Foglesong,2014-02-01 From the Russian revolutions of 1917 to the end of the Civil War in 1920 Woodrow Wilson's administration sought to oppose the Bolsheviks in a variety of covert ways Drawing on previously unavailable American and Russian archival material David Foglesong chronicles both sides of this secret war and reveals a new dimension to the first years of the U S Soviet rivalry Foglesong explores the evolution of Wilson's ambivalent attitudes toward socialism and revolution before 1917 and analyzes the social and cultural origins of American anti Bolshevism Constrained by his espousal of the principle of self determination by idealistic public sentiment and by congressional restrictions Wilson had to rely on secretive methods to affect the course of the Russian Civil War The administration provided covert financial and military aid to anti Bolshevik forces established clandestine spy networks concealed the purposes of limited military expeditions to northern Russia and Siberia and delivered ostensibly humanitarian assistance to soldiers fighting to overthrow the Soviet government In turn the Soviets developed and secretly funded a propaganda campaign in the United States designed to mobilize public opposition to anti Bolshevik activity promote American Soviet economic ties and win diplomatic recognition from Washington The Russian Revolution and Civil War 1917-1921 Jonathan Smele,2006-04-15 The Russian Revolution and Civil War in the years 1917 to 1921 is one of the most widely studied periods in history It is also somewhat inevitably one that has generated a huge flow of literature in the decades that have passed since the events themselves However until now historians of the revolution have had no dedicated bibliography of the period and little claim to bibliographical control over the literature The Russian Revolution and Civil War 1917 1921 offers for the first time a comprehensive bibliographical guide to this crucial and fascinating period of history The Bibliography focuses on the key years of 1917 to 1921 starting with the February Revolution of 1917 and concluding with the 10th Party Congress of March 1921 and covers all the key events of the intervening years As such it identifies these crucial years as something more than simply the creation of a communist state
