Specht, Reinhard Stock, 2012-12-06 From the Editors Preface Quark Matter 1987 was attended by about 250 scientists representing 75 research institutions around the world the scientific community engaged in experimental and theoretical studies of high energy nuclear collisions The central theme of the meeting was the possibility of achieving extreme energy densities in extended systems of strongly interacting matter with the ultimate aim of creating in the laboratory a deconfined state of matter a state in which quarks and gluons attain the active degrees of freedom High energy accelerator beams and cosmic radiation projectiles provide the experimental tools for this endeavour on the theoretical side it is intimately connected to recent developments in the non perturbative study of quantum chromodynamics Phase transitions between hadronic matter and quark gluon plasma are of basic interest also for our understanding of the dynamics of the early universe A very special feature of this Sixth Quark Matter Conference was the advent of the first experimental results from dedicated accelerator studies These were conducted during 1986 87 at the AGS of Brookhaven National Laboratory and at the CERN SPS An intense discussion of these data formed the main activity of the meeting

Refereed and selected contributions from International Conference on Quark Nuclear Physics Charlotte Elster,Josef Speth,Thomas Walcher,2013-06-29 The International Conference on Quark Nuclear Physics 2002 QNP2002 was held in the Forschungszentrum Jilich from June 9 to 14 2002 It was organized by the Institute of Nuclear Physics IKP at the Forschungszentrum Jilich together with the Universities of Bonn und Mainz This meeting takes place every two years and was the successor to QNP2000 which was held in Adelaide QNP2002 brought together about 200 scientists from 25 countries who met for their scientific work in the Forschungszentrum but spent their free time in the medieval city of Aachen the former capital of Charles the Great The particular feature of this conference is that it provides a comprehensive overview of the at tempts in understanding hadrons and nuclei including dense matter in terms of their fundamental constituents the quarks and the gluons One of the basic themes of the program was that fact that we do have an underlying theory of strongly interacting particles namely the QCD For that rea son the experimental topics covered during the meeting ranged from precision measurements with hadronic and electromagnetic probes to ultra relativistic heavy ion reactions Correspondingly the theoretical topics spanned an equally wide range including perturbative and lattice QCD calcu lations as well as effective theories and QCD motivated quark models In the morning sessions invited reviews were given In the afternoon twelve topical parallel sessions directed by conveners summarized the newest research results The Physics of the Quark-Gluon

Plasma Sourav Sarkar,Helmut Satz,Bikash Sinha,2009-12-16 The aim of this book is to offer to the next generation of young researchers a broad and largely self contained introduction to the physics of heavy ion collisions and the quark gluon plasma providing material beyond that normally found in the available textbooks For each of the main aspects QCD thermodynamics and global features of the QGP collision hydrodynamics electromagnetic probes jet and quarkonium production color glass condensate and the gravity connection the present volume provides extensive and pedagogical lectures surveying the present status of both theory and experiment A particular feature of this volume is that all lectures have been written with the active assistance of selected students present at the course in order to ensure the adequate level and coverage for the intended readership Winners, Losers & Microsoft Stan J. Liebowitz,Stephen E. Margolis,2001-03-01 Have the antitrust actions by the Department of Justice against Microsoft and other firms really intended to protect consumers or are they politically motivated attempts to help competitors achieve what they could not achieve in the marketplace Can dominant companies in a market such as Microsoft lock in inferior technologies and thereby stifle innovation and would be competitors Do network effects the fact that some products such as telephones and fax machines increase in value as more people use them result in monopolies even if dominant companies do not seek to create monopolies Do the current antitrust laws discourage entrepreneurship and innovation Will the robust high tech competition and tremendous technological advances of recent years continue if government steps up its antitrust actions Winners Losers Microsoft addresses such questions and sheds light on the real workings of the high tech markets Through extensive research and insightful analysis Professors Liebowitz and Margolis shatter many long held beliefs about competition in the high technology industries Among their surprising findings Software prices fall dramatically in markets where Microsoft is a major player but prices show no strong tendency to fall over time if Microsoft is not a factor in a given market Claims that dominant but inferior technologies can lock out better competitive products are not supported by the data This not only applies to software but also to other technology markets i e VHS vs Beta video recorder battles Superior products tend to dominate in high technology even if inferior products are backed by lots of money For example Intuit's Quicken has dominated Microsoft Money for several years despite intensive efforts by Microsoft to promote Money And AOL has significantly increased its market share in recent years even though Microsoft incorporated software for the Microsoft Network into its Windows operating system Liebowitz and Margolis demonstrate how a high tech company can go from a dominant market leader as Lotus once was in spreadsheets to an also ran with astonishing speed They show that free markets in high technology do a remarkable job of continually delivering better products at lower prices to consumers Winners Losers Microsoft makes a compelling case that the real danger to American high technology leadership is a too powerful too intrusive government which believes it knows consumer preferences and needs better than they do This book is a cogent tightly argued rebuttal to frequent calls for greater government intervention in the high technology markets
