Looking For The Possible Dance:

Looking for the Possible Dance A.L. Kennedy, 2010-11-30 Mary Margaret Hamilton was educated in Scotland She was born there too These may not have been the best possible options but they were the only ones on offer at the time Although her father did his best her knowledge of life is perhaps a little incomplete Margaret knows the best way to look at the moon how to wake on time and how to breathe fire Now she must learn how to live A L Kennedy s absorbing moving and gently political first novel dissects the intricate difficulties of human relationships from Margaret s passionate attachment to her father and her more problematic involvement with Colin her lover to the wider social relations between pupil and teacher employer and employee individual and state Looking for the Possible Dance Kennedy. Rewriting Scotland Cristie L. March, 2002 Rewriting Scotland examines six of the most influential and cutting edge contemporary Scottish writers as they redefine outmoded notions of Scottish identity From Irvine Welsh's windows into Scottish youth culture in Trainspotting to Janice Galloway's examinations of the duality of female isolation and empowerment this unique work reveals new explorations of Scottish gender politics sexuality voice and self awareness Reference Guide to Short Fiction Thomas Riggs, 1999 Reference Guide to Short Fiction provides study and commentary on the most instrumental writers of short fiction through the 20th century International in scope this single scholarly volume includes 779 entries on 377 authors and 402 short stories Ethically Speaking James McGonigal, Kirsten Stirling, 2006 As politics and cultures interact within an increasingly diverse Scotland and differences in values become more evident across generations the need for clear understanding and cooperation within and between communities becomes a pressing issue This relates both to local and larger concerns language violence morality gender and sexuality education ethnicity truth and lies The chapters gathered here focus on significant Scottish writers of the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries Edwin Morgan A L Kennedy Liz Lochhead John Burnside Jackie Kay Robin Jenkins Muriel Spark William McIlvanney Ali Smith James Kelman and others and the communities described are certainly Scottish but the issues raised are universal Questions are asked about the relationship of the individual to others and therefore on a larger scale about the means through which any community is both constructed and sustained linguistically spiritually ethically If their multiple voices evoke a zigzag of contradictions it is at any rate a creative zigzag which discovers or uncovers many contradictory aspects of life in modern Scotland that should particularly be brought to light in a re emergent nation Ethically speaking Scottish writers point out the need to attend to many different narratives and retellings in order that Scots might live more honestly and clear sightedly with themselves and with the wider world
