Self-crowned Laureates Richard Helgerson, 1983      The Countesse of Pembrokes Arcadia and the Invention of English Literature J. Davis, 2011-11-07 Revises the semiotic paradigm of the early modern literary system dominant since 1983 by adapting methods entailed in the idea that literary works emerge through a series of semiotic events Davis analyzes Philip Sidney's Arcadia and Astrophil and Stella to demonstrate how design elements stage the scene of reading these works

John Milton's Aristocratic Entertainments Cedric C. Brown, 1985-09-05 This book is a comprehensive account of Milton's two aristocratic entertainments Arcades and Comus in the context of their original occasions and in the light of Milton's developing sense of vocation as a poet in the earlier part of his career The book is especially original in the amount of socio-historical information it offers about the relationship between the independent and pastorally poet and his aristocratic patrons and about the degree to which Milton was prepared to work within the constraints and decorum of the Caroline masque and country house entertainment A particular feature of the book is the analysis of changes in the texts of the two entertainments from the earliest version in the Trinity College manuscript through to the first printings considering Milton's changing manner of address to the different occasions of performance and publication A degree of tension is discovered between the poet and the organisers of the Ludlow masque and an explanation is given for a kind of censorship in the Bridgewater manuscript of Comus      Placing Elysium in Renaissance Britain Patrick Cheney, 2025-10-02 Placing Elysium in Renaissance Britain Poetry Politics Theology Eros is the first study of Elysium as a place in English Renaissance culture The absence of such a study in the fields of literature and geography is surprising from its captivating origin in the oceanic margins of Homer's Odyssey to its presence in the Eden of Milton's Paradise Lost Elysium is a destination to be desired it is the land of the blessed As such Elysium becomes a geographical site for an author's most valued space In Britannia Camden provides leadership for this project by citing Plutarch as locating the blessed place in Britain Following Camden Spenser centralizes the idea of Britain as Elysium Subsequently English authors make the Elysian place the site of a liberating sublimity as the height of artistic renown This authorial template becomes the site for literary inflections in the realms of politics theology and eros However Kyd and Marlowe darken the Spenserian project recalling Virgil's geographical positioning of Elysium next to Hell In turn Drayton Chapman and Marston champion the Spenserian idea of Britain as Elysium As this conversation suggests English authors make Elysium the central place of the Renaissance period concept and they do so in the nation building genre of epic In The Muses Elizium Drayton crowns the Spenserian tradition by making the blessed place the monomyth of national poetry At the centre of the monomyth is the cherished ideal of Renaissance culture the Elysian capacity of the human to become divine      Etymology and the Invention of English in Early Modern Literature Hannah Crawforth, 2013-11-07 Crawforth presents a major re-reading of early modern poetry demonstrating its debt to the emergence of linguistics in the period      Alexander Pope in the Making Joseph Hone, 2021-01-28 How did Alexander

Pope become the greatest poet of the eighteenth century Modern scholarship has typically taken Pope's rise to greatness and subsequent remoteness from lesser authors for granted As a major poet he is treated as the successor of Milton and Dryden or the precursor of Wordsworth Drawing on previously neglected texts and overlooked archival materials Alexander Pope in the Making immerses the poet in his milieu providing a substantial new account of Pope's early career from the earliest traces of manuscript circulation to the publication of his collected Works and beyond In this book Joseph Hone illuminates classic poems such as An Essay on Criticism The Rape of the Lock and Windsor Forest by setting them alongside lesser known texts by Pope and his contemporaries many of which have never received sustained critical attention before Pope's earliest experiments in satire panegyric lyric pastoral and epic are all explored alongside his translations publication strategies and neglected editorial projects By recovering values shared by Pope and the politically heterodox men and women whose works he read and with whom he collaborated this book constructs powerful new interpretive frameworks for some of the eighteenth century's most celebrated poems Alexander Pope in the Making mounts a comprehensive challenge to the Scriblerian paradigm that has dominated scholarship for the past eighty years It sheds fresh light on Pope's early career and reshapes our understanding of the ideological landscape of his era This book will be essential reading for scholars and students of eighteenth century literature history and politics

The Roaring Girl and Other City Comedies Thomas Dekker, 2008-06-12 The Oxford English Drama series offers plays from the 16th to the early 20th centuries in selections that make available both rarely printed and canonical works Each text is freshly edited using modern spelling

