Reforming the Energy Sector in Transition Economies Dale Gray,1995-01-01 World Development Report 1995
Workers in an Integrating World addresses labor and employment issues that are important for South Asia Expanding employment and increasing the remuneration of workers are essential to poverty alleviation which is the primary objective of all countries in the region This regional perspective examines ways in which workers in South Asia can benefit from greater integration of the global economy through improving their skills or cushioning their transition to new jobs The paper emphasizes that governments need to develop a framework for labor policies that defines the rights of employers workers and labor unions and the framework for collective bargaining and settlement of disputes Liberalization will lead to market based development which is the best way to raise workers living standards it encourages firms and workers to invest in physical capital new technologies and skills Developing the Nonfarm Sector in Bangladesh Shahid Yusuf,Praveen Kumar,1996-01-01 IFC Discussion Paper No 30 Draws on a case study of a cement plant in Estonia to compare the private costs of curbing pollution with the social benefits that may accrue to the population The study concludes that the social benefits exceed private costs by a margin that sufficiently justifies the environmental investment Practical Lessons for Africa from East Asia in Industrial and Trade Policies Peter Harrold,Malathi Jayawickrama,Deepak Bhattasali,1996
Living Standards Measurement Survey Working Paper No 121 Explores the link between poverty and lack of infrastructure using the 1992 93 Viet Nam Living Standards Survey The household data indicate that in general access to infrastructure is almost equally bad for the poor and the non poor although there are some regional and urban rural differences The paper gives particular attention to the potential benefits from an expansion of irrigation infrastructure Energy Transition of the Electricity Sectors in the European Union and Japan Maciej M. Sokołowski,2022-07-08 This book provides a comprehensive overview of the energy policies in the European Union and Japan in terms of electricity markets and climate action including energy efficiency renewable energy sources and the reduction of emissions The book evaluates and compares the regulatory frameworks for achieving energy transitions by answering a number of questions focused on the essence and range of the regulatory models used by leading global economies which herald carbon neutrality by 2050 The book provides a useful framework that systematises Japanese and European energy policies and legislation including electricity related policies plans and programmes Discussing these issues in relation to the European and Japanese 2050 energy transition the author delves into the four pillars of the transition market reform reduction of emissions promotion of renewables and enhancing energy efficiency Each chapter demonstrates the timing of the actions undertaken both in Europe and Japan analyses the character of the conducted actions evaluates the stakeholders of the realised agenda and presents the technologies involved in the energy transition Selecting Development Projects for the World Bank Jean Baneth,1996-01-01 Presents a selection of topics of special interest and relevance to eight Pacific Island countries that are member of the World Bank

PMCs Fiji Federated States of Micronesia Kiribati Marshall Islands Solomon Islands Tonga Vanuatu and Western Samoa The themes selected are the impact of recent changes in the external trading environment of the PMCs economic diversification into tourism improving the management of and getting better returns for natural resources such as fisheries and forestry and regional cooperation The report also includes profiles of these eight countries Uganda's AIDS Crisis Jill

Armstrong,1995-01-01 Examines the economic problems that arise when governments own and operate enterprises that could be managed by the private sector Despite more than a decade of divestiture state owned enterprises account for nearly as large a share of developing countries economies today as twenty years ago This report examines the economic problems that arise when governments own and operate enterprises that could be managed by the private sector It finds that such enterprises are often inefficient and shows how the resulting losses to the economy hinder growth making it harder for people to escape poverty Why have reforms had such little impact In an innovative study of the political economy of state enterprise reform the report describes common obstacles to reform and describes ways that some countries have overcome them Drawing on a rich database and detailed country case studies the report provides the most comprehensive assessment yet of a decade of divestiture and reform of state owned enterprises It evaluates the experiences of 12 countries some of these countries reformed successfully and some did not but all tried to improve the incentive structure by changing the contract between the government and state owned firms The report offers guidance for successful reform and suggests ways that foreign assistance can more effectively support reform efforts The countries covered in the case studies are Chile China Czech Republic Egypt Ghana India Republic of Korea Mexico Philippines Poland Senegal and Turkey Published for the World Bank by Oxford University Press Africa Can Compete! ,1996 All 15 new independent states established in the economic space of the former Soviet Union suffered big declines in output and trade after gaining independence This study summarizes cross country experience on the role of trade and payments policies in the linked contraction of output and trade by drawing on eight country case studies Estonia the Kyrgyz Republic Latvia Lithuania Moldova Russia Ukraine and Uzbekistan The results of the case studies show that trade reform and reorientation of trade toward the rest of the world have done much to arrest the decline in output usually associated with the transformation from plan to market Also available in English Stock no 13615 ISBN 0 8213 3615 0 The Role of Family Planning and Targeted Credit Programs in Demographic Change in Bangladesh Shahidur R. Khandker,Muhammad Abdul Latif,1996-01-01 FIAS Occasional Paper No 6 Examines and compares the recent experiences of a number of developing countries in encouraging backward linkages the purchasing of goods and services from locally owned suppliers by companies controlled by foreign firms The authors argue that economic liberalization helps rather than hurts domestic suppliers that institutional support focusing on upgrading the capabilities of domestic suppliers is critical and that promotional programs combining public and private resources can accelerate linkage development Targeted Credit Programs and Rural Poverty in Bangladesh Shahidur R. Khandker,Osman H.

