Mobility And Community Change In Australia:

Mobility and Community Change in Australia I. H. Burnley, Robin J. Pryor, Donald Trevor Rowland, 1980 Article by L R Smith separately annotated Demographic Change in Australia's Rural Landscapes Gary W. Luck, Digby Race, Rosemary Black, 2010-11-30 The distribution and re distribution of people across the landscape has significant implications for ecological economic and social dynamics Movement of people to urban centres mostly from rural landscapes especially in the developing world is a major global phenomenon This can result in the depopulation of rural landscapes Conversely population growth and a changing demographic profile have been identified for particular rural landscapes with notable examples from North America Europe and Australia Yet we know little of the factors that drive demographic changes in rural landscapes and even less about the implications of these changes This book examines broad and local scale patterns of demographic change in rural landscapes identifies some of the drivers of these changes using Australian case studies or comparisons between Australian and international contexts and outlines the implications of changes for society and the environment This book makes a valuable contribution to the literature because it adopts an integrated and interdisciplinary approach by explicitly linking demographic change with environmental land use social and economic factors This integrated approach was achieved by encouraging interaction among authors writing on similar topics to ensure coherency and complementarity among chapters and cross pollination of ideas and perspectives Chapters are presented as interactive and reflective discussions that address the findings of other contributors yet each chapter contains enough background to stand alone as a unique contribution The Transformation of Australia's Population Siew-An Khoo, Peter Francis McDonald, Siew-Ean Khoo, 2003 Transformation of Australia's population 1970-2030 Population, Migration and Settlement in Australia and the Asia-Pacific Natascha Klocker, Olivia Dun, 2018-12-07 The chapters in this book reflect on the work of seminal Australian geographer the late Professor Graeme Hugo Graeme Hugo was widely respected because of his impressive contributions to scholarship and policy in the fields of migration population and development which spanned several decades This collection of works contains contributions from authors whose own research has been influenced by Hugo and includes numerous authors who worked closely with Hugo throughout his career The collection provides an opportunity to reflect on Hugo's legacy and also to foreground contemporary scholarship in his key areas of research focus The chapters are organised into two thematic threads Part I contains works relating to Population Migration and Settlement in Australia while Part II focuses on Labour and Environmental Migration in the Asia Pacific Together these two thematic threads provide broad coverage of Graeme Hugo's key areas of research focus The chapters also serve as a reminder of Hugo's steadfast concern with producing careful scholarship for the public good and seek to prompt continued work in this vein The chapters originally published in special issues in Australian Geographer Tourism, Mobilities, and Development in Sparsely Populated Areas Doris Carson, Dean Carson, Linda Lundmark, 2017-10-02 Tourism mobilities are not restricted to the movement of tourists between places of origin and destinations Particularly in more peripheral remote or sparsely populated destinations workers and residents are also likely to be frequently moving between locations Such destinations attract seasonal or temporary residents sometimes with only loose ties to the tourism industry These flows of mobile populations are accompanied by flows of other resources money knowledge ideas and innovations which can be used to help the economic and social development of the destination This book examines key aspects of the human mobilities associated with tourism in sparsely populated areas and investigates how new mobility patterns inspired by technological economic political and social change provide both opportunities and risks for those areas Examples are drawn from the northern peripheries of Europe and the north of Australia and the book provides a framework for continuing research into the role that tourism and new mobilities can play in regional development in these locations This book was originally published as a special issue of the Scandinavian Journal of Hospitality and Tourism

Industrial Transformation and Challenge in Australia and Canada Roger Hayter,1990-12-15 Canadian and Australian economic geographers provide a comparative analysis of the economies of the two countries as both nations attempt to redefine their roles in a rapidly changing world

The sojourner community [electronic resource] Tetsuo Mizukami,2007 This book refines the concept of the sojourner vis a vis settler which demonstrates the growing significance in contemporary migration issues It also illustrates the characteristic patterns of contemporary migration by analysing statistical as well as empirical data on Japanese residency in Australia

Northern Australia Don Parkes,2013-09-24 Northern Australia The Arenas of Life and Ecosystems on Half a Continent provides a geographical study of the interplay of environmental challenge and human endeavor in the vast arena of Northern Australia This book is organized into three parts Part A presents the contextual setting for Parts B and C It includes a historical geographer s perspective on the ecological impact of 200 years of European settlement a description of the use of satellite imagery and discussion of some of the interactions among natural subsystems as they impinge on human activities especially in the extensive rangelands Part B discusses some of the human ecosystems which extend over a very large geographical territory In these ecosystems the human population is small in terms of absolute number and relative to the population of other living things These include the tropical marine ecosystems and their growing utilization for mariculture and rangeland ecosystems dominated by cattle and the overlapping semi arid grasslands Part C discusses intensive ecosystems where the human population is dominant in number

