Reflections On Anthropology A Four Field Reader:

Reflections on Anthropology Katherine A. Dettwyler, Vaughn M. Bryant, 2004 An outstanding complement to any introductory textbook in general anthropology this new reader provides a balanced presentation of all four fields Its 44 articles focus on topics not usually covered in depth in general textbooks more than half of the selections were published between 2000 2002 and many address controversial topics e g ethnic labels poverty evolution gender issues The articles show how anthropology can help each person understand his her heritage and how each human culture is unique in some aspects and yet similar to others Cultural Anthropology & Human Experience Katherine A. Dettwyler, 2011-03-31 Katherine A Dettwyler author of the Margaret Mead Awardwinning Dancing Skeletons has written a compelling and original introductory text Cultural Anthropology understand that humans are primates with culture with a complex overlay of environmental and cultural influences appreciate how powerful cultural beliefs and practices can be in shaping human perceptions of the world realize that culture is not the same thing as social constructions of race ethnic identity or place of geographic origin understand why how cultural practices make sense within the cultures that practice them articulate how an anthropological perspective helps discern everyday situations and interactions at the local national and international levels understand that anthropology is not just an academic disciplineit is a way of looking at and understanding the world appreciate the ways cultural beliefs and practices social structures and human lifestyles contribute to a meaningful life

Anthropology Conrad Phillip Kottak, 2004 The new tenth edition of Kottak's best selling text for general anthropology continues to offer a holistic introduction to anthropology that approaches the course from a four field perspective and a book that is good for students and professors The new tenth edition is a major revision offering many new and exciting features that build on the strengths of this approach The text has two new themes Bringing It All Together and Understanding Ourselves The Bringing it All Together theme emphasizing anthropology s integrated comparative and four field nature can be found in new Bringing it All Together essays that show how anthropology s subfields and dimensions combine to interpret and explain a common topic The Understanding Ourselves theme helping to explain the relevance of facts and theories to students can be found in new Understanding Ourselves paragraphs that answer the question So What A Brand new and unique atlas and visual guide will be shrink wrapped with every copy of the text for free offering students even more visual material on top of an already outstanding visual arts program in the text Two new features called Interpreting the World and Atlas and Visual Guide Questions will tie key content in the atlas and visual guide to the text Two new chapters drawn from an original chapter on cultural and archaeology methods now focus on methods and ethics in all four subfields This edition will continue to offer revised and updated popular features of previous editions including chapter opening In the News vignettes many now from 2002 Interesting Issues boxes Beyond the Classroom boxes as well as a wealth of learning tools and support American Book Publishing Record, 2006 Sacred Geographies of Ancient Amazonia Denise P

