Proust at the Movies Martine Beugnet, Marion Schmid, 2017-07-28

Film established itself as an artistic form of expression at the same time that Proust started work on his masterpiece A la recherche du temps perdu If Proust apparently took little interest in what he described as a poor avatar of reductive mimetic representation the resonances between his own radical reworking of writing styles and the novelistic forms and cinema as the art of time are undeniable Proust at the Movies is the first study in English to consider these rich interconnections Its introductory chapter charts the missed encounter between Proust and the cinema and addresses the problems inherent in adapting his novel to the screen The following chapters examine the various cinematic responses to A la recherche du temps perdu attempted to date Luchino Visconti and Joseph Losey s failed attempts at adapting the whole of the novel in the 1970s Volker Schlöndorff s Un Amour de Swann 1984 Raoul Ruiz s Le Temps retrouvé 1999 Chantal Akerman s La Prisonnière in La Captive 2000 and Fabio Carpi s Quartetto Basileus 1982 and Le Intermittenze del cuore 2003 The last chapter tracks the echoes of Proust s writing in the work of various directors from Abel Grace to Jean Luc Godard The approach is multidisciplinary combining literary criticism with film theory and elements of philosophy of art Special attention is given to the modernist legacy in literature and film with its distinctive aesthetic and narrative features An outline of the history and recent evolution of contemporary art cinema thus emerges a cinema where the themes at the heart of Proust s work memory time perception are ceaselessly explored

Cinema and Intermediality Ágnes Pethő, 2011-05-25 Within the last two decades intermediality has emerged as one of the most challenging concepts in media theory with no shortage of various taxonomies and definitions What prompted the writing of the essays gathered in this volume however was not a desire for more classifications applied to the world of moving pictures but a strong urge to investigate what the inter implied by the idea of intermediality stands for and what it actually entails in the cinema The book offers in each of the individual chapters a cross section view of specific instances in which cinema seems to consciously position itself in between media and arts employing techniques that tap into the multimedial complexity of cinema and bring into play the tensions generated by media differences The introductory theoretical writings deal with the historiography of approaching intermedial phenomena in cinema presenting at the same time some of the possible gateways that can open up the cinematic image towards the perceptual frames of other media and arts The book also contains essays that examine more closely specific paradigms in the poetics of cinematic intermediality like the allure of painting in Hitchcock's films the exquisite ways of framing and unframing haptical imagery in Antonioni's works the narrative allegories of media differences the word and image plays and ekphrastic techniques in Jean Luc Godard's total cinema the fl neuristic intermedial gallery of moving images created by Jos Luis Guern or the types of intermedial metalepses in Agn's Varda's cin criture From a theoretical vantage point these essays break with the tradition of thinking of intermediality in analogy with intertextuality and attempt a phenomenological redefinition of intermedial relations Moreover some of the analyses target films that expose the coexistence of the hypermediated experience of intermediality and the illusion of reality connecting the questions of intermediality both to the indexical nature of cinematic representation and to the specific ideological and cultural context of the films thus offering insights into a few questions regarding the politics of intermediality as well