Concepts of Creativity in Seventeenth-century England Rebecca Herissone, Alan Howard, 2013 The first genuinely interdisciplinary study of creativity in early modern England In the seventeenth century the concept of creativity was far removed from most of the fundamental ideas about the creative act notions of human imagination inspiration originality and genius that developed in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Instead in this period students learned their crafts by copying and imitating past masters and did not consciously seek to break away from tradition Most new material was made on the instructions of a patron and had to conform to external expectations and basic tenets that we tend to take for granted such as the primacy and individuality of the author were apparently considered irrelevant in some contexts The aim of this interdisciplinary collection of essays is to explore what it meant to create buildings and works of art music and literature in seventeenth century England and to investigate the processes by which such creations came into existence Through a series of specific case studies the book highlights a wide range of ideas beliefs and approaches to creativity that existed in seventeenth century England and places them in the context of the prevailing intellectual social and cultural trends of the period In so doing it draws into focus the profound changes that were emerging in the understanding of human creativity in early modern society transformations that would eventually lead to the development of a more recognisably modern conception of the notion of creativity The contributors work in and across the fields of literary studies history musicology history of art and history of architecture and their work collectively explores many of the most fundamental questions about creativity posed by the early modern English creative arts REBECCA HERISSONE is Head of Music and Senior Lecturer in Musicology at the University of Manchester ALAN HOWARD is Lecturer in Music at the University of East Anglia and Reviews Editor for Eighteenth Century Music Contributors Linda Phyllis Austern Stephanie Carter John Cunningham Marina Daiman Kirsten Gibson Raphael Hallett Rebecca Herissone Anne Hultzsch Freyja Cox Jensen Stephen Rose Andrew R Walkling Amanda Eubanks Winkler James A Winn Tirso de Molina Esther Fernández,2023 The first comprehensive study of Tirso de Molina and his work in English Tirso de Molina c 1583 c 1648 may not have written El Burlador de Sevilla but the works of this prolific author one of the three pillars of Golden Age Spanish theatre are notable for their erudition complex characters and wit Informed by a multidisciplinary critical perspective this volume sets Tirso s plays and prose in their social historical literary and cultural contexts Contributors from the United States Canada the United Kingdom and Spain offer a state of the art in current scholarship considering such topics as gender identity spatiality material culture and creative performativity among others The first volume in English to provide a richly detailed overview of Tirso s life and work Tirso de Molina Interdisciplinary Perspectives from the Twenty First Century grounds the reader in canonical theories while suggesting new approaches attuned to contemporary interests to his legacy Writing the Monarch in Jacobean England Jane Rickard,2015-10-08 This book examines how Jacobean authors interpreted and responded to the works of King James VI and I A Companion to Renaissance Poetry Catherine Bates,2018-02-20 The most comprehensive collection of essays on Renaissance poetry on the market Covering the period 1520 1680 A Companion to Renaissance Poetry offers 46 essays which present an in depth account of the context production and interpretation of early modern British poetry It provides students with a deep appreciation for and sensitivity toward the ways in which poets of the period understood and fashioned a distinctly vernacular voice while engaging them with some of the debates and departures that are currently animating the discipline A Companion to Renaissance Poetry analyzes the historical cultural political and religious background of the time addressing issues such as education translation the Reformation theorizations of poetry and more The book immerses readers in non dramatic poetry from Wyatt to Milton focusing on the key poetic genres epic lyric complaint elegy epistle pastoral satire and religious poetry It also offers an inclusive account of the poetic production of the period by canonical and less canonical writers female and male Finally it offers examples of current developments in the interpretation of Renaissance poetry including economic ecological scientific materialist and formalist approaches Covers a wide selection of authors and texts Features contributions from notable authors scholars and critics across the globe Offers a substantial section on recent and developing approaches to reading Renaissance poetry A Companion to Renaissance Poetry

Quitslund, 2001-01-01 In Spenser's Supreme Fiction Jon A. Quitslund offers a rich analysis of The Faerie Queene and of several texts contributing to the revival of Platonism stimulated by Marsilio Ficino's labours as a translator and interpreter of Plato and the ancient Neoplatonists To the old issue of the scope and character of Spenser's Platonism Quitslund brings fresh insights from contemporary views on gender and identity intertextuality and the centrality of fiction within all aspects of Renaissance culture He argues that Spenser sought authority for his poem by grounding its narrative in a divinely ordained natural order intelligible in terms derived from the ancient sources of poetry and philosophy Passages central to the poet's world making project are shown to be intertextually linked to Book VI of the Aeneid and to Plato's Symposium regarded in the commentaries of Landino and Ficino as explanations of the gentile prisca theologia a cosmology parallel to the tenets of Christianity The first half of the book examines Spenser's representation of the macrocosm and its replication in human nature's lesser world in the light of divergent tendencies within humanism. The legacy of Plato is shown to be especially important in the esoteric tradition which made the province of natural philosophy part of the soul's itinerary back to its otherworldly origins. In the second half, The Faerie Queene is interpreted as an unfolding pattern: the dynamic order of nature is flawed but not fallen and seen against that background, human culture contains in its myths and images both corruptions of natural impulses and aspirations to transcend the limits imposed by mortality. The Allegory of Female Authority Maureen Quilligan, 2018-08-06. The first professional female writer, Christine de Pizan (1363-1431) was widowed at age twenty-five and supported herself and her family by enlisting powerful patrons for her poetry. Her Livre de la Cit des Dames (1405) is the earliest European work on women's history by a woman. An allegorical poem that revises masculine traditions, it asserts and defends the authority of women in general and of its author in particular. In this generously illustrated book, Maureen Quilligan provides a persuasive and penetrating interpretation of the Cit. An Empire Nowhere Jeffrey Knapp, 2023-04-28. What caused England's literary renaissance? One answer has been such unprecedented developments as the European discovery of America. Yet England in the sixteenth century was far from an expanding nation. Not only did the Tudors lose England's sole remaining possessions on the Continent and, thanks to the Reformation, grow spiritually divided from the Continent as well, but every one of their attempts to colonize the New World actually failed. Jeffrey Knapp accounts for this strange combination of literary expansion and national isolation by showing how the English made a virtue of their increasing insularity. Ranging across a wide array of literary and extraliterary sources, Knapp argues that English poets rejected the worldly acquisitiveness of an empire like Spain's and took pride in England's material limitations as a sign of its spiritual strength. In the imaginary worlds of such fictions as Utopia, The Faerie Queene, and The Tempest, they sought a grander empire founded on the otherworldly virtues of both England and poetry itself.
