A History of Irish Working-Class

Writing Michael Pierse, 2018 Michael Pierse is Lecturer in Irish literature at Queen's University Belfast. His research mainly explores the writing and cultural production of Irish working class life. Over recent years this work has expanded into new multidisciplinary themes and international contexts including the study of festivals, digital methodologies in public humanities and theatre as research practices. Michael has contributed to a range of national and international publications, is the author of Writing Ireland's Working Class (Dublin: after O'Casey, 2011) and has been awarded several Arts and Humanities Research Council awards and the Vice-Chancellor's Award at Queen's. Poetry and Drama, 1913 The Living Age, 1920

The Great War in Irish Poetry Fran Brearton, 2003 The Great War in Irish Poetry explores the impact of the First World War on the work of W.B. Yeats, Robert Graves and Louis MacNeice in the period 1914-45 and on three contemporary Northern Irish poets: Derek Mahon, Seamus Heaney and Michael Longley. Its concern is to place their work and memory of the Great War in the context of Irish politics and culture in the twentieth century. The historical background to Irish involvement in the Great War is explained, as are the ways in which issues raised in 1912-20 still reverberate in the politics of remembrance in Northern Ireland, particularly through such events as the Home Rule cause, the loss of the Titanic, the Battle of the Somme, the Easter Rising. While the Great War is perceived as central to English culture and its literature holds a privileged position in the English literary canon, the centrality of the Great War to Irish writing has seldom been recognised. This book shows first that despite complications in Irish domestic politics which led to the repression of memory of the Great War, Irish poets have been drawn throughout the century to the events and images of 1914-18. This engagement is particularly true of those writing in the troubled Northern Ireland of the last thirty years. The second main concern is the extent to which recognition of the importance of the Great War in Irish writing has itself become a casualty of competing versions of the literary canon. Athenaeum and Literary Chronicle, 1913 The Athenaeum James Silk Buckingham, John Sterling, Frederick Denison Maurice, Henry Stebbing, Charles Wentworth Dilke, Thomas Kibble Hervey, William Hepworth Dixon, Norman MacColl, Vernon Horace Rendall, John Middleton Murry, 1913
