QDR 2001: Strategy-Driven Choices for America's Security, QDR 2001, STRATEGY-DRIVEN CHOICES FOR AMERICA'S SECURITY... U.S. DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE, 2002 Charting a Course: Strategic Choices for a New Administration Richard D. Hooker (Jr.), 2016 Excerpt from Charting a Course Strategic Choices for a New Administration

The new administration takes office in a time of great complexity Our new President faces a national security environment shaped by strong currents globalization the proliferation of new poor and weak states as well as nonstate actors an enduring landscape of violent extremist organizations slow economic growth the rise of China and a revanchist Russia a collapsing Middle East and a domestic politics wracked by division and mistrust While in absolute terms the Nation and the world are safer than in the last century today the United States finds itself almost on a permanent war footing engaged in military operations around the world No formal document describes a grand strategy for the United States and indeed many academics deny that one exists Yet a close look at our history as a world power suggests that core interests and how we secure them have remained generally consistent over time If grand strategy rises above particular strategies intended to secure particular objectives many decades of focusing on nuclear deterrence power projection alliances and partnerships and military and economic strength probably constitute the underpinnings of a coherent grand strategy How we employ and leverage these instruments of national power to protect defend and advance the national interest is after all the essence of grand strategy In a dangerous world these pillars have provided a strong foundation for national security If our domestic politics can achieve consensus on future threats and solutions America is well positioned to lead and prosper in a world that will remain both dangerous and uncertain R D Hooker Jr Director Institute for National Strategic Studies National Defense University Washington D C Related items Policy Analysis in National Security Affairs New Methods for a New Era can be found here <https://bookstore.gpo.gov/products/sku/008/020/01561/0> Operationalizing Counter Threat Finance Strategies can be found here <https://bookstore.gpo.gov/products/sku/008/000/01131/1> American Defense Policy Paul J. Options United States. Congress. House. Committee on Armed Services,2001 U.S. National Military Strategy Art,2013-02-01 A Grand Strategy for America Robert J. Art,2013-02-01 The United States today is the most powerful nation in the world perhaps even stronger than Rome was during its heyday It is likely to remain the world s preeminent power for at least several decades to come What behavior is appropriate for such a powerful state To answer this question Robert J Art concentrates on grand strategy the deployment of military power in both peace and war to support foreign policy goals He first defines America s contemporary national interests and the specific threats they face then identifies seven grand strategies that the United States might contemplate examining each in relation to America s interests The seven are dominion forcibly trying to remake the world in America s own image global collective security attempting to keep the peace everywhere regional collective security confining peacekeeping efforts to Europe cooperative security seeking to reduce the occurrence of war by limiting other states offensive capabilities isolationism withdrawing from all military involvement beyond U S borders containment holding the line against aggressor states and selective engagement choosing to prevent or to become involved only in those conflicts that pose a threat to the country s long term interests Art makes a strong case for selective engagement as the most desirable strategy for contemporary America It is the one that seeks to forestall dangers not simply react to them that is politically viable at home and abroad and that protects all U S interests both essential and desirable Art concludes that selective engagement is not a strategy for all times but it is the best grand strategy for these times Military Review ,2003 US
