The Origins of Alliance Stephen M. Walt, 2013-08-09 How are alliances made In this book Stephen M Walt makes a significant contribution to this topic surveying theories of the origins of international alliances and identifying the most important causes of security cooperation between states In addition he proposes a fundamental change in the present conceptions of alliance systems Contrary to traditional balance of power theories Walt shows that states form alliances not simply to balance power but in order to balance threats Walt begins by outlining five general hypotheses about the causes of alliances Drawing upon diplomatic history and a detailed study of alliance formation in the Middle East between 1955 and 1979 he demonstrates that states are more likely to join together against threats than they are to ally themselves with threatening powers Walt also examines the impact of ideology on alliance preferences and the role of foreign aid and transnational penetration His analysis show however that these motives for alignment are relatively less important In his conclusion he examines the implications of balance of threat for U S foreign policy

Soviet Foreign Policy and Southeast Asia (Routledge Revivals) Leszek Buszynski, 2013-09-13 This book focuses on the activity of the Soviet Union in Southeast Asia and the effects of Soviet policy on the region from 1969 to the time of first publication in 1986 In particular Leszek Buszynski examines the rivalry between the Soviet Union and China Soviet presence in Vietnam and the responsive efforts of surrounding regions towards collective security U S policy in the region is a key consideration particularly in terms of American attempts to placate China and encourage Japan to assist in the defence of the region With a concluding assessment of regional trends and possible outcomes this is an important and valuable work for students and scholars with an interest in the history and politics of international diplomacy in Southeast Asia

Model Or Ally? Richard Löwenthal, 1977 An attempt to interpret Soviet and Chinese policy towards the developing countries from two angles the efforts to win imitation for their system as a model and the efforts to win support for their overall international policies from existing governments

Rethinking Theory and History in the Cold War Richard Saull, 2001 Rethinking Theory and History in the Cold War focuses on what we mean by politics and international relations and how such assumptions have come to determine our understanding of the Cold War Using an historical materialist method the author criticizes conventional conceptions of international politics that tend to focus on the agency of and relations among states and offers an alternative historical sociology of the Cold War through an analysis of the relationship between formal political authority and socio economic production Seen from this perspective the state the modern conceptions of politics can be seen as products of a capitalist modernity in which politics is based on the separation of the spheres of politics in the state and economics in civil society

BOOK JACKET The Third World in Soviet Military Thought Mark Katz, 2012-07-26 First published in 1982 this study traces the development of Soviet military thinking on the Third World and assesses its importance for the conduct of Soviet foreign policy Changes in Soviet military thought often reflect changes in Soviet attitudes towards and expectations

from involvement in Third World conflicts This work from Dr Katz meditates upon the changing role of the USSR in post war Third World conflicts with particular emphasis upon the Brezhnev era and the way in which US setbacks in the Third World impacted upon Soviet foreign policy and changing attitudes to the Third World Problems of Communism ,1979 The USSR and Latin America Eusebio Mujal-León,2022-12-28 The USSR and Latin America 1989 is an authoritative analysis of the Soviet Union s strategy and policy towards the region The contributors cover a variety of topics including Latin America s place in Soviet strategy for the developing world US perceptions of Soviet strategy in the region Soviet Cuban relations and relations between Latin American communist parties and the USSR Hearings United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs,1972 Market in State Yongnian Zheng,Yanjie Huang,2018-09-06 Uses the framework of market in state to argue that the Chinese economy is state centered dominated by political principles over economic principles The Sino-American Alliance John W. Garver,2015-06-03 This study provides an analysis of the role the United States alliance with Nationalist China played in US strategy to contain first the Sino Soviet alliance and then China during the 1950s and 1960s Japan and the Sino-Soviet Alliance, 1950-1964 C. Braddick,2003-12-09 Japan and the Sino Soviet Alliance 1950 1964 reveals the divisive impact of the Sino Soviet Alliance on Japanese domestic politics and foreign relations during the turbulent years between 1950 and 1964 Drawing on extensive Japanese sources and unprecedented access to previously classified government documents C W Braddick exposes the myths shrouding this formative era in Japan s postwar development Stalin's Successors Seweryn Bialer,2001 This book provides a comprehensive overview of the ways in which the structure and process of Soviet politics have been transformed since Stalin s death and particularly during the years of the Brezhnev regime In explaining the Soviet Union s political stability the author analyzes the Soviet combination of harsh authoritarian rule with political flexibility in the treatment of its citizens and he describes the social processes that contribute to this stability He also analyzes the Soviet perception of the current international situation and discusses trends in Soviet foreign policy including the imbalance between military power on the one hand and political economic ideological and cultural resources on the other Professor Bialer explains the Soviet concept of détente and explores the difference between Soviet and American perceptions of this process A major part of the work is devoted to an examination of the imminent succession of the Soviet leadership The book gives a profile of the new generation of potential leaders and identifies the characteristics that make them different from those whom they will replace The Soviet leadership while embroiled in its succession struggle will have to make difficult decisions concerning the allocation of national resources and overall changes in management planning and incentives Professor Bialer concludes by analyzing the kinds of economic reform that could make the problems manageable and the conditions under which the new Soviet leadership will need to institute reforms Documents on Israeli-Soviet Relations, 1941-1953 , Newsletter ,1976 Newsletter United States.
