One More Over An Autobiography:

Centenarians' Autobiographies Mita Banerjee, 2023-12-18 Situated at the intersection between medical humanities aging studies autobiographical studies disability studies and ethic studies this book explores the fascination of centenarians autobiographies for humanities research It can be argued that the growing presence of centenarians autobiographies on book markets across the globe may be rooted in the public's desire for positive images of aging in contrast to the image of inevitable decay The Auto-biography of Goethe: The autobiography [etc.] The concluding books. Also Letters from Switzerland and Travels in Italy, tr. by the Rev. A. J. W. Morrison Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, 1849 British Autobiography in the Seventeenth Century Paul Delany, 2015-08-14 Originally published in 1969 In the seventeenth century neither the literary genre nor the term autobiography existed but we see in seventeenth century literature many kinds of autobiographical writings to which their authors gave such titles as Journal of the Life of Me Confessions etc This work is a study of nearly two hundred of these published and unpublished which together represent a very varied group of writings The book begins with an examination of the rise of autobiography as a genre during the Renaissance It discusses seventeenth century autobiographical writings under two main headings religious where the autobiographies are grouped according to the denomination of their writer and secular where a wide variety of writings is examined including accounts of travel and of military and political life as well as more personal accounts Autobiographies by women are treated separately and the author shows that they in general have a deeper revelation of sentiments and more subtle self analyses than is found in comparable works by men Sources and influences are recorded and also the essential historical details of each work This book gives a critical analysis of the autobiographies as literary works and suggests relationships between them and the culture and society of their time Review of the original publication a contribution to cultural history which is of quite exceptional merit Its subject is of great intrinsic interest and manifest importance and Professor Delany has treated it with exemplary thoroughness lucidity and intelligence Lionel Trilling "Through the long corridor of distance" Valérie Baisnée, 2014-08-01 Examined in this study are twentieth and twenty first century autobiographies and memoirs by major New Zealand women writers Brought together for the first time in a single study texts by Sylvia Ashton Warner Janet Frame Lauris Edmond Fiona Kidman Barbara Anderson Ruth Park and Ruth Dallas are analysed with the aid of spatial concepts that probe unexplored aspects of their life narratives Drawing on recent and revised concepts of place and space in cultural geography philosophy and sociology the book acknowledges the link between identities and locations in a non essentialist way by pinpointing the various forms of inhabiting and being in space It refutes the idea of autobiographies as pure self referential texts and shows how these works deploy their own horizon of reference Valérie Baisnée is currently a Senior Lecturer in English at the University of Paris Sud She holds a PhD in English from the University of Auckland New Zealand Her research interests include the personal writings and poetry of twentieth century women with a particular focus on New Zealand women writers

She has contributed to several published books and journals on women's autobiographies and diaries and she is the author of Gendered Resistance: The Autobiographies of Simone de Beauvoir, Maya Angelou, Janet Frame and Marguerite Duras 1997

What If...? Gulu Ezekiel, 2025-07-30 Having explored Indian cricket history in his previous books prolific sports author Gulu Ezekiel now delves into a counterfactual history of Indian cricket from its roots in the 19th century to the present day. In this fascinating study he asks: What if the Parsees had been thwarted in their pioneering cricket days in the mid 1800s? What if the team selection and weather had been different in Australia in 1947-48? What if Tiger Pataudi had not lost an eye in a road accident? What if the 1983 Prudential Cup final had turned out differently? These and other intriguing scenarios are explored in depth in this unique first of its kind cricket book.

Autobiography of Mark Twain, Volume 1 Mark Twain, 2010-11-15 Mark Twain's final and uncensored masterpiece presented in three volumes is a landmark publication in American literature. Twain will begin to seem strange again, alluring and still astonishing in ways that still resonate with us. New York Times: His crystalline humor and expansive range are a continuous source of delight and awe. Los Angeles Times Book Review: I've struck it. Mark Twain wrote in a 1904 letter to a friend: "And I will give it away to you. You will never know how much enjoyment you have lost until you get to dictating your autobiography." Thus, after dozens of false starts and hundreds of pages, Twain embarked on his Final and Right Plan for telling the story of his life. His innovative notion to talk only about the thing which interests you for the moment meant that his thoughts could range freely. The strict instruction that many of these texts remain unpublished for 100 years meant that when they came out, he would be dead and unaware and indifferent, and that he was therefore free to speak his whole frank mind. The year 2010 marks the 100th anniversary of Twain's death. In celebration of this important milestone and in honor of the cherished tradition of publishing Mark Twain's works, UC Press is proud to offer for the first time Mark Twain's uncensored autobiography in its entirety and exactly as he left it. This major literary event brings to readers, admirers, and scholars the first of three volumes and presents Mark Twain's authentic and unsuppressed voice brimming with humor, ideas, and opinions and speaking clearly from the grave as he intended. Editors: Harriet E. Smith, Benjamin Griffin, Victor Fischer, Michael B. Frank, Sharon K. Goetz, Leslie Myrick. The Auto-biography of Goethe: The autobiography [etc.] translated by John Oxenford. 13 books Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, 1848

