Preconscious Stimulation In Dreams Associations And Images Psychological issues Monograph 7:

Preconscious Stimulation in Dreams, Associations, and Images Otto Pötzl, Rudolf Allers, Jakob Teller, 1960 The Interpretation of Dreams and of Jokes Matthew Hugh Erdelyi, 2022-12-16 The Interpretation of Dreams and of Jokes provides a unique and integrative introduction to dream science. It addresses a notable gap in cognitive psychology on the subject of dreams and explores significant overlaps between the phenomena of dreams and jokes. Bringing together extensive research from cognitive psychology, neuroscience, and psychoanalysis, the book provides a balanced approach to dream science that is underpinned by experimental and theoretical research. It considers the significance of dreams and their relationships to jokes, examining how both require an understanding of latent content in which context and individual differences play a large part. The book outlines a history of dream research and dream science and includes several original dream extracts for discussion. The book's chapters explore how we can interpret meaning in dreams, how dreams might be indicators of inner psychological and somatic states, whether dreams can be used in problem solving, and the relationship between dreams and aphasia, memory, and waking consciousness. This groundbreaking book will be essential reading for researchers and students from psychological and psychoanalytic backgrounds who are interested in the analysis and science of dreams.

The Mind in Sleep Steven J. Ellman, John S. Antrobus, 1991-09-03 This unique and up-to-date book provides a comprehensive history and critical account of sleep mentation research since the introduction of electrographic techniques. Written by leading experts, it not only examines the activity of the mind during sleep but also scrutinizes methodological issues of key importance to the field. Looks at the relationships between physiological and mental events as brought to light by electrographic and other controlled studies of sleep mentation. Chapters are devoted to critical reviews of REM deprivation studies, the relationships between sustained and short-lived physiological conditions and sleep mentation, clinical phenomena such as sleep talking, nightmares, and night terrors. Rigorously organized around topics of common interest, it is a penetrating study of current developments in the field.

Freud for Historians Peter Gay, 1985 A thoughtful and detailed contribution to a major intellectual debate. Freud for Historians builds an eloquent case for history informed by psychoanalysis and offers an impressive rebuttal to the charges of the profession's anti-Freudians.

Cognitive Science and the Unconscious Dan J. Stein, 1997 Can a worthwhile exchange be set up between the seemingly opposing viewpoints of psychoanalytic therapy and cognitive science? Stein and the other contributing authors of Cognitive Science and the Unconscious say yes. In fact, it is their contention that such an interchange of theory and method, combining the theoretical clarity and empirical rigor of cognitive science with the richness and complexity of clinical work, holds the promise of enriching both disciplines. The concept of unconsciousness as variously conceived by psychoanalysis, The Unconscious, and cognitive science, unconscious processing, is the reference point of this dialogue. Written by a distinguished group of researchers and clinicians, this volume examines those aspects of the unconscious mind most relevant to the psychiatric practitioner, including unconscious processing of affective and traumatic experience unconscious mechanisms in dissociative states and disorders and cognitive approaches to dreaming and repression Although cognitive psychology forms the backbone of the book many of the chapters illuminate relevant work from the fields of artificial intelligence linguistics and biology      100 Years of the IPA Peter Loewenberg, Nellie L. Wolff, Riley Wetherell Gardner, 1960 Psychological Issues publishes four monographs per volume The study represented here is monograph 8 of Volume II No 4 1960 The study described in this monograph was designed to explore relationships between two general classes of variables cognitive control principles and intellectual abilities Our purpose in this venture was twofold a to illustrate that these two domains of cognitive organization have commonalities which can be conceptualized within a single set of principles of personality organization and b to explore several hypotheses concerning relations between particular control principles and abilities      Repression and Dissociation Jerome L. Singer, 1995-06 This book features contributions from twenty six leading experts that survey the theoretical historical methodological empirical and clinical aspects of repression and the repressive personality style from both psychoanalytic and cognitive psychological perspectives Rarely does a volume present contributions on a controversial topic from such distinguished clinicians and experimentalists There is something of interest in this volume for almost anyone involved in experimental cognitive psychology and psychiatry Carroll E Izard Contemporary Psychology The concept of repression is the cornerstone of psychoanalytic theory This is a delightful book unusually well written Recommended Choice Readable thorough wide ranging and consistently interesting A testament to the continuing power of psychodynamic ideas when faced with individual psychopathology Sue Llewelyn Psychologist Singer has brought together some of the best empirical research in the areas of unconscious mental activity and repression that is at once interdisciplinary and scholarly Howard D Lerner International Review of Psycho analysis A rich reference replete with summaries and citations covering a variety of topics related to the psychology of repression and dissociation A thoughtful detailed and eclectic discussion of the scientific and theoretical basis of repression and dissociation Steven Lazrove M D American Journal of Psychiatry      Science and Psychotherapy Raphael Stern, Jack Lynes, Louise S.
