Long Shadows Truth Lies And History:

Long Shadows Erna Paris, 2015-05-05 One of the most urgent issues facing the world today is how countries shape historical memory in the aftermath of calamity making decisions that cast long shadows into the future Combining gripping storytelling with sharp observation Erna Paris takes us on an extraordinary journey through four continents to explore how nations reinvent themselves after cataclysmic events She travels through the United States with its long buried memory of slavery to South Africa where the Truth and Reconciliation Commission struggles to heal the wounds left by apartheid to Japan France and Germany where the unresolved pain of Hiroshima and the Holocaust still resonate and to the former Yugoslavia where she exposes the cynical shaping of historical memory Through its insightful analysis Long Shadows compels us to question where we stand as individuals in relation to our own collective histories Erna Paris is the winner of ten national and international writing awards three for Long Shadows She is the author of six critically acclaimed books of literary non fiction including The End of Days A Story of Tolerance Tyranny and the Expulsion of the Jews from Spain which won the 1996 Canadian National Jewish Book Award for History She lives in Toronto Winner of the Pearson Writers Trust Non Fiction Award the inaugural Shaughnessy Cohen Prize for Political Writing and the Dorothy Shoichet prize for history from the Canadian Jewish Book Awards Long Shadows is magnificent I would love to see this book taught in every history class in America Iris Chang author of The Rape of Nanking Enlightening Riveting Paris raises questions of enormous importance Kirkus Paris convincingly demonstrates that memory is not only selective but subject to calculated efforts to serve personal needs and national interests The Christian Science Monitor Erna Paris gives us a rich if p Long Shadows Erna Paris, 2001 Award winning writer Erna Paris chronicles her journey over four continents into the shifting terrain of war and memory Combining gripping storytelling with insight and sharp observation Paris takes us to places of reckoning be they courtrooms or concentration camps and finds hope in the way ordinary people grapple with the conflicts of our time the aftermath of World War II in Japan slavery in the U S apartheid in South Africa and the legacy of the Holocaust in Germany and France The Nigeria-Biafra War , Showing Remorse Richard Weisman, 2016-04-01 Whether or not wrongdoers show remorse and how they show remorse are matters that attract great interest both in law and in popular culture In capital trials in the United States it can be a question of life or death whether a jury believes that a wrongdoer showed remorse And in wrongdoings that capture the popular imagination public attention focuses not only on the act but on whether the perpetrator feels remorse for what they did But who decides when remorse should be shown or not shown and whether it is genuine or not genuine In contrast to previous academic studies on the subject the primary focus of this work is not on whether the wrongdoer meets these expectations over how and when remorse should be shown but on how the community reacts when these expectations are met or not met Using examples drawn from Canada the United States and South Africa the author demonstrates that the showing of remorse is a site of negotiation and contention between groups who differ about when it is to be expressed and how it is to be expressed The book illustrates these points by looking at cases about which there was conflict over whether the wrongdoer should show remorse or whether the feelings that were shown were sincere Building on the earlier analysis the author shows that the process of deciding when and how remorse should be expressed contributes to the moral ordering of society as a whole This book will be of interest to those in the fields of sociology law law and society and criminology

Dynamics of Memory and Identity in Contemporary Europe Eric Langenbacher, Bill Niven, Ruth Wittlinger, 2013-03-01 The collapse of the Iron Curtain the renationalization of eastern Europe and the simultaneous eastward expansion of the European Union have all impacted the way the past is remembered in today's eastern Europe At the same time in recent years the Europeanization of Holocaust memory and a growing sense of the need to stage a more self-critical memory has significantly changed the way in which western Europe commemorates and memorializes the past The increasing dissatisfaction among scholars with the blanket undifferentiated use of the term collective memory is evolving in new directions This volume brings the tension into focus while addressing the state of memory theory itself

