Subject: Icelandic glacier mask update in IFS cycle 38r2

1 Introduction

ECMWF revised the IFS glacier mask over Iceland. The new glacier mask was implemented on the fly on 8 May 2013 in the suite 38r2, both in HRES and EDA. It became operational on 25 June 2013.

This research memorandum presents the motivations for this update and it shows the updated glacier mask at different resolutions used in operations. The implementation procedure is presented as well as results from experiments. The Icelandic glacier mask update has a local impact on surface and near surface weather parameters over Iceland. Comparisons between the suite 38r2 and the suite 38r1 are shown and impact on the EFI and ENS products is discussed as well as ongoing actions to account for the revised glacier mask in the re-forecast ENS. This work was conducted in close collaboration between ECMWF and the Icelandic Meteorological Office.

2 Motivations and updated glacier mask over Iceland

The Icelandic Meteorological Office (IMO) reported in 2012 systematic unrealistic cold two-metre temperature forecasts in the highland of Iceland in the ECMWF products. The bias, also present in the previous years, was particularly important in summer. It was due to an overestimation of the glacier extent in the IFS, and resulted in a permanent snow depth of 10 m (water equivalent) present in areas of Iceland which are in reality

American Future,1972 Between Dispersion and Belonging Amitava Chowdhury,Donald Harman Akenson,2016-06-01
As a historical and religious term diaspora has existed for many years but it only became an academic and analytical concept in the 1980s and 90s Within its various usages two broad directions stand out diaspora as a dispersion of people from an original homeland and diaspora as a claim of identity that expresses a form of belonging and also keeps alive a sense of difference Between Dispersion and Belonging critically assesses the meaning and practice of diaspora first by engaging with the theoretical life histories of the concept and then by examining a range of historical case studies Essays in this volume draw from diaspora formations in the pre modern Indian Ocean region read diaspora against the concept of indigeneity in the Americas reassess the claim for a Swedish diaspora interrogate the notion of an invisible English diaspora in the Atlantic world calibrate the meaning of the Irish diaspora in North America and consider the case for a global Indian indentured labour diaspora Through these studies the contributors demonstrate that an inherent appeal to globality is central to modern formulations of diaspora They are not global in the sense that diasporas span the entire globe rather they are global precisely because they are not bound by arbitrary geopolitical units In examining the ways in which academic and larger society discuss diaspora Between Dispersion and Belonging presents a critique of modern historiography and positions that critique in the shape of global history Contributors include William Safran University of Colorado Boulder James T Carson Queen s in major cities but also in smaller cities This trend is not limited to the traditional immigrant receiving countries such as the United States and Canada but occurs also in many other countries where doors are gradually opening to immigration especially in Asia This combination of a growing immigrant population and ethnic diversity has fostered a more complex
