Mixed Motives Uncertain Outcomes Defense Conversion In China:

Mixed Motives, Uncertain Outcomes Jörn Brömmelhörster, John Frankenstein, 1997 The authors look critically at China's efforts to adapt its vast military industrial complex to the service of its socialist market economy From Defense to Development? Sean M. DiGiovanna, Ann Markusen, 2003-09-11 This impressive book tracks the progress of twelve countries on five continents in moving resources from defense to civilian activity in the 1990s. Based on intensive field research thanks to its truly international array of contributors the book addresses each country with an impressive standard of scholarship. This accessible book is written in a clear and concise style. A Political Economy Analysis of China's Civil Aviation Industry Mark Dougan, 2016-04-29 First published in 2002 This volume is a political economy analysis of China's civil aviation industry with a focus on the reform period beginning in the late 1970s up to the present. The chief aim is to identify and analyze the most important political economy variables impacting on the industry's development during this time. Compilation of Hearings Held Before the U.S.-China Security Review Commission U.S.-China Security Review Commission, 2002 A New Direction for China's Defense Industry Evan S. Medeiros, Roger Cliff, Keith Crane, James C. Mulvenon, 2005-12-19 Since the early 1980s a prominent and consistent conclusion drawn from research on China's defense industrial complex has been that China's defense production capabilities are rife with weaknesses and limitations. This study argues for an alternative approach. From the vantage point of 2005 it is time to shift the focus of current research to the gradual improvements in and the future potential of China's defense industrial complex. The study found that China's defense sectors are designing and producing a wide range of increasingly advanced weapons that in the short term are relevant to a possible conflict over Taiwan but also to China's long term military presence in Asia. Part of a larger RAND Project AIR FORCE study on Chinese military modernization this study examines the current and future capabilities of China's defense industry. The goals of this study are to 1. Modernization of the Chinese PLA: From Massed Militia to Force Projection Lt Gen JS Bajwa, Forging China's Military Might Tai Ming Cheung, 2014-02-24 His collection of nine essays offers a comprehensive and insightful assessment of the Chinese defense science and technology, civil military integration, China's defense innovation system and China's place in the global defense economy. Case studies look in detail at the Chinese space and missile industry. Constitutes high quality cutting edge research on China's defense industries. It should enjoy broad appeal among academics, policy makers, security analysts and business people in countries around the world. Andrew Scobell, RAND Corporation. Forging China's Military Might belongs in any political science shelf interested in China's issues and international security and considers the nature of China's emergence as a world power. Fortifying China Tai Ming Cheung, 2013-04-15 Fortifying China explores the titanic struggle to turn China into an aspiring world class military technological power The defense economy is leveraging the country's vibrant civilian economy and gaining access to foreign sources of technology and know how Drawing on extensive Chinese language sources Tai Ming Cheung explains that this transformation has two key dimensions The defense economy is being reengineered to break down bureaucratic barriers and reduce the role of the state fostering a more competitive and entrepreneurial culture to facilitate the rapid diffusion and absorption of technology and knowledge At the same time the civilian and defense economies are being integrated to form a dual use technological and industrial base In Cheung's view the Chinese authorities believe this strategy will play a key role in supporting long term defense modernization For China's neighbors and the United States understanding China's technological industrial and military capabilities is critical to the formulation of economic and security policies Fortifying China provides crucial insight into the impact of China's dual use technology strategy Cheung's systems of innovation framework considers the structure dynamics and performance of the defense economy from a systems level perspective

China's Entrepreneurial Army Tai Ming Cheung, 2001 China's Entrepreneurial Army offers a fascinating insight into the complex interwoven relationship between state power military burden and economic prosperity in today's China From the early 1980s to the end of the 1990s the People's Liberation Army went into business to make up for falling defence spending It established the world's largest military business complex comprising thousands of army owned enterprises stretching into virtually every corner of the Chinese economy and overseas This participation in business gave the military substantial economic strength and allowed it to adapt to the changing locus of power and authority in China in the reform era which was increasingly measured through economic might But the rapid ascent of the military commercial juggernaut also sowed the seeds of its ignominious demise Corruption smuggling and profiteering became so rampant that the political reliability of the military and the health of the Chinese economy began to be undermined In 1998 the armed forces were ordered to get out of business Tai Ming Cheung traces the origins examines the participation and details the demise of the Chinese military business complex This path breaking study is a uniquely comprehensive and in depth account of this Byzantine and opaque institution and provides a vivid portrait of the corporations military units personalities and other entities that were at the heart of this commercial powerhouse Based upon extensive research of primary source Chinese publications and field work China's Entrepreneurial Army looks at the role of the military business complex from a number of different perspectives its success as a commercial venue the impact on civil military relations and the broader benefits and drawbacks of this commercialism on military professionalism and economic modernization in China and elsewhere

