Self And Symbolism In The Poetry Of Michelangelo John Donne And Agrippa Daubigne:

Self and Symbolism in the Poetry of Michelangelo, John Donne and Agrippa D'Aubigne A.B. Altizer, 2012-12-06 Alienation ecstasy death rebirth in the poetry of Michelangelo Donne and d Aubigne these archetypal themes make possible the ultimate formulation of new poetic symbolizations of self and world As their poetry evolves from a primarily rhetorical towards a fully symbolic mode images of loss of self in ecstasy or in alienation of death and rebirth recur with increasing frequency and intensity Whether the context is love poetry or religious poetry the basic problem remains the same love is the link between the two kinds of poetry And love is indeed a problem for these three poets since it involves the self in relation to the other the other being either God or another human being Increasingly the work of each poet centers on a need to analyze or abolish the gulf separating subject and object self and other The dominant mode of most of the three poets work is neither rhetorical nor symbolic but expressive This transitional mode reveals the individual poet s most urgent concerns and conflicts his sense of self in Its most isolated or burdensome affirmative or struggling state Under lying most of their poems is a profound self consciousness a heightened awareness of self as a powerful separate entity with a corresponding objectification of all reality outside of self The Renaissance in general is a time of increasing individualism and 1 self consciousness

Østermark-Johansen,2019-01-15 First published in 1998 this volume explores the reinvention of Michelangelo in the Victorian era At the opening of the nineteenth century Michelangelo s reputation rested on the evidence of contemporary adulation recorded by Vasari and Condivi Travel photography the shift of his drawings into public collections and in particular the publication of his poems in their original form transformed this situation The complexity of his work commanded new attention and several biographies were published As public curiosity and knowledge of the artist increased so various groups began to ally themselves to aspects of Michelangelo s persona His Renaissance reputation as a towering genius a man of great spiritual courage who had journeyed through and for his art to the depths of despair was important to the Pre Raphaelites and other artists His love for his own Dark Lady Vittoria Colonna aroused excited speculation among High Church advocates who celebrated his friendship with the deeply religious woman poet and the emerging awareness that some half of his love poetry was dedicated to a younger man Tommaso de Cavalieri was of intense interest to the aestheticians among them Oscar Wilde Walter Pater and J A Symonds who sought heroic figures from societies where masculinity was less rigorously defined In this original and beautifully illustrated study Lene stermark Johansen shows how the critical discussion of the artist s genius and work became irretrievably bound up in contemporary debates about art religion and gender and how the Romantic view of art and criticism as self expression turned the focus from the work of art to the artist himself such that the two could never again be viewed in isolation Intellectual and Imaginative Cartographies in Early Modern England Patrick Murray,2022-08-05 Taking as its focus an age of transformational development in cartographic history namely the two centuries between Columbus s arrival in the New World and the emergence of the Scientific Revolution this study examines how maps were employed as physical and symbolic objects by thinkers writers and artists It surveys how early modern people used the map as an object whether for enjoyment or political campaigning colonial invasion or teaching in the classroom Exploring a wide range of literature from educational manifestoes to the plays of Marlowe and Shakespeare it suggests that the early modern map was as diverse and various as the rich culture from which it emerged and was imbued with a whole range of political social literary and personal impulses Intellectual and Imaginative Cartographies in Early Modern England 1550 1700 will appeal to all those interested in the History of Cartography Essaying Montaigne John O'Neill,2001-05-01 John O Neill reads Montaigne s Essays from their central principle of friendship as a communicative and pedagogical practice operative in society literature and politics The friendship between Montaigne and La Bo tie was ruled neither by plenitude nor lack but by a capacity for recognition and transitivity As an essayist Montaigne is an exemplary practitioner of a technique of difference and recognition that puts all certainties of history philosophy and culture in the balance of weighted comparison The essayist reveals how every absolute subjectivity or authority is shaken by its internal weakness once we move inside the contrastive structure of domination in politics gender and race O'Neill's reading of the Essays strives to be faithful to the phenomenology of their embodied practices of reading to write to re-read and re-write From this standpoint he engages the principal critical readings of the Essays over the last century that have examined with great brilliance their history structure and psychology Whether the structure is evolutionary structuralist Marxist or psychoanalytical O'Neill provides close readings of Montaigne's literary critics By bringing to bear the ethico-critical practice of essaying to resist the subjection of the Essays to dominant criticism O'Neill reminds readers that Montaigne's appeal is in how he survived bloody cultural war with a balance of modesty and tolerance invoking compromise where others practice violence

Publisher description Rembrandt's Passion Series Simon McNamara, 2015-05-13 Rembrandt's Passion Series is the name given to five paintings of similar size and format executed over a six-year time frame 1633-39 The works were commissioned by Frederick Hendrick Prince of Orange and Stadtholder of the United Provinces for his gallery at The Hague Although each of the paintings depicts a traditional scene from the Passion of Christ they do not form anything like a complete Passion Cycle Seven years later Hendrick ordered a further two works of the same size and format of subjects from the Nativity of Christ Six of the seven paintings now hang in the Alte Pinakothek Munich As the works were executed between Rembrandt's well-documented early Leiden period and his rapid rise to prominence as a portraitist in Amsterdam the works have not attracted the scholarly attention they might although the commission was undoubtedly the most prestigious of the young Rembrandt's career Rembrandt's Passion Series is the first monograph to focus solely on this important group of paintings by the most famous artist of the Dutch Golden Age In it Simon McNamara traces the history of the commission by way of extant documentation places the works in a seventeenth-century Dutch religious milieu and shows how the series is both reflective of contemporary theological exegesis and embedded in theoretical artistic debates of the age The book also highlights the extraordinary nature of the self-images seen in three of the paintings and discusses the legacy of the series in later graphic works by Rembrandt and in paintings by his pupils In doing so Rembrandt's Passion Series presents a series of unifying factors both stylistically and thematically for the works that allows the Passion Series to be properly and finally called a series

Kissing the Wild Woman Christopher Nissen, 2011 Giulia Bigolina's ca 1516-ca 1569 Urania ca 1552 is the oldest known prose romance to have been written by an Italian woman In Kissing the Wild Woman Christopher Nissen explores the unique aesthetic vision and innovative narrative features of Bigolina's greatest surviving work in which she fashioned a new type of narrative that combined elements of the romance and the novella and included a polemical treatise on the moral implications of portraiture and the role of women in the arts Demonstrating that Bigolina challenged cultural authority by rejecting the prevailing views of both painting and literature Nissen discusses Bigolina's suggestion that painting constituted an ineffectual even immoral mode of self promotion for women in relation to the views of the contemporary writer Pietro Aretino and the painter Titian Kissing the Wild Woman's analysis of this little known work adds a new dimension to the study of Renaissance aesthetics in relation to art history Renaissance thought women's studies and Italian literature
