Federal Working Group on Pest Management. Monitoring Panel,1975      Constitutional and Environmental Factors Related to Serum Lipid and Lipoprotein Levels William R. Harlan,Albert Oberman,Robert E Mitchell,Ashton Graybiel,Robert J. Wherry (Jr.),1967 Serum lipoproteins and lipids were measured in 657 men age 48 and were correlated with multiple constitutional and environmental variables The two lipoprotein groups Sf 0 12 and Sf 20 400 had a low intercorrelation and each correlated with different factors The Sf 0 12 lipoproteins were related to constitutional obesity cigarette smoking and family history of vascular disease The Sf 20 100 and Sf 100 400 lipoproteins were related to acquired obesity carbohydrate tolerance and aggressiveness and sociability as determined by personality survey Carbohydrate tolerance obesity and personality were apparently independent variables Serum triglyceride levels correlated with the same

variables as the Sf 20 400 lipoproteins serum cholesterol levels were related to factors that correlated with both lipoprotein groups High levels above 90th percentile of each lipoprotein fraction and each lipid were associated with significantly greater quantities of the variables found to be correlated with each lipid fraction The prevalence of familial hyperlipidemias was low approximately 3 4% but 18 per cent of individuals with elevated cholesterol and a high risk of coronary heart disease could be tentatively classified as having a type of familial hyperlipidemia Author WHO training package on

Handbook of Environmental Economics Karl-Goran Maler,Jeffrey R. Vincent,2005-12-09 Much applied environmental economics is concerned with the valuation of changes in environmental quality Obtaining reliable valuation estimates requires attention to theoretical and econometric issues that are often quite subtle Volume 2 of the Handbook of Environmental Economics presents both the theory and the practice of environmental valuation It synthesizes the vast literature that has accumulated since the publication of the Handbook of Natural Resource and Energy Economics two decades ago It includes chapters on individual valuation methods written by researchers responsible for fundamental advances in those methods It also includes cross cutting chapters that deal with aspects of welfare theory uncertainty experimental methods and public health that are pertinent to valuation Throughout the volume attention is paid to research and policy issues that arise not only in high income countries where most of the theory and econometrics that underlie applied valuation methods have been developed but also in poorer parts of the world The volume provides a state of the art reference for scholars and practitioners alike

Paths to a Green World, second edition Jennifer Clapp, Peter Dauvergne, 2011-03-11 A new edition of a book that takes a comprehensive look at the ways economic processes affect global environmental outcomes This comprehensive and accessible book fills the need for a political economy view of global environmental politics focusing on the ways international economic processes affect environmental outcomes It examines the main actors and forces shaping global environmental management particularly in the developing world Moving beyond the usual emphasis on international agreements and institutions it strives to capture not only academic theoretical debates but also views on politics economics and the environment within the halls of global conferences on the streets during antiglobalization protests and in the boardrooms of international agencies nongovernmental organizations and industry associations The book maps out an original typology of four contrasting worldviews of environmental change those of market liberals institutionalists bioenvironmentalists and social greens and uses them as a framework to examine the links between the global political economy and ecological change This typology provides a common language for students instructors and scholars to discuss the issues across the classical social science divisions The second edition of this popular text has been thoroughly revised and updated to reflect recent events including the food crisis of 2007 2008 the financial meltdown of 2008 and the Copenhagen Climate Conference of 2009 Topics covered include the environmental implications of globalization wealth poverty and consumption global trade transnational corporations and multilateral and private finance

Handbook of Environmental Economics Karl-Göran Mäler, Jeffrey R. Vincent, 2003 The Handbook of Environmental Economics focuses on the economics of environmental externalities and environmental public goods Volume I examines environmental degradation and policy responses from a microeconomic institutional standpoint Its perspective is dynamic including a consideration of the dynamics of natural systems and global with attention paid to issues in both rich and poor nations In addition to chapters on well established topics such as the theory and practice of pollution regulation it includes chapters on new areas of environmental economics research related to common property management regimes population and poverty mechanism design political economy of regulation experimental evaluations of policy instruments and technological change
