Humour and the Performance of Power in South Asia Sasanka Perera, Dev Nath Pathak, 2022-01-25 This book critically examines the role and politics of humour and the performance of power in South Asia. What does humour do and how does it manifest when lived political circumstances experience ruptures or instability? Can humour that emerges in such circumstances be viewed as a specific narrative on the nature of democracy in the region? Drawing upon essays from India, Sri Lanka and Bangladesh, this volume discusses many crucial historical and contemporary themes including dance drama performances in northern India, caste and stand up comedy in India, cartoon narratives of citizens' anxieties, civic participation through social media memes in Sri Lanka, media politics and humorous public in Bangladesh, the politics of performance in India and the influence of humour and satire as political commentaries. The volume explores the impact of humour in South Asian folklore, ritual performances, media and journalism and online technologies. This topical and interdisciplinary book will be essential for scholars and researchers of cultural studies, political science, sociology and social anthropology, media and communication studies, theatre and performance studies and South Asian studies.

Anzald a At the Intersection Thomas Rosteck, 1999-01-01 This provocative volume is based on the premise that cultural studies and rhetorical studies address specific and parallel questions about culture critical practice and interpretation and that opening up a dialogue between them can enhance both and provide a more complete understanding of society Noted scholars across a variety of disciplines examine overlaps and contradictions between these approaches as well as critical and pedagogical issues that surface with their linkage Research Methods in Social Studies Education Keith C.

Barton, 2006-03-01 This volume fills a significant gap in the scholarship on social studies education by providing thoughtful reflections on research methods in the field It is not a how to guide but an exploration of key issues related to the design and implementation of empirical studies The authors are active researchers who use varied methods in diverse settings including historical research international comparative studies survey research interviews with students and teachers classroom observations self studies and action research and emancipatory methodologies They use their own experiences to examine such topics as the conceptualization of research questions relationships with participants researchers identities and elicitation of students and teachers thinking This collection should become indispensable for both beginning and experienced scholars in social studies

Disability and Digital Television Cultures Katie Ellis, 2019-01-18 Disability and Digital Television Cultures offers an important addition to scholarly studies at the intersection of disability and media examining disability in the context of digital television access representation and reception Television as a central medium of communication has marginalized people with disability through both representation on screen and the lack of accessibility to this medium With accessibility options becoming available as television is switched to digital transmissions audience research into television representations must include a corresponding consideration of access This book provides a comprehensive and critical study of the way people with disability access and watch digital TV International case studies and media reports are complimented by findings of a user focused study into accessibility and representation captured during the Australian digital television switchover in 2013 2014 This book will provide a reliable independent guide to fundamental shifts in media access while also offering insight from the disability community It will be essential reading for researchers working on disability and media as well as television communications and culture upper level undergraduate and postgraduate students in cultural studies along with general readers with an interest in disability and digital culture

Rape and Representation Lynn A. Higgins, 1993-07-15 Rape does not have to happen The fact that it does and in the United States a rape is reported every six minutes indicates that we live in a rape prone culture where rape or the threat of rape functions as a tool for enforcing sexual difference and hierarchy Rape and Representation explores how cultural forms construct and reenforce social attitudes and behaviors that perpetuate sexual violence The essays proceed from the observation that literature not only reflects but also contributes to what a society believes about itself Fourteen essays by authors in the fields of English American and African American German African Brazilian Classical and French literatures and film present a wide range of texts from different historical periods and cultures Contributors demythologize patriarchal representation in literature and art in order to show how it makes rape seem natural and inevitable Contributors include the editors John J Winkler Patricia Klindiest Joplin Susan Winnett Ellen Rooney Copp lia Kahn Eileen Julien Marta Peixoto Kathryn Gravdal Carla Freccero Nellie V McKay Nancy A Jones and Froma I Zeitlin Their work raises pressing and often difficult questions for feminist criticism
