Nineteenth-Century Stories by Women Glennis Stephenson, 1995-05-31 The female novelist of the nineteenth century may have frequently encountered opposition and interference from the male literary establishment but the female short story writer working in a genre that was seen as less serious and less profitable found her work to be actively encouraged from the Introduction During the nineteenth century women writers finally began to be as popular and as respected as their male counterparts We are all familiar with the novels of Jane Austen Mary Shelley Elizabeth Gaskell George Eliot and the Brontës Less familiar is the short fiction of the period yet a great many nineteenth century stories by women both famous and obscure retain in full measure their power to fascinate and to entertain For this anthology Glennis Stephenson brings together stories by both British and North American writers by such established luminaries as Shelley Gaskell and Kate Chopin and by lesser known writers such as the Anglo Indian writer Flora Steel the Afro American Alice Dunbar Nelson and the Canadian Annie Howells Frchette The result is an anthology that will be as interesting to the general

Embracing Serafina Penny Petrone, 2000 This book moves with compelling energy from the forests of north western Ontario to the capitals of Europe to the tribal villages of Africa and from there to South America China and into the mysterious world that existed behind the Iron Curtain when few Westerners dared or got the chance to visit there It is an absorbingly personal document with the power not only of insight and innocence but of deeply conveyed sensuality toward sun and seawater and mountain air the music and hustle of cafes and cantinas the tastes and smells of exotic kitchens and markets There is an urgency here bred of complex desires and a craving for experience and knowledge Through her search Petrone reveals not just the graces but the hard edges and uncertainties of a woman's ventures into foreign landscapes and into the foreboding terrain of the self The Crawford Symposium Frank M. Tierney, 1979

Home Ground and Foreign Territory Janice Fiamengo, 2014-04-03. The first multi-disciplinary collection of essays to focus exclusively on early Canadian literature with the aim of reassessing the field and proposing new approaches. New Contexts of Canadian Criticism Ajay Heble, Donna Palmateer, Pennee, J.R. Struthers, 1997-04-18. Times change, lives change, and the terms we need to describe our literature or society or condition, what Raymond Williams calls keywords, change with them. Perhaps the most significant development in the quarter century since Eli Mandel edited his anthology Contexts of Canadian Criticism has been the growing recognition that not only do different people need different terms, but the same terms have different meanings for different people and in different contexts. Nation, history, culture, art, identity, the positions we take, discussing these and other issues can lead to conflict but also hold the promise of a new sort of community. Speaking of First Nations people and their literature, Beth Brant observes that "Our connections are like the threads of a weaving. While the colour and beauty of each thread is unique and important, together they make a communal material of strength and durability." New Contexts of Canadian Criticism is designed to be read to work in much the same manner. The Malahat Review, 1976. Dominant Impressions Gerald Lynch, Angela Robberson, 1999. Canadian critics and scholars, along with a growing number from around the world, have long recognized the achievements of Canadian short story writers. However, these critics have tended to view the Canadian short story as a historically recent phenomenon. This reappraisal corrects this mistaken view by exploring the literary and cultural antecedents of the Canadian short story. Published in English. Canadian Books in Print Marian Butler, 2000.
