Faith and Fiction Barbara Pell,2006-01-01 Is it possible to write an artistically respectable and theoretically convincing religious novel in a non religious age Up to now there has been no substantial application of theological criticism to the works of Hugh MacLennan and Morley Callaghan the two most important Canadian novelists before 1960 Yet both were religious writers during the period when Canada entered the modern non religious era and both greatly influenced the development of our literature MacLennan's journey from Calvinism to Christian existentialism is documented in his essays and seven novels most fully in The Watch that Ends the Night Callaghan's fourteen novels are marked by tensions in his theology of Catholic humanism with his later novels defining his theological themes in increasingly secular terms This tension between narrative and metanarrative has produced both the artistic strengths and the moral ambiguities that characterize his work Faith and Fiction A Theological Critique of the Narrative Strategies of Hugh MacLennan and Morley Callaghan is a significant contribution to the relatively new field studying the relation between religion and literature in Canada The Art and Genius of Anne Hébert Janis L. Pallister, 2001 This book shows through criticism the richness the complexity and the far reaching significance of the writings of Anne Hébert the Quebecan novelist and poet who first achieved recognition in the 1940s and 50s The writings by such notables as Gaetan Brulotte Neil Bishop Annabelle Rea Lori Saint Martin Roseanna Dufault and many others are variously in English and in French Prefaced by renowned Hebertian scholar Janet Pallister and introduced by Pallister's essay on the life and accomplishment of Anne Hébert the work is accompanied by a large bibliography of the works of Anne Hébert

Edmund Wilson Lewis M. Dabney, 2005-08-03 From the Jazz Age through the McCarthy era Edmund Wilson 1895-1972 stood at the center of the American cultural scene In his own youth a crucial champion of the young Ernest Hemingway and F Scott Fitzgerald Wilson went on to write three classics of literary and intellectual history Axel's Castle To the Finland Station and Patriotic Gore searching reportage and criticism that has outlasted many of its subjects Wilson documented his unruly private life a formative love affair with Edna St Vincent Millay a tempestuous marriage to Mary McCarthy and volatile friendships with Fitzgerald and Vladimir Nabokov among others in openly erotic fiction and journals but Lewis Dabney is the first writer to integrate the life and work Dabney traces the critic's intellectual development from son of small town New Jersey gentry to America's last great renaissance man a deep commentator on everything from the Russian classics to Native American rituals to the Dead Sea Scrolls Along the way Dabney shows why Wilson was and has remained in his cosmopolitanism and trenchant nonconformity a model for young writers and intellectuals as well as the favorite critic of the general reader Edmund Wilson will be recognized as the lasting biography of this brilliant man whose life reflected so much of the cultural social and human experience of a turbulent century also brilliant social comedy and an anatomy of the times Wilson catches the flavor of an international elite Stravinsky Auden from the common life whether noting the routines of his normal neighbors or the struggle of his own aging Candor and
