Reflective Learning Theory And Practice:

Reflective Learning Deborah A. Sugerman, 2000      A Handbook of Reflective and Experiential Learning Jennifer A. Moon, 2013-04-15 This handbook acts as an essential guide to understanding and using reflective and experiential learning whether it be for personal or professional development or as a tool for learning It takes a fresh look at experiential and reflective learning locating them within an overall theoretical framework for learning and exploring the relationships between different approaches As well as the theory the book provides practical ideas for applying the models of learning with tools activities and photocopiable resources which can be incorporated directly into classroom practice This book is essential reading to guide any teacher lecturer or trainer wanting to improve teaching and learning      Reflective Learning for Social Work Nick Gould, Imogen Taylor, 2017-03-02 Since the publication of Donald Schon's The Reflective Practitioner in 1983 there has been a dramatic growth of research and writing developing the concept of reflective learning Surprisingly there has been little application of concepts of reflective learning to social work education This volume makes accessible for the first time to a social work readership a book which focuses on reflective learning in social work brings together material on reflective learning from both academic and practice settings creates a seminal text for educators and trainers in universities and practice settings has relevance to an international readership with contributions from the UK USA Canada and Australia

Reflection in Learning and Professional Development Jennifer A. Moon, 2013-09-05 Reflection is a technique for aiding and reinforcing learning used in education and professional development This volume offers practitioners and students guidance that cuts across theoretical approaches enabling them to understand and use reflection to enhance learning in practice      Reflective Learning for Social Work Nick Gould, Imogen Taylor, 1996 The 1st volume to bring to a social work readership a book which focuses on reflective learning in social work this text brings together conceptual research and case material on reflective learning from academic and practice settings      Teaching Reflective Learning in Higher Education Mary Elizabeth Ryan, 2014-11-05 This book is about understanding the nature and application of reflection in higher education It provides a theoretical model to guide the implementation of reflective learning and reflective practice across multiple disciplines and international contexts in higher education The book presents research into the ways in which reflection is both considered and implemented in different ways across different professional disciplines while maintaining a common purpose to transform and improve learning and or practice The Readers will find this book is innovative and new in three key ways Firstly in its holistic theorisation of reflection within the pedagogic field of higher education Secondly in conceptualising reflection in different modes to achieve specific purposes in different disciplines and finally in providing conceptual guidance for embedding reflective learning and reflective practice in a systematic way across whole programmes faculties or institutions in higher education The book considers important contextual factors that influence the teaching of forms and methods of reflection It provides a functional analysis of multiple modes of reflection including written oral visual auditory and embodied forms Empirical chapters analyse the application of these modes across disciplines and at different stages of a programme The theoretical model accounts for students stage of development in the disciplinary field along with progressive and cyclical levels of higher order thinking and learning and professional practice that are expected within different disciplines and professional fields Secondly in conceptualising reflection in different modes to achieve specific purposes in different disciplines It provides a functional analysis of multiple modes of reflection including written oral visual auditory and embodied forms Empirical chapters analyse the application of these modes across disciplines and at different stages of a programme in terms of demonstrating levels of reflection The book includes images diagrams and different text forms to support the creative applications of reflection And thirdly the book is innovative in providing conceptual guidance for embedding reflective learning and reflective practice systematically across whole programmes faculties or institutions in higher education contexts across the world

Facilitating Reflective Learning In Higher Education Brockbank, Anne, McGill, Ian, 2007-05-01 This revised edition includes the most current thinking on reflective learning as well as stories from academics and students that bring to life the practical impact of reflection in action Based on sound theoretical concepts the authors offer a range of solutions for different teaching situations taking into account factors such as group size physical space and technology They also offer facilitation rather than traditional teaching methods as a productive and useful skill that helps teachers and encourages students to interact and develop reflexive skills that can be used beyond their student years

