Red Tram:

The Rise of the Paris Red Belt Tyler Stovall, 2024-06-21 From 1920 until the present the working class suburbs of Paris known as the Red Belt have constituted the heart of French Communism providing the Party not only with its most solid electoral base but with much of its cultural identity as well Focusing on the northeastern suburb of Bobigny Tyler Stovall explores the nature of working class life and politicization as he skillfully documents how this unique region and political culture came into being The Rise of the Paris Red Belt reveals that the very process of urban development in metropolitan Paris and the suburbs provided the most important opportunities for the local establishment of Communist influence The rapid increase in Paris suburban population during the early twentieth century outstripped the development of the local urban infrastructure Consequently many of these suburbs often represented to their new residents as charming country villages soon degenerated into suburban slums Stovall argues that Communists forged a powerful political block by mobilizing the disillusionment and by improving some of the worst aspects of suburban life As a social history of twentieth century France The Rise of the Paris Red Belt calls into question traditional assumptions about the history of both French Communism and the French working class It suggests that those interested in working class politics should consider the significance of residential and consumer issues as well as those relating to the workplace It also suggests that urban history and urban development should not be considered autonomous phenomena but rather expressions of class relations The Rise of the Paris Red Belt brings to life a world whose citizens though often overlooked are nonetheless the history of modern France This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1990 The Red Tram Christian Karlson Stead, 2004 From one of New Zealand's most celebrated writers comes this poetry collection that encompasses moving memories of childhood and ruminations on horses and cows Auckland and even the author's own legs These satirical poems take weapons from the writers of the past and skewer politicians of the present and reflect on a range of international writers including Allen Curnow Janet Frame and Denis Glover With sometimes biting and often humorous poems that reference both classical Latin poets and contemporary concerns this collection breathes with an incomparable sense of energy speed and force Red Hill Peter Branson, 2013-09-30 Red Phoenix Andrew Warren, 2025-06-09 Pre order the next action packed title in the Thomas Caine thriller series by best selling author Andrew Warren An assassin's mission to save a life could bring the world to its knees Thomas Caine has finally tracked down the corrupt CIA director who framed him and had his partner killed But the cost of revenge may prove too high His target reveals that Caine's partner had a son now a young man named Sean And Sean is in terrible danger To save him Caine must travel to the People's Republic of China There he and Sean find themselves tangled in a vast conspiracy A deadly double agent is stalking them both from the shadows The killer s identity is unknown Their motives are unclear And their methods are one hundred percent lethal Can Caine unravel the identity of this mysterious killer before they strike again

Mosaic Diane Armstrong,2002-09-14 Starting in Krakow Poland in 1890 and spanning more than one hundred years five generations and four continents Mosaic is Diane Armstrong s moving account of her remarkable resilient family This story begins when Daniel Baldinger divorces the wife he loves because she cannot bear children Believing that a man must have sons to say Kaddish for him when he dies he marries a much younger woman and by 1913 Daniel and his second wife Lieba have eleven children including six sons In this richly textured portrait Armstrong follows the Baldinger children s lives over decades through the terrifying years of the Holocaust to the present Based on oral histories and the diaries of more than a dozen men and women Mosaic is an extraordinary story of a family and one woman s journey to reclaim her heritage
