Stebbins,2012 One of my earliest memories is of a warm day a field with many grasshoppers a shallow creek with cold water and the joy of a day in the hills with my parents My dad had gone fishing and I was free to wander about nearby It was summer in the Gray Pines foothills of the Sierra Nevada near Chico California where I was born Along the creek I found a turtle I had hoped someday to have one as a pet I ran with the wondrous creature cradled in my hands to show my mom I was enthralled with its bright eyes the feel of its claws and its cold body as it struggled to free itself from my grasp So began a lifetime of connecting with nature And so begins this amazing book an irresistible story of how one child fell in love with nature and your students can too Taking what he calls a nature centred worldview author Robert Stebbins blends activities examples and stories with his perspectives on the importance of dealing objectively yet compassionately with social and environmental problems As thought provoking as it is charming Connecting With Nature includes discussions of ecological illiteracy and the impediments that keep people young and old from bonding with nature recommendations for establishing a nature centred educational program and encouraging interest in nature at home advice on doing accurate observations and field reports and understanding natural selection and a captivating array of activities to capture the attention of students of all ages imitating animal sounds quieting lizards tracking animals photographing birds and playing hide and seek with owl calls Even a quick glance through Connecting With Nature will make you wish you could give your students the joy of a day in the hills with the author Failing that you can use his book to instill a love of nature in your students and rekindle it in yourself The Culture of Nature Alexander Wilson,1991 In this celebrated work Alexander Wilson examines
