Conservation Breeding Programs CBPs remain essential tools to preserve animal biodiversity and save threatened species from extinction Despite the advances made during the last decades CBPs have been carried out only on a small number of species mostly mammals and birds There is therefore an urgent need to develop and complement in situ and ex situ strategies to also preserve other vertebrates like fish amphibians and reptiles in which the biodiversity loss because of climate change or other anthropogenic activities is even more dramatic One of the main factors that limits CBPs success is the lack of knowledge of the animal reproductive biology and behavior which is precisely known for instance in less than 4% of mammals the majority of which are terrestrial species Such knowledge is beneficial not only to enhance but also to control animal fertility that is especially warranted for the management of overabundant or invasive species which represent a further major threat for biodiversity The goal of this Research Topic is to bring together studies that deal with different aspects of animal reproduction both in captive and wild populations This includes both ex situ and in situ approaches such as the management of animal reproduction in captive populations and their reintroduction release into the wild Other approaches such as assisted reproductive technologies and biobanking greatly contribute to the success of conservation breeding This Research Topic also welcomes studies exploring the effects of biotic e g inbreeding diseases stress and abiotic e g anthropogenic activities housing and veterinary care factors on reproductive biology of all vertebrates classes with a special interest to fish amphibians and reptiles As a comprehensive knowledge of animal reproduction and behavior plays a key role for the development and success of breeding programs descriptive studies on reproductive anatomy and physiology of wild or captive species either endangered or overabundant are welcomed The Research Topic also accepts manuscripts that deal with ethical aspects of animal welfare in CBPs and population management of invasive or overabundant species

Rising Stars in Comparative and Clinical Medicine: 2021 Fazul Nabi,Muhammad Asif Arain,2023-06-16 Green Web-II Medani P. Bhandari,2022-09-01 This second edition of the book Green Web II Standards and Perspectives from the IUCN Program Policy Development in Environment Conservation Domain with reference to India Pakistan Nepal and Bangladesh investigates the IUCN s role in global biodiversity conservation policy as well as in national program development in India Pakistan Nepal and Bangladesh It explores how nature protection priorities and approaches are promoted or addressed by IUCN and how environment conservation policies are created and maintained in states of South Asia with different capacities It also evaluates IUCN s competency in biodiversity climate change nature conservation and environmental policy formulation at the global regional and country levels This book adds to our knowledge firstly by contributing to a small but growing body of work on the sociology of international organizations International Governmental Organizations IGOs have previously been mainly the subject of political science Secondly it critically explores one of the largest and most active nature conservation organizations in the world Thirdly it also explores how IUCN actually goes about building protectoral programs with individual member nations Finally the research also shows the historical development of global institutions and IUCN s activities with member nations in helping to define or redefine the concept of global governance The outcomes of this research will also be beneficial for global collaboration networking and for the identification of common concerns among the many environmental and conservational organizations at the international and national level In this broader sense the research outcomes might be beneficial to constituencies of the global North as well as global South because of the nature and coverage of IUCN and its role in conservation policy formation This effort may serve as a model for additional research on international organizations Technical topics discussed in the book include The Motivation for Environmental Conservation How personal efforts make a difference The Role of International Environment Conservation Organizations The Political Economy of Organizations Network theory Institutional theory Stakeholder theory Governance theory Governance performance and Competitiveness Popularity indices Knowledge creation and diffusion Conservation commons
