Quality Education For All:

Achieving Quality Education for All Phillip Hughes, 2012-11-13 Due to the development of the international Education for All and Education for Sustainable Development movements for which UNESCO is the lead agency there has been an increasing emphasis on the power of education and schooling to help build more just and equitable societies Thus giving everyone the opportunity to develop their talents to the full regardless of characteristics such as gender socio economic status ethnicity religious persuasion or regional location As enshrined in the United Nations Declaration on Human Rights over five decades ago everyone has the right to receive a high quality and relevant education In order to try to achieve this ideal many countries are substantially re engineering their education systems with an increasing emphasis on promoting equity and fairness and on ensuring that everyone has access to a high quality and relevant education They are also moving away from the traditional outlook of almost exclusively stressing formal education in schools as the most valuable way in which people learn to accepting that important and valuable learning does not just occur in formal dedicated education institutions but also through informal and non formal means Thus learning is both lifelong and life wide This book brings together the experience and research of 40 recognised and experienced opinion leaders in education around the world The book investigates the most effective ways of ensuring the UNESCO aim of effective education for all people in the belief that not only should education be a right for all but also that education and schooling has the potential to transform individual lives and to contribute to the development of more just humane and equitable societies Quality Education for All Dean H. EDUCONOMY Maria-Teresa Lepeley, 2019-01-01 Investing in People is the world priority of the 21st century The wellbeing of people is at the center of the agendas of the World Bank International Monetary Fund UN OECD ILO and all major development organizations But the concern for people is not new The celebrated books of Economics Nobel Awardees Theodore Schultz's Investing in People The Economics of Population Quality and Gary Becker's Human Capital were published decades ago and challenged the same human dilemma Yet with few exceptions most countries are still struggling for effective formulas to put people at the center of development The core issue is that investing in people means improving the quality of education for all But the main problem is that countries continue to take education as an expense not as an investment in people National budgets consider education as a sunken cost rather than as an investment expected to produce high returns to secure quality improvement as necessary condition for sustainability Shortcomings are abundant but one thing is certain unless the quality of education for all is placed front and center in development agendas chances for progress in the VUCA volatile uncertain complex ambiguous environment are curtailed human centered sustainability and wellbeing will be restrained and inequality will persist The main problem it is not income inequality it is education inequality In the Knowledge Economy the human as resources formula is no longer working Segmentation of the economy and education is probing increasingly counterproductive The EDUCONOMY is a human centered structure for progress to optimize returns and minimize costs of investing in people Gallup and Brandon Busteed coined the concept Educonomy to enhance the importance of quality in education backed up by extensive surveys and data bases Lepeley's EDUCONOMY Unleashing Wellbeing and Human Centered Sustainable Development takes the discussion into new dimensions and addresses the complexity of the challenges People are the DNA of Sustainable Development Says Lepeley challenging old constructs and presenting innovative formulas pioneering human centered economics and economics of wellbeing that frame
