Agricultural Development in Brazil Antonio M. Buainain,Rodrigo Lanna,Zander Navarro,2019-05-20 In the last few decades Brazilian agriculture has experienced a seismic transformation and its contradictory facets have fed different and opposing narratives regarding recent changes This book covers these changes exploring the issues from several empirical and analytical angles including the role of agriculture in the contemporary Brazilian economy the dynamics of Brazilian agricultural value chains environmental challenges and the processes of social differentiation Brazilian agriculture continues to be viewed in the international literature either through the lenses of the past century those of former problems relating to land use and land tenure or apologetically This collection of essays aims at updating the current interpretations providing objective accounting of the main transformations its determinants results contradictions and limitations As it covers the most relevant traits of Brazilian agricultural and rural development the book will provide the reader with an encompassing view of contemporary Brazilian agriculture including the positive and negative sides of the so called tropical agriculture revolution It highlights the tremendous economic potential as well as the continuing structural heterogeneity concentration of production and marginalization of millions of small farmers Written in an engaging and accessible style this book will be perfect for all those interested in learning about Brazilian agriculture It will be of particular interest to undergraduate and graduate students of economic development agricultural economics rural sociology comparative economic development rural development and agricultural policies

Agricultural Policies in Non-OECD Countries, 2007 Agricultural trade reform is a global issue Countries are concerned both about reforms they may be required to implement and about the extent of liberalisation undertaken elsewhere For OECD countries the impacts of multilateral reform will depend increasingly on the provisions applied in emerging and transition economies ETEs Similarly ETEs have a strong interest in the policies adopted by those OECD countries that dominate world agricultural trade This annual publication examines the country specific effects and the distributional consequences in Russia and in transition economies in line for EU accession as well as in other major agricultural economies Brazil China India and South Africa
