Of Memory And Desire Stories:

Of Memory and Desire Gladys Swan, 1989-08 These eleven compelling stories reveal the interplay and varying hues of two basic elements of human experience: memory and desire. Gladys Swan's characters are frequently forced to shed their illusions as they struggle to shape their lives. The title story, like many of the others in the collection, has as its backdrop the beautiful but sometimes harsh landscape of the American Southwest. There a reclusive farmer known as Goat Man takes in a young Mexican boy as his companion. When the greed of a tax collector and the complicity of a community destroy Goat Man, the boy vanishes into the night but returns in the form of a legend, a reminder to the residents of the valley of their changing, crueler world. In another story, a traveling carnival breaks down when a sandstorm does final damage to the dreams of the company, and a tired, almost defeated woman attempts to regroup and continue what has been so hopefully called Carnival for the Gods. An older couple, carrying their Jewish past to a Land of Promise, discovers instead an alien territory and must struggle from day to day, one leaning to the past, the other inclining toward an unattainable vision of the future. In The Ink Feather, a small, lonely girl, witness to endless quarrels between her mother and her much older brother, draws comfort from the world of her dolls and the prospect of adventure outside the mist-covered windows of her house. In Getting an Education, a diffident young woman, trying to be a student and to discover what she ought to be learning, finds insight in the details of the lives around her, especially the secretive, eccentric existence of one of her professors. A widowed grandmother in Black Hole is impregnated during a chance encounter with a nameless stranger and shocks her family when she determines to give birth to and raise her child. Like that grandmother, all of the characters in these fictions, whether from the comfortable middle class or the fringes of society, are at odds with themselves and their world. It is Gladys Swan's special gift that she can so seamlessly depict the particular terrors and wonders of their lives. This is a mesmerizing collection. My Heart After

Esther: A Mystic's Philosophy of Love Collins I. Aki, 2017-01-24 My Heart After Esther could be considered a philosophy of love in the skin of a romance novel or a romance novel in the skin of a philosophy of love, but it is ultimately a story about love and philosophy in a way that romances the two. In this work of literary meta-fiction, two stories are interwoven into one. The first story is about the translator of the second story, Gustav Z. Itohahn, and his love for the author and his work; he is translating the mysterious pseudo-philosopher Jorge Manuel Belmarez. In the second story, we read Itohahn's presentation of Belmarez's story of love, which dares to challenge every idea of love and marriage from the vow till death do we part to the old courtly love edict that marriage is no proper defense against love. This new take on philosophical fiction may somehow find itself in the memory of its readers as more than an experiment in story telling, but truly an experiment in challenging our deepest ideas and beliefs. The Short Story Charles May, 2013-10-14 The short story is one of the most difficult types of prose to write and one of the most pleasurable to read. From Boccaccio's Decameron to The Collected Stories of Reynolds Price, Charles May gives us an understanding of the history and structure of this demanding form of fiction. Beginning with a general history of the genre he moves on to focus on the nineteenth century when the modern short story began to come into focus From there he moves on to later nineteenth century realism and early twentieth century formalism and finally to the modern renaissance of the form that shows no signs of abating A chronology of significant events works and figures from the genre s history notes and references and an extensive bibliographic essay with recommended reading round out the volume

Contemporary Debates on the Short Story José R. Ibáñez Ibáñez, José Francisco Fernández, Carmen M. Bretones, 2007 For nearly a century of being underestimated as a literary genre the short story is currently experiencing a revival The editors of this collection of articles have brought together the contributions of nine outstanding scholars in the field of the short story to reveal some of the many directions in which the genre is expanding This book is a reasoned and well documented anthology which casts light on new aspects of the short story It participates in the current trend of short story criticism characterized by the gathering in one single volume of a diversity of approaches with the main aim of promoting discussion on this thriving area of literary studies The editors of this volume believe that a fruitful tension may rise by putting side by side insights into a not so well known tradition on the one hand and fresh considerations on unexpected developments of the short story on the other All in all the short story emerges as a dynamic and flexible form that reacts and adapts itself better than any other literary genre to the challenges of the sceptical times we live in

On the Far Side of Memory Lalithambika Antharjanam, 2017-09-18 Housewife by day daring writer at night seated on the bare floor this thinker of gender engaged with the thriving social and community reform movements of early mid twentieth century Malayali society The first prominent voice who spoke on behalf of women the first startling insights that represented the struggle against the repression of the women of the Namboodiri Brahmin community Lalithambika Antharjanam s stories cover half a century of her engagement with caste gender and nationalist uprisings In writing some of the founding texts of feminism in Kerala she made powerful feminist interventions into literary realism in Kerala Relatively unknown outside Kerala and yet to receive the critical attention that is her due this book seeks to resurrect Lalithambika as a feminist public intellectual

