Lloyd Wells, 2018-11-07 Most small businesses start with a laborer with at least some skills in a given area who perceives his skills marketable He looks at his employer's revenue derived from his labor and says I can do that for myself and keep all the money Those who work for us need stability and it is our responsibility to ensure it if we desire success We never see what makes it all happen until we are faced with the reality of maintaining a workplace attracting customers continuing our education providing equitable employment for those who help us keeping the necessary market share and a whole host of other things Things like your career your name the value of your product the alternatives available a routine for the performance of your job written instructions for every aspect of your business pricing policies control of your inventory understanding every detail of your job the state of federal laws governing your industry and your involvement in your community are all of extreme importance to your sustainable success It has always been my benefit that each generation should hold the next on its shoulders ensuring growth in our field of endeavor Giving back is the real measure of accomplishment in our lives rather than amassing great wealth As Zig Ziglar used to say You can have everything in life you want if you'll help enough other people get what they want Co$menomic$ is about all of that and more in detail as lived by the author and his associates during the fifty-five years in the business Trademark 2.0 Todd Stephens, 2007 This book will discuss several dimensions of building a personal Trademark Unlike other books on this subject this book will focus on the How an individual can move from local labor to global talent in the new world defined as Enterprise 2.0 Enterprise 2.0 commonly refers to organizations that operate under an open communication model where interaction and communication is encouraged from the top down Enterprises are accomplishing this feat by not only addressing the technology requirements of Web 2.0 but the social and organizational changes required to sustain a competitive advantage In the 2.0 environment these physical trademarks have been replaced by more meta physical ones such as logo slogans and reputation Still like every organization we must learn to build both the physical and meta physical trademarks in order to compete in the next 25 years
