Art of Illusion Dan Karlholm, 2006 To survey art history as a whole was a pressing task for a generation of German scholars around the mid nineteenth century Their projections of a historicist chain of artworks ranged from textual narratives without illustrations to separate picture compendia as well as images of a more allegorical kind Other means with which to picture art history as part of a virtually all encompassing cultural history were the museums of art erected in Germany at the time in Berlin and Munich especially This book deals with practices of representing art history in various media This includes post Hegelian texts and engravings of art history from the 1840s onwards by Franz Kugler Julius Schnorr and others In addition works of art of the late twentieth century by Andy Warhol Anselm Kiefer and others provide opportunities to speculate on the after effects and discursive traces of the old regime Extending the concept of historiography to include not just textual or institutional endeavours but a host of different images as well from reproductive prints to pop paintings and visual archives of the digital era this study is intended to contribute in new ways to a critical historiography of the field of art history and visual culture today Central Asia Reader: The Rediscovery of History H.B. Paksoy, 2016-09-16 An anthology translated from original languages and annotated which documents the rediscovery of history and aims to establish foundations for current political action and cultural revival in the Turkic regions of the former Soviet Union

Revisioning History Robert A. Rosenstone, 2020-03-31 In Revisioning History thirteen historians from around the world look at the historical film on its own terms not as it compares to written history but as a unique way of recounting the past How does film construct a historical world What are the rules codes and strategies by which it brings the past to life What does that historical construction mean to us In grappling with these questions each contributor looks at an example of New History cinema Different from Hollywood costume dramas or documentary films these films are serious efforts to come to grips with the past they have often grown out of nations engaged in an intense quest for historical connections such as India Cuba Japan and Germany The volume begins with an introduction by Robert Rosenstone Part I Contesting History comprises essays by Geoff Eley on the film Distant Voices Still Lives Nicholas B Dirks The Home and the World Thomas Kierstead and Deidre Lynch Eijanaika and Pierre Sorlin Night of the Shooting Stars Contributing to Part II Visioning History are Michael S Roth Hiroshima Mon Amour John Mraz Memories of Underdevelopment Min Soo Kang The Moderns and Clayton R Koppes Radio Bikini Part III Revisioning History contains essays by Denise J Youngblood Repentance Rudy Koshar Hitler A Film from Germany Rosenstone Walker Sumiko Higashi Walker and Mississippi Burning and Daniel Sipe From the Pole to the Equator

Post-Structuralism and the Question of History Derek Attridge, Geoff Bennington, Robert Young, 1987 Recent developments in literary theory such as structuralism and deconstruction have come under attack for neglecting history while historically based approaches have been criticized for failing to take account of the problems inherent in their methodological foundations This collection of essays is unique in that it focuses on the relation between post structuralism and historical especially Marxist literary theory and criticism The volume includes a deconstructive reading of Marx essays that relate history to the philosophical and institutional context and a number of studies of particular texts literary and non literary which pose the question of history and literary theory with particular force

explorations of relationships he believes have been insufficiently theorized between experience and identity between history and various theories of subjectivity between extreme events and their representation between institutional structures and the kinds of knowledge produced within them Taken together these discussions form a dialogical encounter positing the links among epistemological questions historicist ones and issues pertaining to disciplinary and institutional politics Reacting against the antitheoretical bias of some prominent historians LaCapra presents an alternative model of historiographical practice one in which emphases on plurality and hybridity are combined with the concept of historical experience For LaCapra experience emerges as a category both theoretically determined and anchored in the facticity of the everyday LaCapra tests the assumptions and implications of the way one approaches the past by looking to psychoanalysis to render more self aware the relationship between the historian and his or her material He offers criticisms of assumptions held by practicing historians and theorists placing the study of history at the center of a larger argument about the role of the contemporary university Contesting both corporatization and claims that the university is in ruins LaCapra writes It is paradoxical that the demand to make the university conform to an ever increasing extent to a market or business model seems oblivious to the fact that the American university has probably been the most successful of its type in the world that students from other countries disproportionately desire to study in it Nietzsche on Time and History Manuel

