Colour Atlas of Ophthalmology Arthur Siew Ming Lim, Ian J. Constable, Tien Yin Wong, 2008 In this 5th edition of the concise and clearly written best selling title all the chapters have been thoroughly updated and expanded particularly the sections on the retinal macular phacoemulsification laser new equipment and ophthalmic drugs The book is generously illustrated with more than 200 colour pictures and is an excellent volume for medical students general practitioners ophthalmic students and all paramedical personnel who have to deal with common eye diseases

Ophthalmic Pathology Interactive with Clinical Correlation I. S. Othman, 2009 Ophthalmic pathology is a mainstay in ophthalmic practice A deep understanding of ophthalmic pathology is essential to being a good clinician since what is seen from other disease entities in ophthalmic practice is simply an interpretation of gross pathology and sometimes a microscopic evaluation of diseases Ophthalmic pathology is usually directed to ophthalmologists by general pathologists Ophthalmologists are not used to identifying diseases at a histopathological or cellular level The pathogenesis of diseases is dependent on ongoing changes over time something that is difficult to ill

Ophthalmic Histopathology W.R. Lee, 2013-04-17 This book has been written to give guidance to histopathologists who are dealing with pathological specimens submitted by ophthalmologists whether in a general pathology laboratory or in a specialist ophthalmic pathology laboratory The bias has been given to the diseases encountered commonly in the routine service or in the autopsy room and the intention is to show how to achieve the maximum information from each specimen Conventional textbooks deal with diseases of the eye on an anatomical basis but this is inappropriate for a histopathologist who is studying a globe in which the disease has varying effects on each of the individual tissue components While unconventional it seemed more acceptable to lay the book out under the relatively limited and broad headings which ophthalmologists use as indications for enucleation trauma tumour endophthalmitis vascular disease etc It also seemed logical to include a separate chapter on ocular disease as it is encountered in the autopsy room and continuing the theme to consider a keratoplasty specimen and the topics of orbital biopsy and conjunctival biopsy in separate chapters In each pathological process whenever appropriate it was important to include the effects of modern therapeutic measures because this is one of the main features of interest for the clinician For the beginner an introductory chapter on the techniques and rationale of the preliminary systematic macroscopic examination of a globe has been included with an account of the supplementary techniques which are essential for an accurate diagnosis

Colour Atlas Of Ophthalmology (4th Edition) Arthur S M Lim,Ian J Constable,2001-02-12 Colour Atlas of

Ophthalmology fourth edition is an up to date compendium of high quality colour illustrations of common eye conditions with well organised and concise text This will be an excellent volume for medical students general practitioners ophthalmic students and all paramedical personnel who have to deal with common eye diseases