This book approaches the life, work, ideas, debates, and the context of key 20th and 21st century historians through an analysis of their life-writing projects viewed as historiographical sources. Merging literary studies on autobiography with theories of history, it provides a systematic and detailed analysis of the autobiographies of the most outstanding historians from the classic texts by Giambattista Vico, Edward Gibbon, and Henry Adams to the Annales historians such as Fernand Braudel, Philippe Ariès, and Georges Duby to Marxist historians such as Eric Hobsbawm and Annie Kriegel to postmodern historians such as Carolyn Steedman, Robert A.

Schechtman, 1986 Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e.g. the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc. can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers

Fictions in Autobiography Paul John Eakin, 2014-07-14 Investigating autobiographical writing of Mary McCarthy Henry James Jean Paul Sartre Saul Friedlander and Maxine Hong Kingston this book argues that autobiographical truth is not a fixed but an evolving content in a process of self creation Further Paul John Eakin contends the self at the center of all autobiography is necessarily fictive Professor Eakin shows that the autobiographical impulse is simply a special form of reflexive consciousness from a developmental viewpoint the autobiographical act is a mode of self invention always practiced first in living and only eventually and occasionally in writing Originally published in 1985 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

The Marion Milner Method Emilia Halton-Hernandez, 2023-04-03 This book traces the development of British psychoanalyst Marion Milner's 1900-98 autobiographical acts throughout her lifetime proposing that Milner is a thinker to whom we can turn to explore the therapeutic potentialities of autobiographical and creative self expression Milner's experimentation with aesthetic self expressive techniques are a means to therapeutic ends forming what Emilia Halton Hernandez calls her autobiographical cure This book considers whether Milner's work champions this site for therapeutic work over that of the relationship between patient and analyst in the psychoanalytic setting This book brings to light a theory and practice which is latent and sometimes hidden but which is central to understanding what drives Milner's autobiographical work It is by doing this work of elucidation and organisation that Halton Hernandez finds Milner to be a thinker with a unique take on psychoanalysis object relations theory creativity and autobiography working at the interstices of each Divided into two fascinating sections exploring Milner's distinctive method and the legacy and influence of her work this book will appeal to psychoanalysts art therapists philosophers and art and literary researchers alike The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Autobiography as Philosophy Thomas Mathien,D.G. Wright,2006-10-03 This collection discusses several philosophers autobiographies in the light of their authors broader work and considers whether there are any philosophical tasks for which life accounts are particularly appropriate Stories and Their Limits Hilde Lindemann Nelson,2014-01-21 Narratives have always played a prominent role in both bioethics and medicine the fields have attracted much storytelling ranging from great literature to humbler stories of sickness and personal histories And all bioethicists work with cases from court cases that shape policy matters to case studies that chronicle sickness But how useful are these various narratives for sorting out moral matters What kind of ethical work can stories do and what are the limits to this work The new essays in Stories and Their Limits offer insightful reflections on the relationship between narratives and ethics Touching the World Paul John Eakin,1992-04-15 Paul John Eakin s earlier work Fictions in Autobiography is a key text in autobiography studies In it he proposed that the self that finds expression in autobiography is in fundamental ways a kind of fictive construct a fiction articulated in a fiction In this new book Eakin turns his attention to what he sees as the defining assumption of autobiography that the story of the self does refer to a world of biographical and historical fact Here he shows that people write autobiography not in some private realm of the autonomous self but rather in strenuous engagement with the pressures that life in culture entails In so demonstrating he offers fresh readings of autobiographies by Roland Barthes Nathalie Sarraute William Maxwell Henry James Ronald Fraser Richard Rodriguez Henry Adams Patricia Hampl John Updike James McConkey and Lillian Hellman In the introduction Eakin makes a case for reopening the file on reference in autobiography and in the first chapter he establishes the complexity of the referential aesthetic of the genre the intricate interplay of fact and fiction in such texts In subsequent chapters he explores some of the major contexts of reference in autobiography the biographical the social and cultural the historical and finally underlying all the rest the somatic and temporal dimensions of the lived experience of identity In his discussion of contemporary theories of the self Eakin draws especially on cultural anthropology and developmental psychology
