On A Sunday Afternoon Classic Boats On The Rideau Canal:

On a Sunday Afternoon Keith Dewar, Larry Turner, William Alexander Binny Douglas, 1989 An Ottawa Album Marion Van de Wetering, 1997-10-01 This illustrated history of Ottawa traces the city's development from the days when Bytown was a lumber village to its emergence as Canada's capital and fourth largest urban area. From the earliest photographs of the original Centre Block of the Parliament Buildings through the VE Day and VJ Day celebrations at the end of World War II and beyond, this beautiful book of superb black and white photographs and informative text offers a charming glimpse of the evolving city. The photographs have been chosen both for their historical importance and their quality as visual art. They show a cross section of life in the developing capital from the formality of Rideau Hall to working people selling wood and straw in Byward Market. This art among the best from Canada's early photographers has been culled from major collections in the National Archives of Canada and Ottawa's city archives. Many of the photographs have never been published before. A

Boy's Cottage Diary, 1904 Fred Dickinson, 1996-06-30 Fred Dickinson's diary opens a window on youth and the world of Ontario lakeside cottages at the beginning of the twentieth century. Salty Dips Volume 11 Naval Association of Canada - Ottawa Branch, 2021-11-09 Among sailors to spin a dip means to tell a story. The Naval Association of Canada Ottawa Branch's Salty Dips series carries on this tradition by collecting entertaining and informative stories about the Canadian Navy as it is remembered by those who have served in its ranks. As they began conceiving this eleventh volume of the Salty Dips series, the authors agreed that the Navy from which they retired was different from the Navy that they joined. Thus this volume charts the social changes in the Royal Canadian Navy and Canadian Navy since the 1950s in doing so. Some things pass. Some things change. Some just stay the same. This brings the past a bit closer to the present by reminding us of the journey that brought us here. This compendium of stories, musings, recollections, and observations gets to the heart of what it means to serve one's country and spend one's life at sea. These Old Salts tell some incredible tales, admit to humorous pranks, and catalogue important historical moments from a personal perspective, including reminiscences of the first female officers to serve at sea in the Canadian Navy. This collection of voices affords us a sense of the textures and nuances of Navy life, covering everything from shaving mishaps to life-changing calls to duty. Whether you are a seasoned mariner or taking your first dip into naval history, this collection promises to entertain, educate, and inspire. Steamboat Bill, 1991 The Woodenboat, 1990
