Nurses Diary:

A Pandemic Nurse's Diary Nurse T, 2020-09-06 March 25 2020 When I walk through the automatic doors into the ICU at 7 AM I step into a war zone There are overflowing trash buckets and debris scattered all over the unit Four red crash carts are outside the rooms their drawers open and largely empty witnesses to the chaotic night One of the patients who coded survived the three others died One body in a white plastic shroud is still in a room on the bed waiting for a stretcher So opens the personal diary of Nurse T She is one of the thousands of health care workers in New York City who covered their twelve hour shifts day after day as the Covid 19 virus raged through the city Her account is personal poignant and poetic as she documents the suffering of the poor largely immigrant patients who flooded the facility seeking treatment It is also the story of a city state and federal government that long denied hospitals like hers the funding and support they need to meet current standards Long starved for funds the facility's ancient infrastructure and inadequate supplies placed a heavy burden on the staff who nonetheless walked up the marble stairs all through the crisis and gave their best whatever the personal cost whatever the outcome

The Great War and Scottish Nurses' Diaries Costel Coroban, 2019-03-21 This book analyses the representations of the different instances of war in the letters and diaries of the nurses and doctors of the Scottish Women's Hospitals who worked in Romania during the Great War These nurses detailed their experiences into journals through literary diegesis that included minute observations on their work surroundings and different developments of the front as well as their own interpretations of and impressions on their work and the war's destructive character Generally the approaches to the Great War by women who witnessed and lived it have either been gender oriented or simply seen as petit histoires This research represents a complementary addition to the existing literature through its focus on the experience of the women on the fighting front looking at it from the double perspective of autobiographical writing and war testimony