Dries,2008-11-06 In 1885 Nietzsche insisted that from now on philosophy was only acceptable as the most general form of history as an attempt somehow to describe Heraclitean becoming and to abbreviate it into signs Taking this remark as a starting point the aim of this volume is to examine the intricate relationship between Nietzsche s philosophy of time and his philosophy of history The questions that arise include What are the new conceptions of time that Nietzsche has to offer What kind of historian was Nietzsche himself What kinds of temporalized histories and historicized philosophies did he write or fail to write This collection of essays written by fourteen academics including eminent figures such as John Richardson Raymond Geuss Lawrence J Hatab and Andrea Orsucci constitute essential reading for specialists of Nietzsche and will also appeal to a larger audience of intellectual historians philosophers and others who are interested in the development of modern thought

Cultural History After Foucault John Neubauer,2018-01-18 Both as historian and maker of culture Foucault infused numerous disciplines of study with a new conceptual vocabulary and an agenda for future research His ideas have called central assumptions in Western culture into question and altered the ways in which scholars and social scientists approach such issues as discourse theory theory of knowledge Eros technologies of the Self and Other punishment and prisons and asylums and madness The contributors to this volume indicate Foucault s achievements and the suggestive power of his work as well as his methodological weaknesses historical inaccuracies and ambiguities Above all they attempt to show how one can use Foucault to go beyond him in opening new approaches to cultural history Though comprehensiveness was not attempted their essays broach the major controversial aspects of Foucauldian cultural history the position of the subject the fusion of power and knowledge sexuality the historical structures and changes and they explicitly analyze them with respect to antiquity the Renaissance and the nineteenth century In this collection Neubauer presents analyses by historians literary scholars and philosophers of the entire transdisciplinary range of Foucault s oeuvre emphasizing the rich suggestiveness of its agenda The breadth of the undertaking makes it suitable for seminars and graduate courses in numerous departments

The Legal History of the Church of England Norman Doe, Stephen Coleman, 2024-02-22 This book provides the first comprehensive analysis of the principal legal landmarks in the evolution of the law of the established Church of England from the Reformation to the present day It explores the foundations of ecclesiastical law and considers its crucial role in the development of the Church of England over the centuries The law has often been the site of major political and theological controversies within and outside the church including the Reformation itself the English civil war the Restoration and rise of religious toleration the impact of the industrial revolution the ritualist disputes of the 19th century and the rise of secularisation in the twentieth The book examines key statutes canons case law and other instruments in fields such as church governance and ministry doctrine and liturgy rites of passage from baptism to burial and church property Each chapter studies a broadly 50 year period analysing it in terms of continuity and change explaining the laws by reference to politics and theology and evaluating the significance of the legal landmarks for the development of church law and its place in wider English society

Frontiers of Historical Imagination Kerwin Lee Klein, 2023-11-15 The American frontier a potent symbol since Europeans first stepped ashore on North America serves as the touchstone for Kerwin Klein s analysis of the narrating of history Klein explores the traditions through which historians philosophers anthropologists and literary critics have understood the story of America s origin and the way those understandings have shaped and been shaped by changing conceptions of history The American West was once the frontier space where migrating Europe collided with Native America where the historical civilizations of the Old World met the nonhistorical wilds of the New It was not only the cultural combat zone where American democracy was forged but also the ragged edge of History itself where historical and nonhistorical defied and defined each other Klein maintains that the idea of a collision between people with and without history still dominates public memory But the collision he believes resounds even more powerfully in the historical imagination which creates conflicts between narration and knowledge and carries them into the language used to describe the American frontier In Klein s words We remain obscurely entangled in philosophies of history we no longer profess and the very idea of America balances on history s shifting frontiers The American frontier a potent symbol since Europeans first stepped ashore on North America serves as the touchstone for Kerwin Klein s analysis of the narrating of history Klein explores the traditions through which historians philosophers anthropol
