Dream appears increasingly illusory in the face of widening inequality and apparent lack of opportunity particularly for the poor and ethnic or otherwise marginalized minorities in the United States As such an understanding of the American Dream through both theoretical analyses and empirical studies whether qualitative or quantitative is crucial to understanding contemporary America Like the first volume of The Routledge Handbook on the American Dream this collection will be of great interest to students and researchers in a range of fields in

Legal Protection for environmental migrants: current challenges and Ways Forward Viviane Passos Gomes,Diana Viveiros,2018-12-12 This book describes the worrying scenario that reflects the urgency and importance of dealing with the situation of environmental migrants especially considering that the environmental migration crisis is already greater than the migratory crisis due to war refugees The first major problem in this environmental context is that there is no specific rule in international law to address this issue r In the face of this problem far from exhausting all possible solutions on the theme this book intended to plant a seed of reflection based on an analysis of the current legal and political context and outlining the possible paths to follow r New living conditions demand a paradigm shift in the human lifestyle changing thoughts and attitudes at the individual and group level as reflected in national and international policies It begins with the notion of conscience and interdependence It begins above all with the notion of empathy and solidarity understanding that tomorrow it may be one of us that needs this help that we are denying today r
