Reducing Traffic Injury a Global Challenge:

Injury Prevention and Control Dinesh Mohan, G.N. Tiwari, 2003-09-02 At least 5 million people die each year from injuries and about half the deaths in the 10-24 age group are accountable to them. This is a major health problem for which a number of strategies for prevention and control can be developed. This book presents a series of the plenary and state of the art presentations from the 5th World Conference on Injury Prevention and Control. There is a focus on transportation, workplace, sport and leisure, and domestic sectors, and an exploration of the legal, medical, environmental, safety, and governmental issues which play a part in the subject. Practitioners and researchers in a variety of activities including epidemiology and public health, occupational health and safety, ergonomics, and product design, medicine, criminology, engineering, and physical sciences, and the behavioural sciences should find this a useful and challenging work. World Report on Road Traffic Injury Prevention Marjorie Peden, 2008-09 Every day thousands of people are killed and injured on our roads. Millions of people each year will spend long weeks in the hospital after severe crashes, and many will never be able to live, work, or play as they used to do. Current efforts to address road safety are minimal in comparison to this growing human suffering. This report presents a comprehensive overview of what is known about the magnitude, risk factors, and impact of road traffic injuries, and about ways to prevent and lessen the impact of road crashes. Over 100 experts from all continents and different sectors, including transport, engineering, health, police, education, and civil society, have worked to produce the report. Johnston, 1988 Eliminating Serious Injury and Death from Road Transport Ian Ronald Johnston, Carlyn Muir, Eric William Howard, 2013-12-11 Listen Ian Johnston busts the bad behavior myth. Should we really accept road trauma as collateral damage from daily road use? Eliminating Serious Injury and Death from Road Transport: A Crisis of Complacency explores why societies and their elected leaders view traffic safety as a relatively minor problem. It examines the changes in the culture of road use that need to occur if this public health problem is to be effectively resolved. Examines why road use culture is ego-centric: what's in it for me, and why this blocks progress. Explores current traffic safety measurement methods and demonstrates how they have underpinned our flawed approach. Discusses the controversial issue of speed and speeding and shows how a new approach to speed management will be fundamental to transformational change. Details a simple account of the concept of a Safe System, as now promoted by the WHO and the OECD, while exploring the failure to get beyond the principles to extensive implementation. The book dispels the myths that currently drive societies' misguided view of traffic safety: the bad behavior myth and the official myth that everything that can be done is being done, and how these myths limit progress in reducing death and serious injury. It presents current scientific knowledge and draws parallels with other areas of public safety and health. The book draws on examples from the media and from public policy debates to paint a clear picture of a flawed public policy approach. It presents a model for a preventive medicine approach to traffic safety policy to get beyond an ego-centric culture to a
