anti-Semitism left important coaches and runners without access to team support The New York Pioneer Club begun in 1936 as an African American team brought the tremendous energy of post World War II Harlem to the American marathon of the 1950s Besides examining the ethnic influence on marathoning Cooper also explores the impact of the Cold War on this sport when fitness and endurance became matters of national pride She shows how the Road Runners Club of America first brought women and large numbers of participant runners into long distance footraces and finally how corporate sponsorship and direct payments to athletes profoundly changed the nature of this once amateur sport Proceedings of the Conference on the Decline in Coronary Heart Disease Mortality Manning Feinleib, Richard J.
