On Art Connoisseurship:

On Art and Connoisseurship Max J. Friedlander, 2011-11-29 AMONG art historians of today there is hardly anyone who enjoys a position comparable to that of Dr Max J Friedlander He is universally recognized as being probably the greatest living expert notably of course on the early Netherlandish and German masters and in normal times not a day passed on which pictures were not submitted to him for opinion from all parts of the world But he is much more than the mere accomplished expert worried without respite by people eager for his verdict on their possessions the list of his writings all of them revealing the outlook of the born historian makes a truly imposing series culminating in his monumental History of Early Netherlandish Painting issued from 1924 onwards in fourteen substantial volumes And for a long time the whole of this ceaseless activity had for its background Dr Friedlander's connection with the Berlin Picture Gallery and Print Room their marvellous growth during the period in question owes in fact an enormous debt to the distinguished scholar whose career as an official came to an end in 1933 when Dr Friedlander relinquished the post as Head of the great Picture Gallery to which he had been appointed as Wilhelm von Bode's successor It is indeed the very aroma of that institution in its best days which pervades the whole activity of one of the greatest of those who stand to it in the relation of at once alumnus and creator

On Art and Connoisseurship Max J. Friedländer, Tancred Borenius, 1946 Art Market and Connoisseurship Anna Tummers, Koenraad Jonckheere, 2008 The question of whether seventeenth century painters such as Rembrandt and Rubens were exclusively responsible for the paintings later sold under their names has caused many a heated debate Despite the rise of scholarship on the history of the art market much is still unknown about the ways in which paintings were produced assessed priced and marketed during this period which leads to several provocative questions did contemporary connoisseurs expect masters such as Rembrandt to paint works entirely by their own hand Who was credited with the ability to assess paintings as genuine The contributors to this engaging collection Eric Jan Sluijter Hans Van Miegroet and Neil De Marchi among them trace these issues through the booming art market of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries arriving at fascinating and occasionally unexpected conclusions On Art and Connoisseurship Max Julius Friedlaender, Tancred Borenius, 1941

Spaces of Connoisseurship Alison Clarke, 2022-07-18 In Spaces of Connoisseurship Alison Clarke explores the who where and how of judging Old Master paintings in the nineteenth century British art trade She describes how the staff at family art dealers Thomas Agnew Sons Agnew's and London's National Gallery took advantage of emerging technologies such as the railways and photography Through encounters with pictures in a range of locations both private and public these art market actors could build up the visual memory and necessary expertise to compare artworks and judge them in terms of attribution condition and beauty Also explored are the display tactics adopted by both commercial outfit and art museum to showcase pictures once acquired In a time of ever spiralling art prices this book tackles the question of why some paintings are preferred over others and exactly how art experts reach their judgements Connoisseurship

Christina M. Anderson, Peter Stewart, 2023 This collection of essays considers the concept of connoisseurship afresh by investigating its practice in familiar places such as Western art history while also incorporating a global perspective with Chinese numismatics and walnut collecting wine and coffee expertise the market for geological specimens and the resonances between Morellian connoisseurship and modern forensics These essays resonate with one another in surprising ways and create new dialogues about connoisseurship's meaning and application demonstrating that its practice can be both intuitive and scientific

The American Leonardo John Brewer, 2009-10-05 In The American Leonardo John Brewer uses the dramatic controversy over La Belle Ferronnière as a vehicle to reveal how authority expertise and value are all culturally derived and situated The legal battle over the Hahn Belle raised larger questions about how attributions are made how they affect both the status and value of art works and how the entire system of art dealers curators and connoisseurs authenticates works of art

Networks and Practices of Connoisseurship in the Global Eighteenth Century Valérie Kobi, Kristel Smentek, Chonja Lee, 2023-12-31 The 18th century was the age of the connoisseur It was also an era of an expanding global consciousness born of accelerating trade and imperial conquest This volume puts into dialogue the consolidation of connoisseurship as an empirical mode of artistic analysis in Europe and Asia and the increasing exposure to different modes of artmaking facilitated by local and global networks over the course of the long 18th century Focusing on exchanges between India Japan China and Europe the contributors to this volume examine the complex and nuanced impacts on connoisseurial practice of encounters with artworks from different regions of the globe the international networks that made those encounters possible and the intricate transactions through which connoisseurial knowledge of art was generated Expansive focus on practices and networks in India Japan and Europe in the 18th century Complexities and asymmetries of connoisseurship in an expanding world

