Quaqtaq Modernity And Identity In An Inuit Community:

Quaqtaq Louis-Jacques Dorais,1997-01-01 Dorais examines how the Inuit community of Quaqtaq a small village on Hudson Strait has managed to preserve its identity in the modern world He points to three things kinship religion and language

Language, Politics, and Social Interaction in an Inuit Community Donna Patrick,2003 Since the early 1970s the Inuit of Arctic Quebec have struggled to survive economically and culturally in a rapidly changing northern environment The promotion and maintenance of Inuktitut their native language through language policy and Inuit control over institutions have played a major role in this struggle Language Politics and Social Interaction in an Inuit Community is a study of indigenous language maintenance in an Arctic Quebec community where four languages Inuktitut Cree French and English are spoken It examines the role that dominant and minority languages play in the social life of this community linking historical analysis with an ethnographic study of face to face interaction and attitudes towards learning and speaking second and third languages in everyday life

A Liberating Spirit Michael Wilkinson,Steven M. Studebaker,2010-09-13 The historical ambivalence among Pentecostals about their relationship to culture and society needs evaluation How do we understand Pentecostal engagement with society and how are Pentecostals in North America engaging issues of race class gender and ecology What theologically motivates North American Pentecostals to respond to social issues What categories best explain Pentecostal responses to social issues in North America How do they compare to Pentecostal responses elsewhere Recently scholars of global Pentecostalism have proposed that the experience of the Spirit among Pentecostals has elicited the development of a Pentecostal theology of liberation which has implications for understanding Pentecostal responses to social issues These projects primarily explore the Pentecostal response to cultural issues in areas outside of North America and especially focus on Africa Asia and Latin America This volume assesses whether the categories of social liberation applied to non Western Pentecostalism characterize Pentecostalism in North America Is there evidence of a Pentecostal theology of liberation that explains Pentecostal engagement in North America Do social liberation categories fit the North American Pentecostal responses to social issues or are others more suitable These and other important questions about the relation between liberation theology and North American Pentecostalism are thoroughly explored in this important collection of essays

Food Sharing in Human Societies Nobuhiro Kishigami,2022-01-01 This book explores why human beings share food with others using a humanistic anthropological approach This book provides a comparative examination of distinct features and historical changes in food sharing practices in various hunting gathering societies especially in the Inuit The author considers human nature through various human food sharing practices Food sharing is a characteristic of human behavior and has been one of the central topics in anthropological studies of hunter gatherers for a long time While anthropologists have attempted to understand it in functional historical adaptational social cultural psychological or phenomenological perspective they have failed to convincingly explain its origin variation existence or and change Recently evolutionary ecology or behavioral ecology has dominated research of the topic However neither of them adequately considers social cultural and historical factors in the analysis of human food sharing practices This book is an essential and fundamental study for every researcher interested in the relationship between human nature society and culture

Traditions, Traps and Trends Jarich Oosten, Barbara Helen Miller, 2018-07-23 The transfer of knowledge is a key issue in the North as Indigenous Peoples meet the ongoing need to adapt to cultural and environmental change In eight essays experts survey critical issues surrounding the knowledge practices of the Inuit of northern Canada and Greenland and the Northern Sami of Scandinavia and the difficulties of transferring that knowledge from one generation to the next Reflecting the ongoing work of the Research Group Circumpolar Cultures these multidisciplinary essays offer fresh understandings through history and across geography as scholars analyze cultural ecological and political aspects of peoples in transition Traditions Traps and Trends is an important book for students and scholars in anthropology and ethnography and for everyone interested in the Circumpolar North Contributors Cunera Buijs Frédéric Laugrand Barbara Helen Miller Thea Olsthoorn Jarich Oosten Willem Rasing Kim van Dam Nellejet Zorgdrager The Return of the Sun Michael J. Kral, 2019 The Return of the Sun shows how Indigenous communities can develop on their own successful suicide prevention strategies Kral details how government colonialism disrupted Inuit lives especially family lives Hunters, Predators and Prey Frédéric Laugrand, Jarich Oosten, 2014-10-01 Inuit hunting traditions are rich in perceptions practices and stories relating to animals and human beings The authors examine key figures such as the raven an animal that has a central place in Inuit culture as a creator and a trickster and qupirruit a category consisting of insects and other small life forms After these non social and inedible animals they discuss the dog the companion of the hunter and the fellow hunter the bear considered to resemble a human being A discussion of the renewal of whale hunting accompanies the chapters about animals considered prey par excellence the caribou the seals and the whale symbol of the whole By giving precedence to Inuit categories such as inua owner and tarniq shade over European concepts such as spirit and soul the book compares and contrasts human beings and animals to provide a better understanding of human animal relationships in a hunting society Papers of the Fortieth Algonquian Conference Karl S. Hele, J. Randolph Valentine, 2012-10-01 Papers of the fortieth Algonquian Conference held at the University of Minnesota Twin Cities in October 2008 For nearly half a century the papers of the Algonquian Conference have served as the primary source of peer reviewed scholarship addressing topics related to the languages and societies of Algonquian peoples Contributions which are peer reviewed submissions presented at the annual conference represent an assortment of humanities and social science disciplines including archeology cultural anthropology history ethnohistory linguistics literary studies Native studies social work film and countless others Both theoretical and descriptive approaches are welcomed and submissions often provide previously unpublished data from historical and contemporary sources or novel theoretical insights based on firsthand research The research is commonly interdisciplinary in scope and the papers are filled with contributions presenting fresh research from a broad array of researchers and writers. These papers are essential reading for those interested in Algonquian world views, cultures, history, and languages. They build bridges among a large international group of people who write in different disciplines. Scholars in linguistics, anthropology, history, education, and other fields are brought together in one vital community thanks to these publications.

Time in Child Inuktitut Mary D. Swift, 2008-08-22. This book presents a study of the development of time reference in young children acquiring Inuktitut as a first language. The first such study of an Eskimo-Aleut language, its account of children's development of time reference in a system that is fundamentally different from those found in languages previously studied makes a unique contribution to the literature on the acquisition of tense and aspect. Drawing on longitudinal spontaneous speech data from eight Inuit children between 2 and 3 and a half years old, this study analyzes the temporal structures, their meanings, and context of use in children's communicative interactions with siblings, peers, and caretakers during the early stages of language development. The comprehensive study of previously unexplored temporal phenomena and its unprecedented findings makes this book an important resource for researchers, teachers, and students of child language development, especially the development of time reference. In addition, the documentation of the Inuktitut temporal system, especially as used in conversational speech, will be of interest to researchers of time reference.

Healing Traditions Laurence J. Kirmayer, Gail Guthrie Valaskakis, 2009-05-01. Aboriginal peoples in Canada have diverse cultures but share common social and political challenges that have contributed to their experiences of health and illness. This collection addresses the origins of mental health and social problems and the emergence of culturally responsive approaches to services and health promotion. Healing Traditions is not a handbook of practice but a resource for thinking critically about current issues in the mental health of indigenous peoples. Cross-cutting themes include the impact of colonialism, sedentarization, and forced assimilation; the importance of land for indigenous identity; and an ecocentric self and processes of healing and spirituality as sources of resilience.
