On Post Colonial Futures:

On Post-Colonial Futures Bill Ashcroft, 2001-09-01 In this groundbreaking work Bill Ashcroft extends the arguments posed in The Empire Writes Back to investigate the transformative effects of postcolonial resistance and the continuing relevance of colonial struggle. He demonstrates the remarkable capacity for change and adaptation emanating from postcolonial cultures both in everyday life and in the intellectual spheres of literature history and philosophy. The transformations of postcolonial literary study have not been limited to a simple rewriting of the canon but have also affected the ways in which all literature can be read and have led to a more profound understanding of the network of cultural practices that influence creative writing.

The Future of Postcolonial Studies Chantal Zabus, 2014-11-20 The Future of Postcolonial Studies celebrates the twenty fifth anniversary of the publication of The Empire Writes Back by the now famous troika Bill Ashcroft Gareth Griffiths and Helen Tiffin. When The Empire Writes Back first appeared in 1989 it put postcolonial cultures and their post invasion narratives on the map. This vibrant collection of fifteen chapters by both established and emerging scholars taps into this early mapping while merging these concerns with present trends which have been grouped as comparing converting greening post queering and utopia. The postcolonial is a centrifugal force that continues to energize globalization transnational diaspora area and queer studies. Spanning the colonial period from the 1860s to the present The Future of Postcolonial Studies ventures into other postcolonies outside of the Anglophone purview. In reassessing the nation state language race religion sexuality the environment and the very idea of the future this volume reasserts the notion that postcolonial is an anticipatory discourse and bears testimony to the driving energy and thus the future of postcolonial studies.

uncharted realms of tomorrow where philosophy emerges as a guiding force amidst the unpredictable developments that shape our existence Decolonizing Education for Sustainable Futures Yvette Hutchinson,Artemio Arturo Cortez Ochoa,Julia Paulson,Leon Tikly,2024-12-10 Bringing together the perspectives of researchers policy makers activists educators and practitioners this book critically interrogates the Western centric assumptions underpinning education and development agendas and the colonial legacies of violence they often uphold The book considers the crucial connection between the idea of sustainable futures and the demand to decolonize education Containing an innovative mixture of text stories and poetry it explores how decolonized futures can be conceived and enacted offering theoretical and practical examples including from practice in educational and cultural organizations In doing so the book highlights education s potential role in facilitating processes of reparative justice that can contribute to decolonized futures Art Cinema and India's Forgotten Futures Rochona Majumdar,2021-10-12 Co Winner 2023 Chidananda Dasgupta Award for the Best Writing on Cinema Chidananda Dasgupta Memorial Trust Shortlisted 2022 MSA Book Prize Modernist Studies Association Longlisted 2022 Moving Image Book Award Kraszna Krausz Foundation The project of Indian art cinema began in the years following independence in 1947 at once evoking the global reach of the term art film and speaking to the aspirations of the new nation state In this pioneering book Rochona Majumdar examines key works of Indian art cinema to demonstrate how film emerged as a mode of doing history and that in so doing it anticipated some of the most influential insights of postcolonial thought Majumdar details how filmmakers as well as a host of film societies and publications sought to foster a new cinematic culture for the new nation fueled by enthusiasm for a future of progress and development Good films would help make good citizens art cinema would not only earn global prestige but also shape discerning individuals capable of exercising aesthetic and political judgment During the 1960s however Satyajit Ray Mrinal Sen and Ritwik Ghatak the leading figures of Indian art cinema became disillusioned with the belief that film was integral to national development Instead Majumdar contends their works captured the unresolvable contradictions of the postcolonial present which pointed toward possible yet unrealized futures Analyzing the films of Ray Sen and Ghatak and working through previously unexplored archives of film society publications Majumdar offers a radical reinterpretation of Indian film history Art Cinema and India s Forgotten Futures offers sweeping new insights into film s relationship with the postcolonial condition and its role in decolonial imaginations of the future Future Spaces of Power Caroline Alphin,E. Leigh McKagen,Shelby E. Ward,2025-10-16 Future Spaces of Power explores political cultural and societal narratives of future space s on a global scale to complicate the cultural logic of systemic futures that exist outside the boundaries of dominant political imaginaries Contributors critically engage with alternative visions found in literature film and other cultural artifacts that encourage us to either live with or escape from the systemic conditions of neoliberalism and late capitalism and consider what these alternative visions might do or fail to do in combating anti democratic futures environmental degradation and new forms of imperialism Through these analyses the volume collectively argues that anti postmodern and postmodern readings of future spaces overlook the everyday lived experiences of certain bodies including chronic health problems effects from systemic racism and other experiences of insecurity fear and death in the face of institutionalized violence by disregarding differential experiences of time within different spatial contexts Contributors suggest that critiques of narratives occurring within and about virtual and metaspaces artificial intelligence space exploration and even the colonization of outer space can provide critical insights concerning global futures and our perceptions of space and time especially as they inform how we should live in the present amid environmental destruction information capitalism neoliberalism and the remaining infrastructures of colonialism Ultimately this book interrogates how a variety of media shape and inform our understanding and assumptions about conceptualizations of future space s as it demonstrates how governmentality eliminates and regulates surplus bodies both overtly and covertly through the technological spatial discursive and temporal management of space

Metropolis Cecile Sandten, Annika Bauer, 2016-09-27 The notion of the postcolonial metropolis has gained prominence in the last two decades both within and beyond postcolonial studies Disciplines such as sociology and urban studies however have tended to focus on the economic inequalities class disparities and other structural and formative aspects of the postcolonial metropolises that are specific to Western conceptions of the city at large It is only recently that the depiction of postcolonial metropolises has been addressed in the writings of Suketu Mehta Chris Abani Amit Chaudhuri Salman Rushdie Aravind Adiga Helon Habila Sefi Atta and Zakes Mda among others Most of these works probe the urban specifics and physical and cultural topographies of postcolonial cities while highlighting their agential capacity to defy appropriate and abrogate the superimposition of theories of Western modernity and urbanism These ASNEL Papers are all concerned with the idea of the postcolonial in the metropolis from various disciplinary viewpoints as drawn from a great range of cityscapes spread out over five continents The essays explore on the one hand ideas of spatial subdivision and inequality political repression social discrimination economic exploitation and cultural alienation and on the other the possibility of transforming reinventing and reconfiguring the postcolonial condition in and through literary texts and visual narratives In this context the volume covers a broad spectrum of theoretical and thematic approaches to postcolonial and metropolitan topographies and their depictions in writings from Australia and New Zealand South Africa South Asia and greater Asia as well as the UK addressing issues such as modernity and market economies but also caste class and social and linguistic aspects At the same time they reflect on the postcolonial metropolis and postcolonialism in the metropolis by concentrating on an urban imaginary which turns on notions of spatial subdivision and inequality political repression social discrimination economic exploitation and cultural alienation as the continuing postcolonial condition
