Qing Imperial Porcelain Of The Kangxi Yongzheng And Qianlong Reigns:

Qing Imperial Porcelain Nanjing-Bowuyuan, Chinese University. Hong Kong. Art Museum, 1995 A Brief History of Chinese Imperial Porcelain Chongnian Yan, 2024-11-01 This book provides a unique history of the Porcelain Road against the backdrop of Chinese and Western cultural exchanges Written by one of China's most influential scholars it introduces the history of Chinese Porcelain especially the history of the imperial porcelain kiln taking the most representative porcelain of each period as examples and examining relevant historical background Studying artifacts from well known collections such as the Palace Museum Taipei Palace Museum Shenyang Palace Museum Nanjing Museum this text offers a unique discussion of China's porcelain culture and history and will be of relevance to all those interested in one of the key aspects of Chinese culture and cultural exchanges between East and West Chinese Ceramics Rose Kerr, 1986 Collecting and Displaying China's "Summer Palace" in the West Louise Tythacott, 2017-10-25 In October 1860 at the culmination of the Second Opium War British and French troops looted and destroyed one of the most important palace complexes in imperial China the Yuanmingyuan Known in the West as the Summer Palace this site consisted of thousands of buildings housing a vast art collection It is estimated that over a million objects may have been taken from the palaces in the Yuanmingyuan and many of these are now scattered around the world in private collections and public museums With contributions from leading specialists this is the first book to focus on the collecting and display of Summer Palace material over the past 150 years in museums in Britain and France It examines the way museums placed their own cultural political and aesthetic concerns upon Yuanmingyuan material and how displays especially those at the Royal Engineers Museum in Kent the National Museum of Scotland and the Musée Chinois at the Château de Fontainebleau tell us more about European representations and images of China than they do about the Yuanmingyuan itself Through a Forest of Chancellors Anne Burkus-Chasson, 2020-10-26 Liu Yuan's Lingyan ge a woodblock printed book from 1669 re-creates a portrait gallery that memorialized 24 vassals of the early Tang court Liu accompanied each figure presented under the guise of a bandit with a couplet the poems written in various scripts are surrounded by marginal images that allude to a contemporary novel Religious icons supplement the portrait gallery Liu's re-creation is fraught with questions This study examines the dialogues created among the texts and images in Lingyan ge from multiple perspectives Analysis of the book's materialities demonstrates how Lingyan ge embodies rather than reflects the historical moment in which it was made Liu unveiled and even dramatized the interface between manuscript and printed book in Lingyan ge Authority over the book's production is negotiated asserted overturned and reinstated Use of pictures to construct a historical argument intensifies this struggle Anne Burkus-Chasson argues that despite a general epistemological shift toward visual forms of knowledge in the seventeenth century looking and reading were still seen as being in conflict This conflict plays out among the leaves of Liu Yuan's book Sensuous Surfaces Jonathan Hay, 2010-06-25 Sensuous Surfaces is a systematic introduction to the decorative arts in Ming and Qing dynasty

China Jonathan Hay's analysis takes in both material and technique and also issues of patronage and taste which together formed a loose system of informal rules that affected every level of decoration in early modern China from an individual object to the arrangement of an entire residential interior By engaging the actual and metaphoric potential of surface this system guided the production and use of the decorative arts during a period of explosive growth which started in the late sixteenth century and continued until the mid nineteenth century The system made a fundamental contribution to the sensory education of China's early modern urban population both as individuals and in their embodiment of established social roles Sensuous Surfaces is also a meditation on the role of pleasure in decoration Often intellectually dismissed as merely pleasurable Hay argues that decoration is better understood as a necessary form of art which can fulfil its function only by engaging the human capacity for erotic response Featuring around 280 colour images of a wide range of early modern Chinese objects and art works this book will engage anyone with an interest in decoration art China or the experience of pleasure itself

The Grove Encyclopedia of Decorative Arts Gordon Campbell, 2006-11-09 The Grove Encyclopedia of Decorative Arts covers thousands of years of decorative arts production throughout western and non western culture With over 1 000 entries as well as hundreds drawn from the 34 volume Dictionary of Art this topical collection is a valuable resource for those interested in the history practice and mechanics of the decorative arts Accompanied by almost 100 color and more than 500 black and white illustrations the 1 290 pages of this title include hundreds of entries on artists and craftsmen the qualities and historic uses of materials as well as concise definitions on art forms and style Explore the works of Alvar Aalto Charles and Ray Eames and the Wiener Werkstätte or delve into the history of Navajo blankets and wing chairs in thousands of entries on artists craftsmen designers workshops and decorative art forms

General History of Chinese Art Xifan Li, 2022-10-03 This volume investigates the artistic development during the Qing Dynasty the last of imperial Chinese dynasties and shows the importance of opera and playwriting during this time period Further analysis is dedicated to the development of scroll painting and the revival of calligraphy and seal carving A General History of Chinese Art comprises six volumes with a total of nine parts spanning from the Prehistoric Era until the 3rd year of Xuanton during the Qing Dynasty 1911 The work provides a comprehensive compilation of in depth studies of the development of art throughout the subsequent reign of Chinese dynasties and explores the emergence of a wide range of artistic categories such as but not limited to music dance acrobatics singing story telling painting calligraphy sculpture architecture and crafts Unlike previous reference books A General History of Chinese Art offers a broader overview of the notion of Chinese art by asserting a more diverse and less material understanding of arts as has often been the case in Western scholarship 中国艺术史, 2005 Welsh Armorial Porcelain Howell G. M. Edwards, 2022-05-05 Armorial porcelains comprised the output of most European ceramics factories in the 18th and 19th Centuries in response to the large quantity of armorial porcelain services that were being imported from China bearing the coats of arms and crests of aristocratic families Whereas these armorial services have been identified and covered for most porcelain manufactories the information relevant to their production by the two relatively short lived Nantgarw and Swansea China Works has not been addressed as a theme until now As an integral component of the holistic forensic appraisal of porcelain a functional and decorative artwork manifestly part of our cultural heritage and its ongoing preservation the recording and identification of such artefacts is material for the future establishment of a database of factory production The Nantgarw and Swansea factories only operated for a limited period in the second decade of the 19th Century and their porcelains were much appreciated for their high quality and desirability by Georgian households Today examples are to be found in many museums and ceramics collections and continue to excite the interest of specialists and the general public This text provides the first comprehensive assessment of armorial porcelains from these two factories and the methodology and procedure for the identification of unknown armorial bearings and crests is illustrated individual bearings are discussed in detail and existing incorrect assignments in the literature are re appraised The difficulties in attribution of armorial heraldic achievements that are only minimally depicted are considered and directions for further studies using historical documentation are invoked This book therefore fills a currently existing gap in the ceramics literature of the 19th Century