Globalization and Sense-Making Practices Simi Malhotra, Zahra Rizvi, Shraddha A. Singh, 2023-09-11 This book presents a critical analysis of sense making practices through an exploration of acoustic creative and artistic spaces It studies how local cultures of sight hearing smell taste and touch are impacted by global discourses and media such as television popular music digital media and literature The authors look at sense making practices and spatial discourses through an interconnected discussion on thought and experience that seeks to present a multidimensional cartography of the global the local and the glocal to closely analyze the phenomenon of globalization The volume is an investigation of the possibilities of alternate sustainable modes of being and existing in a world which requires a unified ethical biopolitical worldview that challenges the disparity of its fragments while speculating on their synesthetic conditionality A unique contribution the book will be of interest to scholars and researchers of English literature media studies cultural studies literary cultures post colonial studies globalization

Mosher, Jr., Serving as tour guide Fox invites his audience to go with him log rafting down the Kentucky River bass fishing in the Cumberland Mountains rabbit hunting in the Bluegrass and chasing outlaws in the border country of Kentucky and Virginia Along the route we meet Old South colonels and their ladies lawless moonshiners and their shy daughters bloodthirsty preachers and educated young gentlemen visitors who explore the southern mountains for fun and profit These sketches offer a delightful blend of macho adventure and sage observation by an erudite young writer who had lived in the two worlds that provide his subject matter the elegant society of the Bluegrass aristocracy and the hardscrabble feuding clans of mountaineers Languages of Witchcraft Stuart Clark, 2017-07-19 Different conceptions of the world and of reality have made witchcraft possible in some societies and impossible in others How did the people of early modern Europe experience it and what was its place in their culture The new essays in this collection illustrate the latest trends in witchcraft research and in cultural history in general After three decades in which the social analysis of witchcraft accusations has dominated the subject they turn instead to its significance and meaning as a cultural phenomenon to the languages of witchcraft rather than its causes As a result witchcraft seems less startling than it once was yet more revealing of the world in which it occurred Summary and Analysis of Patient H.M.: A Story of Memory, Madness, and Family Secrets Worth Books, 2017-05-16 So much to read so little time This brief overview of Patient H M tells you what you need to know before or after you read Luke Dittrich s book Crafted and edited with care Worth Books set the standard for quality and give you the tools you need to be a well informed reader This short summary and analysis of Patient H M A Story of Memory Madness and Family Secrets includes Historical context Chapter by chapter overviews Profiles of the main characters Detailed timeline of key events Important quotes Fascinating trivia Glossary of terms Supporting material to enhance your understanding of the original work About Patient H M by Luke Dittrich Patient H M tells the extraordinary true story of Henry Molaison a young man who underwent a lobotomy in 1953 in hopes of curing his epilepsy Instead he suffered extensive memory loss and would become the most studied patient in the history of neuroscience Luke Dittrich whose grandfather performed the surgery artfully combines family history medical science and investigative journalism to create a suspenseful and unsettling narrative on the search to understand the most elusive of scientific research topics the human memory The summary and analysis in this ebook are intended to complement your reading experience and bring you closer to a great work of nonfiction Higher Elevations Alexander Blackburn, C. Kenneth Pellow, 1993 Higher Elevations Stories from the West is a rich and varied anthology of fiction from Writers Forum As the subtitle promises it is regional but these are not all stories from your grandfather s or Hollywood s West These are rodeos and forest fires lonely farmhouses and isolated lives in wide open spaces but there are also stories of the urban homeless of teenage girls in the club and drug scene of present day Austin of wetbacks Vietnamese immigrants literate writers of advertising commercials living in high rise flats

There are action stories and stories of local color but there are also Jamesian stories allusive stories sophisticated even brittle stories that mutatis mutandis might come from the pages of the New Yorker though the mutation is refreshing and liberating Robert Olan Butler's Love is hilarious Brett Lott's I Owned Vermont brief oblique and penetrating Charles Baxter's The Eleventh Floor urbane and moving Lesley Poling Kemper's Edith's Own simultaneously awkward and powerful The anthology has both variety and cohesiveness and its high quality testifies to the almost inexplicable phenomenon of the flourishing of the short story in a market with few outlets Writers Forum is to be congratulated for affording an opportunity for excellent writing to see the light of day
