Mobilizing Family Forces for Worldwide Reading Success Harry Wendell Sartain, 1981 Mobilizing Family Forces for Worldwide Reading Success Harry Wendell Sartain, Dorothy S. Strickland, International Reading Association, 1981 Noting that the task of increasing literacy around the world is far too massive for the schools alone to undertake this book is intended as part of an effort to increase the role of parents and families in promoting the reading development of children The six articles in the book discuss the following topics 1 family contributions to reading attainment 2 opportunities to use family resources for reading in the developing countries of Africa and of Southeast Asia 3 family forces for preschool development of health vocabulary and perceptual skills 4 family forces for early school development of language fluency and beginning reading and 5 the role of families in curriculum planning and tutoring in reading and in developing cultural appreciation FL Resources in Education ,1996 The Psychology of Reading Mildred C. Robeck, Randall R. Wallace, 2017-11-06 The need to know why as well as how children and youth respond as they do to reading instruction has guided the selection of this book's content The second edition of this title originally published in 1990 has retained and elaborated upon the three major themes previously presented that reading is a linguistic process that motivation the affective domain may be as important in learning to read as the cognitive domain and that the reality of learning theory is to be found in the mechanisms of the brain where information is mediated and memory traces are stored The text integrates views from cognitive psychology psycholinguistics and neuropsychology as they relate to reading and writing A learning motivation model is provided to present associative learning conceptualization and self directed reading in a hierarchical relationship with distinct cognitive and affective components The distinction between beginning and proficient reading is maintained throughout the text Summary of Investigations Relating to Reading International Reading Association, 1981 An Investigation of the Effects of Early Literacy on Reading Comprehension from Grades One Through Three Ramonita Adorno-Natal De Santiago, 1989 Vertical File Index ,1981 Cabell's Directory of Publishing Opportunities in Education: J of E through W, Index David W.