Reflective Learning and Teaching in Primary

Schools Alice Hansen, Adrian Copping, Nick Clough, Mike Pezet, Peter Dudley, Lisa Murtagh, Elizabeth Gowing, Helen Davenport, Emma McVittie, 2012-05-18 Trainee teachers are expected to demonstrate reflective practice in many ways throughout their course Unlike other texts this book takes a focused look at what primary trainees need to know and offers specific and details guidance on how to be meaningfully reflective in learning and teaching Examining reflection as a tool for both teachers and children this text considers how teachers can encourage the children they teach to be reflective in their own learning and how this can improve learning and teaching Chapters on lesson study and reflective journals offer practical guidance and a chapter on using children s voice as a tool for reflection explores this popular topical theme Case studies and activities are included to help the reader relate theory to practice and all chapters are linked to the 2012 Teachers Standards About the Transforming Primary QTS series This series reflects the new creative way schools are beginning to teach taking a fresh approach to supporting trainees as they work towards primary QTS Titles provide fully up to date resources focused on teaching a more integrated and inclusive curriculum and texts draw out meaningful and explicit cross curricular links

Reflective Learning in Management, Development and Education David Higgins, 2017-07-05 In recent years there has been a growing interest in the ideas surrounding reflective practice specifically in the areas of learning in management development and education This interest has developed in a growing number of professional fields thus making for very diverse understandings of what can be regarded as complex approaches to learning In order to understand how reflective practice can support and aid learning it is helpful to acknowledge how we learn First all learners start from their own position of knowledge and have their own set of experiences to draw upon Second learning is contextual something which managers need to acknowledge To make sense and achieve a deep understanding of material and experiences one needs to relate new information to existing knowledge and experiences This is best achieved through a process of reflection Indeed the underlying rationale for the chapters in this publication is to explore how the role of practice reflection and critical reflection are understood and developed within a learning process which is supported through the application of reflective tools This book recognises and makes explicit the diverse yet inclusive nature of the field By including a range of contributions from both subject specific disciplines and professional contexts it seeks to enable the reader in documenting some of the current uses of reflection and critical reflection while also illustrating some of the newer methods in use as well as the current contributions to thinking in the subject domain Through this publication the editor and authors hope to provide a basis from which continuing professional development and education can be enhanced This book was originally published as a special issue of Reflective Practice International and Multidisciplinary Perspectives Advances in Research, Theory and Practice in Work-Integrated Learning Sonia J. Ferns, Anna D. Rowe, Karsten E. Zegwaard, 2021-10-01 Work integrated learning WIL is a key strategy for enhancing student employability outcomes and lifelong learning capabilities This timely publication critically reflects on existing scholarship and practice in WIL discusses contemporary insights provides a synopsis of resonating themes and recommends areas for future research and practice The book aims to position WIL as a strategic imperative for enabling a sustainable workforce through strengthening graduate capacity both in Australia and globally The collection of edited scholarly chapters were compiled by 59 researchers practitioners and experts in WIL and supported by the peak national professional body for WIL in Australia the Australian Collaborative Education Network ACEN The chapters cover a range of pertinent topics such as teaching and learning stakeholder engagement maximizing learning outcomes diverse forms of WIL practice support and infrastructure and future directions Specific areas of interest include governance and leadership student equity and wellbeing quality and evaluation and interdisciplinary WIL This book is essential reading for researchers practitioners workplace and community partners university leaders and policy makers as the practice of WIL continues to expand in the higher education sector     Promoting Reflection on Language Learning Neil Curry, Phoebe Lyon, Jo Mynard, 2023-09-12 This book brings together a wide range of studies practical applications and reflective accounts written by academics working at a university in Japan to present a cohesive overview of their collaborative efforts to promote learner reflection within their institution The book contributes to a shift in language education towards promoting learner responsibility and ownership of their learning through developing a deeper sense of awareness of and motivation for the learning process It makes a convincing case for showing that not only is promoting reflection possible but it can also be effectively integrated into language learning activities with significant benefits to the learners The chapters are highly practical for researchers and practitioners with the research chapters containing instruments which make them ideal for replication studies The text includes a wealth of practical tools and activities for practitioners who will be able to experience first hand how to facilitate student success and increase satisfaction