Soldiers of Fortune: The Rise and Fall of the Chinese Military-Business Complex, 1978-1998 James C. Mulvenon, 2016-07-08 In 1978 faced with the pressure to modernize and a declining budget the Chinese People's Liberation Army PLA reluctantly agreed to join China's economic reform drive expanding its internal economy to market oriented civilian production This work examines PLA's role in the economy up to 1998

The People's Liberation Army in the Information Age James C. Mulvenon, Richard H. Yang, 1999 The product of a 1998 RAND conference this collection discusses the People's Liberation Army It covers the non hardware side of the PLA's modernization and examines the critical software side including civil military relations professionalism logistics training doctrine and more

Trading with the Enemy Hugo Meijer, 2016-03-01 In light of the intertwining logics of military competition and economic interdependence at play in US China relations Trading with the Enemy examines how the United States has balanced its potentially conflicting national security and economic interests in its relationship with the People's Republic of China PRC To do so Hugo Meijer investigates a strategically sensitive yet under explored facet of US China relations the making of American export control policy on military related technology transfers to China since 1979 Trading with the Enemy is the first monograph on this dimension of the US China relationship in the post Cold War Based on 199 interviews declassified documents and diplomatic cables leaked by Wikileaks two major findings emerge from this book First the US is no longer able to apply a strategy of military technology containment of China in the same way it did with the Soviet Union during the Cold War This is because of the erosion of its capacity to restrict the transfer of military related technology to the PRC Secondly a growing number of actors in Washington have reassessed the nexus between national security and economic interests at stake in the US China relationship by moving beyond the Cold War trade off between the two in order to maintain American military preeminence vis vis its strategic rivals By focusing on how states manage the heterogeneous and potentially competing security and economic interests at stake in a bilateral relationship this book seeks to shed light on the evolving character of interstate rivalry in a globalized economy where rivals in the military realm are also economically interdependent

China's Military Faces the Future James Lilley, David L. Shambaugh, 2016-07-01 This is the most up to date assessment of all aspects of the People's Liberation Army Leading specialists on the Chinese military cover military leadership defense doctrine and military readiness preparations for high tech warfare military expenditure military logistics the scientific and technological base for defense procurement and China's security concerns in Northeast Asia

China At 60: Global-local Interactions Gerald Chan, Lai-ha Chan, Fung Kwan, 2011-03-24 China at 60 explores the interactions between China and the world over the course of 60 years of Communist Party rule since 1949 and the impact of these interactions on China's domestic development To understand China's development experience and its transformation it is necessary to examine the trajectory of development from pre reform to post reform periods While the book may concur with previous findings on the changing development of

China under economic reform more importantly it demonstrates the areas of continuity of the PRC's existence over the entire six decades To that end a dual theme change and continuity and global local interactions on China's development is adopted to assess the historical development of China's policies in various issue areas over the past 60 years The focus is chiefly on the domestic impacts of China's increasing engagement with the world the global implications of China's reform efforts and growing power and the long lasting uniqueness of this rising non European nation The book brings together a team of international experts to share their perspectives on global local interactions within a range of different topics including foreign policy domestic politics macroeconomic policy the central local relations the People's Liberation Army public health energy security finance and banking foreign trade and intellectual property rights as well as changes in the state's policies towards interest groups such as ethnic minorities

China's Integration in Asia Robert Ash, 2013-12-16 A collection of authoritative papers on key issues for China's relations with other countries in the region in terms of trade defence regional development energy security and social political and economic development

Security, Arms Control and Defence Restructuring in East Asia Bjørn Møller, 2019-01-22 First published in 1998 this volume examines East Asia especially Northeast Asia which has been a region of considerable political security of importance for several key reasons It features several great and medium powers China Japan and Russia as well as North and South Korea Even though no arms race is yet discernible among these states with the partial exception of the two Koreas it is conceivable that one might commence If it did the level of militarization could become quite alarming if only because of the tremendous and rapidly growing economic potential of the regional states Even though relations among regional states except the two Koreas are currently peaceful the region features several unresolved issues e.g. concerning territory and a historical legacy of enmity between several states To prevent such conflicts of interest from erupting into armed conflict is of the utmost importance A stabilizing factor is that the military potentials in the region are still predominantly defensively oriented i.e. most states lack the requisite power projection or invasion capabilities to inflict serious harm on each other However this might change in the not so distant future Hence the importance of confidence building measures of an institutionalization of regional relations and of a strengthening of commitments to defensive military strategies and postures
