Transnational Communication and Identity Construction in Diaspora Merga Yonas Bula, 2023-12-14 The study was sparked by the absence of literature on transnational masspersonal communication tmc of Eritrean Ethiopian Oromo and Somali diaspora communities To bridge this theoretical gap an empirical study was conducted at meso level based on three questions a what topics do people in the diaspora communities discuss in relation to their homelands via social media an alternative for tmc b how do they communicate about their homelands issues in relation to their collective identities and c how does this communication enable the construction of their own identity as well as the deconstruction of competing identities The theoretical analysis from the perspective of these questions led to developing own model i e the Diasporic Identity Construction in Transnational Masspersonal Communication Model DICTMCM This model which connects the theoretical analysis to the empirical study argues that their communication in relation to their homelands particularly about their collective identities consists not only of what they talk but also of how they converse As a result the empirical results delivered a comparative analysis of the tmc of these four diaspora communities and how they construct their collective identities via this tmc which bridged the above stated gap Frontiers in Social Movement Theory Assoc Professor Carol McClurg Mueller, 1992-01-01 Scholars in the area of social action present new theories about this process fashioning a social psychology of social movements that goes beyond theories currently in use Are We Thinking Straight? Daniel K.

Writing Global Trade Governance Michael Strange,2013-08-15 Writing Global Trade Governance operationalises a key post structuralist methodology in order to expand understanding on the institution at the heart of the global political economy Despite the WTO s centrality and the growing popularity of methods utilizing discourse theory no other text has yet demonstrated how these two fields of learning can be productively combined The book seeks to move beyond existing literatures that assume the WTO to be a structure institution or normative framework in order to enquire into the discursive processes of identity formation that make the WTO both possible and contested The book criticises conventional approaches that treat critical civil society as distinct to the WTO arguing instead that it is only through including such social practices within the field of relations making the WTO that we can properly understand what makes the WTO work The book presents an empirical analysis of the discursive character of the present day WTO including its formation and operation and then moves on to evaluate how it is subject to change within a broader social context The final stage of the book seeks to discuss the impact of the findings on future research both on the WTO and other institutions This work is a significant intervention in the literature on the World Trade Organization and the politics of global trade and social movements and will be of great interest to students and scholars of global governance discourse theory and international organizations

The Kurdish Movement in Turkey Elsa Tulin Sen,2025-08-21 This book examines the Kurdish movement in the context of total social movement theory First tracing its origins as a conventionally nationalist movement Elsa Sen draws upon Alan Touraine s concept of a total social movement to argue that from 2000 to 2015 the Kurds in Turkey pursued a policy of engaging in a peace process channeling energy into civil society activism and electoral campaigns and promoting an inclusive understanding of national identity for all the components of Turkish society not just the Kurds in a hypothetically fully functioning democracy Both theoretically informed and drawing upon empirical research in the form of interviews with Kurdish and Turkish activists non activists and political representatives the book provides a new perspective on contemporary Kurdish politics as oscillating between nationalist and social movement paradigms with the recent decline of the latter due to the resumption of military action by the Turkish state and the Kurdistan Workers Party after 2015