Canada's Indigenous Constitution John Borrows, 2010-03-06 Canada's Indigenous Constitution reflects on the nature and sources of law in Canada beginning with the conviction that the Canadian legal system has helped to engender the high level of wealth and security enjoyed by people across the country However longstanding disputes about the origins legitimacy and applicability of certain aspects of the legal system have led John Borrows to argue that Canada's constitution is incomplete without a broader acceptance of Indigenous legal traditions With characteristic richness and eloquence John Borrows explores legal traditions the role of governments and courts and the prospect of a multi-juridical legal culture all with a view to understanding and improving legal processes in Canada He discusses the place of individuals families and communities in recovering and extending the role of Indigenous law within both Indigenous communities and Canadian society more broadly This is a major work by one of Canada's leading legal scholars and an essential companion to Drawing Out Law A Spirit's Guide

Emerging Markets in an Upside Down World Jerome Booth, 2014-04-21 The world is upside down The emerging market countries are more important than many investors realise They have been catching up with the West over the past few decades Greater market freedom has spread since the end of the Cold War and with it institutional changes which have further assisted emerging economies in becoming more productive flexible and resilient The Western financial crisis from 2008 has quickened the pace of the relative rise of emerging markets their relative economic power and with it political power but also their financial power as savers investors and creditors Emerging Markets in an Upside Down World Challenging Perceptions in Asset Allocation and Investment argues that finance theory has misunderstood risk and that this has led to poor investment decisions and that emerging markets constitute a good example of why traditional finance theory is faulty The book accurately describes the complex and changing global environment currently facing the investor and asset allocator It raises many questions often bypassed because of the use of simplifying assumptions and models The narrative builds towards a checklist of issues and questions for the asset allocator and investor and then to a discussion of a variety of regulatory and policy issues Aimed at institutional and retail investors as well as economics finance business and international relations students Emerging Markets in an Upside Down World covers many complex ideas but is written to be accessible to the non expert Etgar Keret's Literature and the Ethos of Coping with Holocaust Remembrance Yael Seliger, 2024-01-16 This book highlights the need for a shift from thinking in terms of memories of traumatic events to changeable modes of remembrance The call for a fundamental change in approaches to commemorative remembrance is exemplified in literature written by the internationally acclaimed writer Etgar Keret Considered the most influential Israeli voice of his generation Keret's storytelling is in congruence with postmodern thinking Through transferring remembrance of the Holocaust from stagnant Holocaust commemoration museums and commemorative ceremonies to unconventional settings such as youngsters playing soccer or being forced to venture outdoors in a COVID 19 pandemic environment Keret's storytelling ushers in a unique approach to coping with remembrance of historical catastrophes The book is a valuable resource for students and scholars interested in pursuing the subjects of Etgar Keret's artistry and literature written in a post modern post Holocaust milieu about personal and collective traumatic remembrance

What Shall We Tell the Children? Stuart J. Foster, Keith A. Crawford, 2006-04-01 The pages of this book illustrate that as instruments of socialization and sites of ideological discourse textbooks are powerful artefacts in introducing young people to a specific historical cultural and socioeconomic order Crucially exploring the social construction of school textbooks and the messages they impart provides an important context from within which to critically investigate the dynamics underlying the cultural politics of education and the social movements that form it and which are formed by it The school curriculum is essentially the knowledge system of a society incorporating its values and its dominant ideology The curriculum is not our knowledge born of a broad hegemonic consensus rather it is a battleground in which cultural authority and the right to define what is labelled legitimate knowledge is fought over As each chapter in this book illustrates curriculum as theory and practice has never been and can never be divorced from the ethical economic political and cultural conflicts of society which impact so deeply upon it We cannot escape the clear implication that questions about what knowledge is of most worth and about how it should be organized and taught are problematic contentious and very serious

