Motives For Writing Paperback 2005:

Writing and Cognition Mark Torrance, Luuk van Waas, David Galbraith, 2007-01-01 Writing is central to the functioning of developed societies. However, the psychological processes that allow us to transform complex ideas into language and express them on paper or computer screen are poorly understood. Writing and Cognition goes some way towards remedying this. It describes new and diverse work both by field leaders and by newer researchers exploring the complex relationships between language, the mind and the environments in which writers work. Chapters range in focus from a detailed analysis of single word production to the writing of whole texts. They explore the basic processes involved in writing, the effects of writing on thought and how these vary across different educational and workplace contexts. Research on Writing:

Approaches in Mental Health Luciano L'Abate, Laura Sweeney, 2011-11-07 Writing as a medium of professional help and healing in the various interventional tiers of self help, education, promotion, prevention and psychotherapy and rehabilitation has expanded exponentially since the introduction of computers and the Internet in the last generation. This volume does three things. Firstly, it brings together research on different types of writing and distance writing that have been or need to be used by mental health professionals. Secondly, it critically evaluates the therapeutic effectiveness of these writing practices such as automatic writing, programmed writing, poetry therapy, diaries, expressive writing and more. And thirdly, in addition to evaluating the effectiveness of various writing practices, the volume will examine how research-based writing approaches will influence the delivery of mental health services now and in the future, including the implications of these approaches.

University Writing: Selves and Texts in Academic Societies Montserrat Castelló, Christiane Donahue, 2012-02-03 University Writing: Selves and Texts in Academic Societies examines new trends in the different theoretical perspectives, cognitive, social and cultural, and derived practices in the activity of writing in higher education. These perspectives are analyzed on the basis of their conceptualization of the object, academic and scientific writing of the writers, their identities, attitudes and perspectives, be it students, teachers or researchers, and of the derived instructional practices, the ways in which the teaching-learning situations may be organized. The volume samples writing research traditions and perspectives both in Europe and the United States, working on their situated nature and avoiding easy or superficial comparisons in order to enlarge our understanding of common problems and some emerging possibilities. Voices, Identities, Negotiations, and

Conflicts: Writing Academic English Across Cultures Le-Ha Phan, Bradley Baurain, 2011-01-27 Provides insights into the process of knowledge construction in EFL/ESL writing from classrooms to research sites, from the dilemmas and risks NNEST student writers experience in the pursuit of true agency to the confusions and conflicts academics experience in their own writing practices. Principles of Program Analysis Flemming Nielson, Hanne R. Nielson, Chris Hankin, 2015-02-27

Documents in the Workplace Denis Alamargot, Patrice Terrier, Jean-Marie Cellier, 2008-01-09 Divided into three parts the first of which provides a linguistic definition of professional documents describing their different types and genres This definition necessarily takes into account both the formal characteristics of these types of document e g nature of linguistic units involved and their functional goals the way these linguistic units are used to fulfill the text s communicative aim The second part focuses on the mental mechanisms involved in written production in the workplace One of the aims of a professional writer is to compose a text which can be understood Text composition involves specific processes and strategies that can be enhanced One way of doing this is to give the writer suitable instructions while another is to provide him/her with a suitable writing environment This last aspect leads us to devote the third and final section to the comprehension of written documents in the workplace Awareness of the strategies implemented by different readers with more or less domain expertise in order to understand technical and professional documents can enhance the latter s readability Contributions from linguists psychologists and ergonomists from various countries ensure international scope and comprehensiveness Bridges the gap between fundamental research into writing and reading and the issue of the efficiency of written communication in the workplace Enables better content creation for professional writers Mental Health Issues and
