Haram in the Harem Mohanalakshmi Rajakumar,2009 Haram in the Harem focuses on the differences in nationalist discourse regarding women and the way female writers conceptualized the experience of women in three contexts the middle class Muslim reform movement the

Algerian Revolution and the Partition of India During each of these periods the subject of women their behavior bodies and dress were discussed by male scholars politicians and revolutionaries The resonating theme amongst these disparate events is that women were believed to be best protected when they were ensconced within their homes and governed by their families particularly male authority whether they were fathers brothers or husbands The threat to national identity was often linked to the preservation of womanly purity Yet for the writers of this study Ismat Chughtai 1915 1991 Assia Djebar 1936 and Khadija Mastur 1927 1982 the danger to women was not in the public sphere but embedded within a domestic hierarchy enforced by male privilege In their fictional texts each writer shows how women resist subvert and challenge the normative behaviors prescribed in masculine discourse In their writings they highlight the different ways women negotiated private spaces between intersecting masculine hegemonies of power including colonialism and native patriarchy They demonstrate distinct literary viewpoints of nation home and women s experiences at particular historical moments The choice of these various texts reveals how fiction provided a safe space for female writers to contest traditional systems of power Bringing into focus the voices and experiences of women who existed as limited cultural icons in the nationalist discourse is a common theme throughout the selected stories This book showcases the fluidity of literature as a response to the intersections of gender race and nation

Ritual, Family and Therapy in Anglophone Literatures Lars Heiler, 2025-03-10 This book investigates the triadic constellations between ritual family and therapy in literature in English Many rituals so called rites of passage in particular are strongly associated with the changing status of individuals as members of a family unit Traditional healing rituals were often designed to have a therapeutic effect sometimes mentally but also physically whereas modern psychotherapies often include ritual elements in order to enhance the efficacy of their treatment Families on the other hand can be the site of therapeutic activity by providing protection stability and emotional comfort yet difficult family constellations may also be the origin of emotional distress and the reason why a person needs counselling and therapeutic support in the first place Modern therapies such as family systems therapy have expanded their range of interest and influence in order to look at the whole family unit not just the symptomatic individual as client This study discusses nine literary texts six novels one literary memoir and two plays in which the three dimensions intersect and mutually influence each other

Globally Networked Teaching in the Humanities Alexandra Schultheis Moore, Sunka Simon, 2015-04-10 As colleges and universities in North America increasingly identify internationalization as a key component of the institution's mission and strategic plans faculty and administrators are charged with finding innovative and cost effective approaches to meet those goals This volume provides an overview and concrete examples of globally networked learning environments across the humanities from the perspective of all of their stakeholders teachers instructional designers administrators and students By addressing logistical technical pedagogical and intercultural aspects of globally networked teaching this volume offers a unique perspective on this form of curricular innovation through internationalization It speaks directly to the ways in which new technologies and pedagogies can promote humanities based learning for the future and with it the broader essential skills of intercultural sensitivity communication and collaboration and critical thinking

Modern Persian Literature in Afghanistan Wali Ahmadi, 2008-03-05 With the unleashing of the War on Terror in the aftermath of 9 11 Afghanistan has become prominent in the news However we need to appreciate that no substantive understanding of contemporary history politics and society of this country can be achieved without a thorough analysis of the Afghan encounter with cultural and literary modernity and modernization Modern Persian Literature in Afghanistan does just that The book offers a balanced and interdisciplinary analysis of the rich and admirable contemporary poetry and fiction of a land long tormented by wars and invasions It sets out to demonstrate that within the trajectory of the union between modern aesthetic imagination and politics creativity and production and representation and history the modernist intervention enabled many contemporary poets and writers of fiction to resist the overt politicization of the literary field without evading politics or disavowing the modern state The interpretative moves and nuanced readings of a series of literary texts make this book a major contribution to a rather neglected area of research and study Winner of the Iranian World Prize for Book of the Year in Islamics Studies 2009
