Nay Saying In Concord Emerson Alcott And Thoreau:

Nay-saying in Concord Taylor Stoehr, 1979 Emerson's Antislavery Writings Ralph Waldo Emerson, 1995-01-01 A comprehensive collection of Emerson's writings against slavery and the subjugation of American Indians writings that reveal Emerson's deep commitment to social reform Included are 18 works by Emerson including speeches and lectures on the subject of slavery written between 1838 and 1863 Working Women, Literary Ladies Sylvia J. Cook, 2008-01-30 Working Women Literary Ladies explores the simultaneous entry of working class women in the United States into wage earning factory labor and into opportunities for mental and literary development It is the first book to examine the fascinating exchange between the work and literary spheres for laboring women in the rapidly industrializing America of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries As women entered the public sphere as workers their opportunities for intellectual growth expanded even as those same opportunities were often tightly circumscribed by the factory owners who were providing them These developments both institutional and personal opened up a range of new possibilities for working class women that profoundly affected women of all classes and the larger social fabric Cook examines the extraordinary and diverse literary productions of these working women ranging from their first New England magazine of belles lettres The Lowell Offering to Emma Goldman's periodical Mother Earth from Lucy Larcom's epic poem of female factory life An Idyl of Work to Theresa Malkiel's fictional account of sweatshop workers in New York The Diary of a Shirtwaist Striker This vital new book traces the hopes and tensions generated by the expectations of working class women as they created a wholly new way of being alive in the world The Battle for the American Mind Carl J. Richard, 2006-08 The Battle for the American Mind brings together religion politics economics science and literature to present a compelling history of the American people In this brief and entertaining book noted historian Carl J. Richard argues that there have been three worldviews that have dominated American thought theism humanism and skepticism Theists put their faith in God humanists in man and skeptics have faith in neither god nor man Each worldview has had an epoch of domination leading to the present Age of Confusion where theists humanists and skeptics battle one another for control of American hearts and minds By clearly explaining what Americans believed exploring why they did so and showing how that impacted the nation's development Carl J. Richard presents a unique portrait of the United States past and present Powering the Dream Alexis Madrigal, 2011-03-29 Few today realize that electric cabs dominated Manhattan's streets in the 1890s that Boise Idaho had a geothermal heating system in 1910 or that the first megawatt turbine in the world was built in 1941 by the son of publishing magnate G. P. Putnam a feat that would not be duplicated for another forty years Likewise while many remember the oil embargo of the 1970s few are aware that it led to a corresponding explosion in green technology research that was only derailed when energy prices later dropped In other words We've been here before Although we may have failed America has had the chance to put our world on a more sustainable path Americans have in fact been inventing green for more than a century Half compendium of lost opportunities half hopeful look toward the future Powering the Dream tells the stories of the brilliant often irascible inventors who foresaw our current problems tried to invent cheap and energy renewable solutions and drew the blueprint for a green future

Perfectly Miserable Sarah Payne Stuart,2014-06-12 A wryly comic memoir that examines the pillars of New England WASP culture class history family money envy perfection and of course real estate through the lens of mothers and daughters At eighteen Sarah Payne Stuart fled her mother and all the other disapproving mothers of her too perfect hometown of Concord Massachusetts only to return years later when she had children of her own Whether to defy the previous generation or finally earn their approval and enter their ranks she hurled herself into upper crust domesticity full throttle In the twenty years Stuart spent back in her hometown in a series of ever more magnificent houses in ever grander neighborhoods she was forced to connect with the cultural tradition of guilt and flawed parenting of a long legacy of local literary women from Emerson s wife to Hawthorne s to the most famous and imposing of them all Louisa May Alcott s iconic guilt tripping Marmee When Stuart s own mother dies she realizes that there is no one left to approve or disapprove And so with her suddenly grown children fleeing as she herself once did Stuart leaves her hometown for the final time bidding good bye to the cozy ideals invented for her by Louisa May Alcott so many years ago which may or may not ever have been based in reality