The Palgrave Handbook on Art Crime Saskia Hufnagel, Duncan Chappell, 2019-06-27 This handbook showcases studies on art theft fraud and forgeries cultural heritage offences and related legal and ethical challenges It has been authored by prominent scholars practitioners and journalists in the field and includes both overviews of particular art crime issues as well as regional and national case studies It is one of the first scholarly books in the current art crime literature that can be utilised as an immediate authoritative reference source or teaching tool It also includes a bibliographic guide to the current literature across interdisciplinary boundaries Apart from legal criminological archeological and historical perspectives on theft fraud and looting this volume contains chapters on iconoclasm and graffiti underwater cultural heritage the trade in human remains and the trade theft and forgery of papyri The book thereby hopes to encourage scholars from a wider variety of disciplines to contribute their valuable knowledge to art crime research The Connoisseur ,1905 The Rise of the Stylist Philip Clarke,2024-07-25 The Rise of the Stylist examines the social factors that contributed to the stylist becoming a key role in fashion image making The 1980s stylist is presented as a cultural intermediary and auteur as commercial compass and avant garde innovator Focusing on London from 1980 to 1990 Philip Clarke draws on oral history interviews with the young creatives who were involved in the specific subcultural scenes educational environments and new modes of publishing that informed a unique moment in British cultural life By documenting the history of the stylist in fashion and dress as well as their contribution to fields such as food photography and car manufacture this study looks beyond the style press and bridges the gap between production and promotion The Rise of the Stylist defines the specific nature of the stylist s role in relation to that of other creative occupations and locates discussion of styling within the context of postmodern society where political shifts technological developments and changing attitudes in all fields of cultural production are reflected in the manufacture and dissemination of fashion Mariette and the Science of the Connoisseur in Eighteenth-Century Europe Kristel Smentek,2017-07-05 Celebrated connoisseur drawings collector print dealer book publisher and authority on the art of antiquity Pierre Jean Mariette 1694 1774 was a pivotal figure in the eighteenth century European art world Focusing on the trajectory of Mariette s career this book examines the material practices and social networks through which connoisseurs forged the idea of art as an object of empirical and historical analysis Drawing on significant unpublished archival material as well as on histories of science publishing collecting and display this book shows how Mariette and his colleagues practices of classification and interpretation of the graphic arts gave rise to new conceptions of artistic authorship and to a history of art that transcended the biographies of individual artists To follow Mariette s career through the eighteenth century is to see that art was consolidated as a specialized category of intellectual inquiry and that style emerged as its structuring analytic device in the overlapping spaces of the collector s cabinet the connoisseur s portfolio and the dealer s shop Moments of Valuation Ariane Berthoin Antal,Michael Hutter,David Stark,2015 The outcome of innovation processes are determined by complex historically grown valuation practices In this book a wide range of innovations are taken into consideration from small inventions like entertainment novelties to large societal changes through new technologies The chapters observe the particular local or distributed sites in which their episodes of innovation take place and they identify the initial dissonance among those judging a newly proposed alternative The emphasis of the inquiry however is on the practices of valuation that are at work when something succeeds in being new The authors represent a wide variety of sub disciplines and national backgrounds in the social sciences They share an interest in social valuation and a pragmatist approach The differences between their empirical evidence reflect the wide variety of appearances that valuation takes in contemporary society They are anthropologists economic or cultural sociologists organization researchers historians or political scientists A number of chapters deals with aesthetic valuation as in the tasting of a new vintage or in the socio technical process that shaped successful synthesizer sounds Other chapters discuss the judgment processes in organizations like architect offices or consultancy firms and processes of evaluation and valorization in larger fields of practice like accounting or mathematics The studies are both of interest in their various professional fields and contribute to a more general understanding of the social and cultural conditions under which innovations fail and succeed

The Expert Versus the Object Ronald D.

Spencer,2004-04 The authenticity of art has always commanded the attention of experts dealers collectors and the art minded public especially those who relish the Robin Hoods of art forgery who deceive rich collectors and pompous experts This book of essays edited by a lawyer specializing in art law and authenticity proposes to make the question of authenticity more easily understood The main points to be argued are 1 that the perception of form in a work of art is not unlike other types of evidence accepted in courts of law 2 that in determining authenticity experts must adopt a careful organized approach and 3 that all authentication should be based on the consensus of experts at arm s length from an object

Encyclopædia Britannica, Or, Dictionary of Arts, Sciences and General Literature Thomas Stewart Traill,1859 The Eye of the Connoisseur Anna

Tummers, 2011. Attributing old master paintings is one of the most demanding tasks of the art historian. The stakes can be high, especially when the work in question might indeed be the hand of a great master. The difference in price between an authentic work and one in the manner of a well-known artist can add up to several million dollars. In addition to the financial consequences, a revised attribution can also have dramatic consequences for our understanding of art history. In her fascinating account of connoisseurship in action, Tummers highlights issues regarding the attribution of seventeenth-century Dutch and Flemish art.
