

A person is walking away from the camera down a long, straight asphalt road. The road has a white line on the left and two yellow lines in the center. The landscape is flat with low-lying vegetation on both sides. In the distance, there are utility poles and a small building. The sky is filled with large, soft clouds, and the overall lighting suggests a late afternoon or early morning setting.

A Long Way Home Terence Dillon, 2013-12 A Long Way Home is a dramatic and tension filled fictional story that explores the relationship between the English and the Irish in the late nineteenth century It provides a fascinating insight into the issues created when those looking for conciliation come into conflict with those relying on confrontation in the struggle for Irish independence The book traces the experiences of Paul Doherty an Irishman immigrant In a story that raises important issues of race class religion sex violence and secret societies Doherty struggles to look for conciliation rather than confrontation bringing him into conflict with his great friend and fellow Irishman Will who is a member of the Irish Republican Brotherhood The theme of confrontation and conciliation continues through the relationships Doherty has with the English arch racist Maurice Whitehouse and the English philanthropist William Harding The book also draws upon comparisons between life in rural Ireland and the dark streets of an English industrial town of the late nineteenth century as it builds to a powerful conclusion of romance and violence