Chowdhury,1996-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 347 Describes the elements of health reform in Sierra Leone as the West African nation attempts to overhaul its health system and focus it on the neediest populations To highlight the role of key stakeholders the study reviews the actions proposed and taken for reforming a package of health services organizing the provision of those services and financing the health sector The paper also identifies factors critical for success and concludes with an assessment of future prospects for reform of this crucial sector Review and Outlook for the World Oil Market

Shane S. Streifel,1995-01-01 After the collapse of the Soviet system the immense problems of environmental pollution in Central and Eastern Europe were widely publicized Less well known were its effects on health in the region which have led to a serious health crisis This report examines the degree to which the pollution adversely affected human health putting it in the context of other health determinants such as socioeconomic factors health care standards and availability and lifestyle factors Among the numerous pollutants the report points to lead dust toxic gases and nitrates in rural water supplies as having a significant impact on health in Central and Eastern Europe The author suggests possible avenues for international action However an analysis of the determinants of health reveals that addressing the pollution problems alone will not solve the health crisis Improving health in this region will depend on the changing economic fortunes of individual countries and the ability of each to create a supportive social environment for its citizens Intensified Systems of Farming in the

Tropics and Subtropics J. A. N. Wallis,1997-01-01 Environmentally Sustainable Development Studies and Monographs Series No 19 Five years have passed since the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development better known as the Rio Earth Summit Almost all the countries of the world attended the conference and committed themselves to the policies and programs laid out in Agenda 21 the action plan of the summit The World Bank and other international agencies have sought to be active partners in implementing the agenda This report is part of the Bank s current efforts to review the progress made over the past five years and to make plans for improved effectiveness for the future The paper is divided into two parts Part I looks at the broad picture assessing some of the large challenges for the future and outlining thematic principles Part II provides concise reviews of the majority of the chapters of Agenda 21 and relates them to the standpoint of Bank activities The East Asian Miracle and Information Technology Nagy Hanna,1996 World Bank Discussion Paper

No 326 Draws on the successful experiences of five East Asian economies Japan the Republic of Korea Singapore Taiwan China and Hong Kong to show how they have exploited the opportunities made possible by the information technology revolution and built sustainable competitive advantages in many high value added industries and services The study examines the role of government in unleashing private sector response promoting the information technology industry diffusing technology and focusing resources on strategic elements of the national information infrastructure It also explores the role of the private sector in influencing the development and use of the new technologies Economic Transition in Russia and the New States of Eurasia Bartłomiej Kamiński,1996 This volume covers the economic progress made by the new

Alan Winters, 1995-01-01 Agricultural liberalization and the Uruguay round The Uruguay round an assessment of economywide and agricultural reforms Trade in manufactures the outcome of the Uruguay round and developing country interest Liberalizing manufactures trade in changing world economy The Uruguay round and market access opportunities and challenges for developing countries Assessing the Uruguay round

Evaluating Health Projects Susan Stout, 1997-01-01 This book explores the wave of decentralization that has swept through Latin America and the projected institutional changes within the governments in the region Although it notes the ways in which decentralization implies a critique of past governing patterns the emphasis is on such potential consequences of governmental change as the strengthening of democratic participation in government and the improvement of local public service The book draws upon institutional experiments carried out at the state level to examine which decentralization strategies work best in Latin America It is organized around three major requirements for the success of decentralization Establishing the national fiscal framework Moving government closer to the people Improving municipal service delivery Tables illustrate the shift of revenues and expenditures from central authorities to intermediate levels of government

Assessment of Corporate Sector Value and Vulnerability Dale F. Gray, 1999-01-01 Once equity has fallen below a certain threshold for a significant period of time it triggers a suspension of debt payments and distorts incentives for equity holders and managers But what is a significant period of time You or I could pay a 10 million annual mortgage payment for a day or two but not two or three months Similarly owners and managers can withstand short periods of illiquidity or negative equity but not longer ones At some point in time the inability to meet obligations and perception of continued difficulties creates a system wide breakdown in debt payments The relationship between the corporate sector and a country s macroeconomy is receiving increased attention from policymakers and investors especially those affected by the Asian crisis Recent crises have pointed out the importance of improving our understanding of the links between the corporate sector the financial sector and the macroeconomy in a world of volatile capital flows Assessing the vulnerability of the corporate sector and its links to financial and exchange rate crisis is important for both improved surveillance and in the design of policies in crisis countries However the analytical and operational tools available to policymakers and investors to analyze this problem have been limited This Technical Paper was prepared as part of an initiative to develop new frameworks which can integrate state of the art corporate finance principles macroeconomic and financial sector analysis An innovative yet practical framework is provided which has numerous applications for assessing corporate sector vulnerability design of corporate restructuring strategies as well as financial sector and macroeconomic policies It will be of interest to bankers economic policymakers corporate finance specialists and macroeconomists
