Sri Lanka News ,1996 The New Politics of Strategic Resources David Steven,Emily O'Brien,Bruce D. Jones,2014-11-21 Since 2008 energy and food markets those most fundamental to human existence have remained in turmoil Resource scarcity has had a much bigger global impact in recent years than has been predicted with ongoing volatility a sign that the world is only part way through navigating a treacherous transition in the way it uses resources Scarcity and perceptions of scarcity increase political risks while geopolitical turmoil exacerbates shortages and complicates the search for solutions The New Politics of Strategic Resources examines the political dimensions of strategic resource challenges at the domestic and international levels For better or worse energy and food markets are shaped by perceptions of national interest and do not behave as traditional market goods So while markets are an essential part of any response to tighter resource supplies governments also will play a key role David Steven Emily O'Brien Bruce Jones and their colleagues discuss what those roles are and what they should be The architecture for coordinating multilateral responses to these dynamics has fallen short raising questions about the effective international management of these issues Politics impede here too as the major powers must negotiate political and security trade offs to cooperate on the design of more robust international regimes and mechanisms for resource security and the provision of global public goods This timely volume includes chapters on major powers United States India China and key suppliers Russia Saudi Arabia The contributors also address thematic topics such as the interaction between oil and state fragility the changing political dynamics of climate change and the politics of resource subsidies

Economic Integration in South Asia Rizwanul Islam, 2012-03-28 Eight member countries of the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation SAARC have recently concluded the Agreement on South Asian Free Trade Area SAFTA and SAARC Agreement on Trade in Services SATIS To date the progress of sub regional trade integration in South Asia appears to be rather lacklustre This book critically analyses the international legal aspects of economic integration in South Asia It argues that although there are economic constraints in bringing about greater economic integration in South Asia

those constraints are not insurmountable Many of the constraints are merely outcomes of dubious policies pursued by the policy makers in the sub region and can be tackled with sustained political commitment towards the cause of the South Asian economic integration