Rural Revival? John Connell,Phil McManus,2016-04-15 How if possible to re populate declining rural and regional areas Examining this crucial and complex issue in relation to Australia this book explores how a particular organization Country Week has emerged and developed as one means of stimulating the repopulation of declining or stagnating areas While this is a problem shared by many other developed countries in Europe and North America Australia s Country Week programme puts forward an innovative range of place marketing strategies that challenge rural decline and urban migration and can offer new approaches which could be adopted more widely Australia and Its Urban Centres Burkhard Hofmeister,1988 Sea Change I. H. Burnley,Peter Murphy,2004 Sea Change is about population turnaround It describes the very significant migration of nearly 1 million people from metropolitan to non metropolitan Australia over the last 30 years These movements have occurred in all states and most have been to coastal locations hence the title Indigenous in the City Evelyn Peters,Chris Andersen,2013-04-22 Research on Indigenous issues rarely focuses on life in major metropolitan centres Instead there is a tendency to frame rural and remote locations as emblematic of authentic or real Indigeneity and as central to the survival of Indigenous cultures and societies While such a perspective may support Indigenous struggles for territory and recognition as distinct peoples it fails to account for large swaths of contemporary Indigenous realities not the least of which is the increased presence of Indigenous people and communities in cities The chapters in this volume explore the implications of urbanization on the production of distinctive Indigenous identities in Canada the United States New Zealand and Australia Instead of viewing urban experiences in terms of assimilation and social and cultural disruption this book demonstrates the resilience creativity and complexity of the urban Indigenous presence both in Canada and internationally Regional Impacts of Resource Developments C. C. Kissling,M. J. Taylor,N. J. Thrift,C. J. Adrian,2017-08-23 Originally published in 1984 Australia is a resource rich country deriving a significant proportion of its export earnings from trade in these resources At the same time the country is young sparsely populated beyond the coastal fringe particularly in the resource rich areas and environmentally fragile The consequences of resource exploitation in these areas have far reaching policy implications A range of these concerns is canvassed in this volume encompassing the views of policy makers planners and academics Five chapters address social and economic impacts ranging over manufacturing and tertiary industry immigration and labour markets employment and population and the provision of educational facilities Many of these are seen in microcosm in the Hunter Valley New South Wales Two contributions offer an international perspective one in another federal system Canada and one where Australian interests are participating in resource extraction Papua New Guinea The issues raised are fundamental to Australia s development in the 1980 s and of importance to everyone connected with the development and planning of Australia s future Rural Labour Markets in Australia Roy Powell,1985 Argues that the drift of rural population into metropolitan areas has been reversed Finds that the agricultural sector is increasingly becoming a user of inputs and services provided by other industries and that the relative importance of on farm labour has declined Significant trends include the use of less permanent labour the use of more female labour on farms more off the farm employment of farm households increasing numbers of part time farmers and rise of multiple job holding Social Process and the City Peter Williams,2019-03-08 Contemporary urban studies engages a wide range of approaches in the analysis of the processes at work in urban areas These approaches derive from anthropology economics geography history politics and sociology as well as from the professional experience of town planning and architecture Social process and the city reflects

this growing cross disciplinary engagement This shows the important problematic role which cities in particular and urban change in general have played in the growth of Australia The overriding concern of each essay in this collection is to develop an understanding of the ways urban areas function and an awareness of how differing interpretations of urban phenomena might be applied This attention to the nature of the forces at work and the processes these forces manifest themselves in is extended both empirically and conceptually This book was first published in 1983 Aboriginal Populations Frank Trovato, Anatole Romaniuk, 2014-05-22 Extended and comparative social demography of Aboriginal Peoples in Canada and beyond by world renowned experts Population, Society & Environment in Australia I. H. Burnley, 1982 The Impact of Immigration on Australia I. H. Burnley, 2001 This book examines the significant influence that waves of immigrant settlers have had on Australia's places and spaces Australia's Changing Population Graeme Hugo, 1986 Analyzing today's evolving demographic context in Australia this book discusses such population issues as the graying of Australia the scale and composition of current immigration single parent families and changes in family composition and school populations in towns and regions The author brings forward important demographic changes and trends to highlight their social and economic implications for policymakers and planners in the private and public sectors A Future for Regional Australia I. W. Gray, Geoffrey Lawrence, 2001-07-31 This book interprets the predicament faced by Australia's regional people from their own perspective and proposes a means by which they can act together to find a secure future under globalisation It argues that neoliberalism in combination with its real world effects in economic policy are driving regional Australia further into social environmental and economic decay The book will be of great interest to all concerned about the future of regional Australia and will make a lively and relevant text for students studying the social sciences in the countryside or in the major cities