Flowers After the Funeral Richard J. Cox,2003 This is not a book I ever intended to write It emerged as I worked to understand the events of September 11 2001 It is my effort to make sense of my life and my profession during a difficult time My aim is to suggest that understanding information technology requires an understanding of society and its people and organizations especially as we look out over the wreckage of the high tech industry and the contradictory aims of government to protect and control us Richard Cox In this series of four essays Richard J Cox explores the social and professional ramifications of 9 11 on our information landscape Musing written on the first anniversary of the terrorist attacks looks back at a year of change and commemoration Reacting examines the impact of 9 11 on a department of information sciences Preparing is a cogent argument for the need to rethink current disaster and contingency planning practices Teaching focuses on the author s experiences developing and teaching a doctoral seminar on the role of the information professional in a post 9 11 world Miss Manners assures us that a floral arrangement is always appropriate no matter how much time has passed since the event Neither a cautionary tale nor practical advice Flowers After the Funeral is one such bouquet its simplicity and thoughtfulness are certain to provide both comfort and inspiration to its recipients

If This Is Your Land, Where Are Your Stories? J. Edward Chamberlin, 2010-05-28 We need to understand our stories because our lives depend upon it Ted Chamberlin The stories we tell each other reflect and shape our deepest feelings Stories help us live our lives and are at the heart of our current conflicts We love and hate because of them we make homes for ourselves and drive others out on the basis of ancient tales As Ted Chamberlin vividly reveals we are both connected by them and separated by their different truths Whether Jew or Arab black or white Muslim or Christian Catholic or Protestant man or woman our stories hold us in thrall and hold others at bay Like the work of Joseph Campbell and Bruce Chatwin this vital engrossing book offers a new way to understand the hold that stories and songs have on us and a new sense of the urgency of doing so Drawing on his own experience in many fields as scholar and storyteller witness among native peoples and across cultures Ted Chamberlin takes us on a journey through the tales of different peoples from North America to Africa and Jamaica Beautifully written with insight and deep understanding If This Is Your Land Where Are Your Stories examines why it is now more important than ever to attend to what others are saying in their stories and myths and what we are saying about ourselves Only then will we understand why they have such power over us

Historical Knowledge, Historical Error Allan Megill, 2007-02 In the past thirty years historians have broadened the scope of their discipline to include many previously neglected topics and perspectives They have chronicled language madness gender and sexuality and have experimented with new forms of presentation They have turned to the histories of non Western peoples and to the troubled relations between the West and the rest Allan Megill welcomes these developments but he also suggests that there is now confusion among historians about what counts as a justified account of the past In Historical Knowledge Historical Error Megill dispels some of the confusion Here he discusses issues of narrative objectivity and memory He attacks what he sees as irresponsible uses of evidence while accepting the art of speculation which incomplete evidence forces upon historians Along the way he offers succinct accounts of the epistemological road historians have traveled from Herodotus and Thucydides through Leopold von Ranke and Alexis de Tocqueville and on to Hayden White Natalie Zemon Davis and Lynn Hunt

Japan's Contested War Memories Philip A. Seaton, 2007-03-12 Japan's Contested War Memories is an important and significant book that explores the struggles within contemporary Japanese society to come to terms with Second World War history Focusing particularly on 1972 onwards the period starts with the normalization of relations with China and the return of Okinawa to Japan in 1972 and ends with the sixtieth anniversary commemorations Analyzing the variety of ways in which the Japanese people narrate contest and interpret the past the book is also a major critique of the way the subject has been treated in much of the English language Philip Seaton concludes that war history in Japan today is more divisive and widely argued over than in any of the other major Second World War combatant nations Providing a sharp contrast to the many orthodox statements about Japanese ignorance amnesia and denial about the war this is an engaging and illuminating study that will appeal to scholars and students of Japanese history politics cultural studies society and memory theory All the Missing Souls David Scheffer, 2013-01-27 This title is Scheffer's account of the international gamble to prosecute those responsible for genocide war crimes and crimes against humanity and to redress some of the bloodiest human rights atrocities in our time
