Books Abridged ,1958 The Animal Picture-Book. Abridged from "The Illustrated Natural History" [by J. G. Wood]. With ... Plates, Etc ,1876 Fin-de-Siècle Splendor Dewei Wang,1997 The reigning view of literary historians has been that the May Fourth movement of 1919 marks the division between the traditional and the modern in Chinese literature This book argues that signs of reform and innovation can be discerned long before May Fourth and that as China entered the arena of modern international history in the late Qing it was already developing its own complex matrix of incipient modernities It demonstrates that late Qing fiction nurtured a creative innovative poetics one that was spurned by the reformers of the May Fourth generation in favor of Western style realism The author recognizes that a full account of modern Chinese fiction needs to ask why so many genres styles themes and figures found in late imperial fiction were repressed by modern Chinese literary discourse He focuses on four genres of late Qing fiction that have been either rudely dismissed in pejorative terms or simply ignored depravity romances court case and chivalric cycles grotesque exposés and scientific fantasies The author shows that in spite of the realist orthodoxy that has dominated Chinese literature since the May Fourth movement these unwelcome genres have continually found their way back into mainstream discourse their influence being increasingly evident in recent decades This first comprehensive study of late Qing fiction discusses more than sixty works at least half of which have rarely or never been dealt with by Western or Chinese scholars Richly informed by

Dickens and the Imagined Child Peter Merchant, Catherine Waters, 2016-04-22 The figure of the child and the imaginative and emotional capacities associated with children have always been sites of lively contestation for readers and critics of Dickens In Dickens and the Imagined Child leading scholars explore the function of the child and childhood within Dickens's imagination and reflect on the cultural resonance of his engagement with this topic Part I of the collection examines the Dickensian child as both characteristic type and particular example proposing a typology of the Dickensian child that is followed by discussions of specific children in Oliver Twist Dombey and Son and Bleak House Part II focuses on the relationship between childhood and memory by examining the various ways in which the child's eye view was reabsorbed into Dickens's mature sensibility The essays in Part III focus upon reading and writing as particularly significant aspects of childhood experience from Dickens's childhood reading of tales of adventure they move to discussion of the child readers in his novels and finally to a consideration of his own early writings alongside those that his children contributed to the Gad's Hill Gazette The collection therefore builds a picture of the remembered experiences of childhood being realised anew both by Dickens and through his inspiring example in the imaginative creations that they came to inform While the protagonist of David Copperfield that favourite child among Dickens's novels comes to think of his childhood self as something which he left behind upon the road of life for Dickens himself leafing continually through his own back pages there can be no putting away of childish things