Schaan, 2016-06-16 The legendary El Dorado the city of gold remains a mere legend but astonishing new discoveries are revealing a major civilization in ancient Amazonia that was more complex than anyone previously dreamed Scholars have long insisted that the Amazonian ecosystem placed severe limits on the size and complexity of its ancient cultures but leading researcher Denise Schaan reverses that view synthesizing exciting new evidence of large scale land and resource management to tell a new history of indigenous Amazonia Schaan also engages fundamental debates about the development of social complexity and the importance of ancient Amazonia from a global perspective This innovative interdisciplinary book is a major contribution to the study of human environment relations social complexity and past and present indigenous Christian Reflection in Africa Paul Bowers, 2018-07-05 This reference collection presents academic reviews of societies more than twelve hundred contemporary Africa related publications relevant for informed Christian reflection in and about Africa The collection is based on the review journal BookNotes for Africa a specialist resource dedicated to bringing to notice such publications and furnishing them with a one paragraph description and evaluation Now assembled here for the first time is the entire collection of reviews through the first thirty issues of the journal s history. The core intention both of the journal and of this compilation is to encourage and to facilitate informed Christian reflection and engagement in Africa through a thoughtful encounter with the published intellectual life of the continent Reviews have been provided by a team of more than one hundred contributors drawn from throughout Africa and overseas The books and other media selected for review represent a broad cross section of interests and issues of personalities and interpretations including the secular as well as the religious The collection will be of special interest to academic scholars theological educators libraries ministry leaders and specialist researchers in Africa and throughout the world but will also engage any reader looking for a convenient resource relating to modern Africa and Christian presence there Reflecting on America Clare L. Boulanger, 2017-07-05 Anthropologists travel back in time and across the globe to understand human culture but surprise there is culture right here in the United States This second edition of the best selling textbook and anthology Reflecting on America again focuses on how we can recognize the common cultural thread running through diverse American phenomena from heroin addiction and Big Business s efforts to shape the identities of children to Civil War reenactments and the popularity of burlesque in the Midwest In addition this second edition includes chapters written especially for this volume on striptease Burning Man The Big Bang Theory TV show and Groundhog Phil Written throughout with verve and quirky humor and offeringQuestions for discussion after every article this book is perfect for undergraduate classes in anthropology and American studies Drawing together twenty two scholars with expertise in anthropological ideas about culture Reflecting on America examines what it means to be American The Paradox of Relevance Carol J. Greenhouse, 2011-05-05 Selected by Choice magazine as an Outstanding Academic Title Between 1990 and 1996 the U S Congress passed market based reforms in the areas of civil rights welfare and immigration in a series of major legislative initiatives. These were announced as curbs on excessive rights and as correctives to a culture of dependency among the urban poor stock images of racial and cultural minorities that circulated well beyond Congress But those images did not circulate unchallenged even after congressional opposition failed In The Paradox of Relevance Carol J Greenhouse provides a political and literary history of the anthropology of U S cities in the 1990s where below the radar New Deal liberalism with its iconic bond between society and security continued to thrive The Paradox of Relevance opens in the midst of anthropology s so called postmodern crisis and the appeal to relevance as a basis for reconciliation and renewal The search for relevance leads outward to the major federal legislation of the 1990s and the galvanic political tensions between rights and market based reforms Anthropologists efforts to inform those debates through relevant ethnography were highly patterned revealing the imprint of political tensions in shaping their works central questions and themes as well as their organization narrative techniques and descriptive practices In that sense federal discourse dominates the works demonstrations of ethnography s relevance however the authors simultaneously resist that dominance through innovations in their own literariness in particular drawing on diasporic fiction and sociolegal studies where these articulate more agentive meanings of identity and difference The paradox of relevance emerges with the realization that in the context of the times affirming the relevance of ethnography as value neutral science required the textual practices of advocacy and art Anthropology at the Edge Ian Prattis, 1997 Symbolic process myth science postmodernism and the environment are skillfully woven together in 13 essays that reflect the timbre of the times in terms of current issues in anthropology philosophy and religion The spectre of consciousness transformation provides a common underlying theme and Prattis provides a novel perspective on who we are where did we come from where are we going The current furor over the nature of science postmodernism and symbolic processes in society is the driving force behind this collection of essays Contents PART I Beyond Structuralism Man and Metaphor Parsifal and Semiotic Structuralism PART II The Poetic Turn and Postmodern Reflexivity Dialectics and Experience in Fieldwork Reflections as Myth Reflexive Anthropology with D Blair Opening Ourselves up to the Voyage of Anthropological Practice PART III Process and Form Celtic Festivals and Bilingualism Policy The Barra Feis Sacred Dance and Cultural Bridges Death Breaths and Drivers The Phenomenology of Shamanic Experiences Metaphor Vibration and Form PART IV Paradigms Science and Sages a Small Matter of Paradigms PART V Gaia and the Environment Two Essays Issues of Inner Ecology Myth Meditation and Transformation of Consciousness About the Author Author Index Crossroads of Culture Chip Colwell-Chanthaphonh, Stephen E. Nash, Steven R. Holen, 2011-05-18 The hectic front of the Denver Museum of Nature Science hides an unseen back of the museum that is also bustling Less than 1 percent of the museum s collections are on display at any given time and the Department of Anthropology alone cares for more than 50 000 objects from every corner of the globe not normally available to the public This lavishly illustrated book presents and celebrates the Denver Museum of Nature Science's exceptional anthropology collections for the first time. The book presents 123 full color images to highlight the museum's cultural treasures Selected for their individual beauty historic value and cultural meaning these objects connect different places times and people From the mammoth hunters of the Plains to the first American pioneer settlers to the flourishing Hispanic and Asian diasporas in downtown Denver the Rocky Mountain region has been home to a breathtaking array of cultures Many objects tell this story of the Rocky Mountains fascinating and complex past whereas others serve to bring enigmatic corners of the globe to modern day Denver Crossroads of Culture serves as a behind the scenes tour of the museum's anthropology collections All the royalties from this publication will benefit the collections of the Denver Museum of Nature Science's Department of Anthropology Transdisciplinary Ethnography in India Rosa Maria Perez, Lina M. Fruzzetti, 2021-08-18 This book familiarises readers with a new way to treat the subject of gender foregrounding the real voices of women their experiences doing ethnographic work and their courage in sharing their stories publicly for the first time in the context of India A useful companion to more theory based anthropological studies the book connects ethnographic data to what eventually becomes theories formed from the field Chapters by women from a variety of disciplines Anthropology Literary and Translation studies Political Sciences transcend the academic boundaries between social sciences and humanities The book shows how the researchers navigate in the field write in ways that defy their academic life and work and call into question their narrative voice The book presents a space for women to reflect on their individual themes of research and at partially filling the vacuum mentioned above the silences of women s voices and expressions The experiences described in the chapters differ both along the divide of a native and a non native fieldworker and along different disciplinary fields but they share the experience of a long term fieldwork in India and the need to self reflect on the impact of this experience on the way the field is represented on the people encountered in the field on the way the field impacted on the fieldworker The book is a useful presentation of how female researchers act in the field as women and scholars Filling a gap in the existing literature of ethnographic research methods the book will be of interest to students and researchers interested in the fields of Gender Studies Social Work Sociology Anthropology and Asian Studies
