Redpath Vol 1 The History Of A Sugar House:

Redpath Richard Feltoe,1991-08-15 Redpath today a household name for sugar in Canada has its roots in the story of an enterprising Scots immigrant initially a stone mason and later a building contractor during the boom days of Montreal's growth from a small provincial centre to a major North American city In 1854 the ever energetic John Redpath by then a self made millionaire in his late fifties launched a new career as an industrialist With his son Peter and the gifted George Alexander Drummond as manager he established Canada's first successful sugar refinery The Redpath story encompasses the influence of sugar as an economic force the emergence of the elegant social life of cosmopolitan Montreal and a hind sight view of the complexities of the love hate relationship between government and business This the first of two volumes moves through Canada's period of extensive industrialization to the turn of the century the impact of World War I and concludes in the post war years Throughout this period the familiar Redpath trademark a reproduction of John Redpath's signature is a reminder of the heritage inherent in Canada's business and social history A Gentleman of Substance

Richard Feltoe,2006-04-12 John Redpath arrived in Canada penniless in 1816 From skilled stonemason he became a wealthy entrepreneur in Montreal the founder of Redpath Sugar The Donut Steve Penfold,2008-01-12 In Canada the donut is often thought of as the unofficial national food Donuts are sold at every intersection and rest stop celebrated in song and story as symbols of Canadian identity and one chain in particular Tim Horton's has become a veritable icon with over 2500 shops across the country But there is more to the donut than these and other expressions of snackfood patriotism would suggest In this study Steve Penfold puts the humble donut in its historical context examining how one deep fried confectionary became not only a mass commodity but an edible symbol of Canadianness Penfold examines the history of the donut in light of broader social economic and cultural issues and uses the donut as a window onto key developments in twentieth century Canada such as the growth of a consumer society the relationship between big business and community and the ironic qualities of Canadian national identity He goes on to explore the social and political conditions that facilitated the rapid rise and steady growth of donut shops across the country Based on a wide range of sources from commercial and government reports to personal interviews The Donut is a comprehensive and fascinating look at one of Canada's most popular products It offers original insights on consumer culture mass consumption and the dynamics of Canadian history eagerness for the medium Martha Langford shows how photography served ideals of progress and improvement as Canada's settler society looked to master the world by seizing its visible traces The imposition of these programs on Indigenous Peoples and indentured labourers is confronted throughout this volume which offers both narratives and counternarratives of subjectification Reproducing images of people places events and objects from the unceded territories of the First Nations Inuit and Métis from British North America and from the Dominion of Canada and the Dominion of Newfoundland Langford asks where and when photographs were taken why and by whom How did the making and preservation of a photograph alter the circumstances in which it was produced and how did this affect individual and collective consciousness Alongside accomplished portraits landscapes still lifes and their vernacular counterparts the book draws glimmers of photographic experience from treatises and doggerel official reports and personal diaries newspapers magazines letters and travelogues Anticipation to Participation chronicles eight decades of reinvention and repurposing from a wondrous discovery to the wide adoption of a basic tool for knowledge gathering artmaking and journaling Langford's sweeping narrative rewrites the history of photography from the bottom up vividly expanding the definition of photographic experience The Publisher, 1905 Bibliography of Agriculture with Subject Index, 1993 The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature, 1905
